Urges British to Invest Capital in Canadian Firms

Trade Mission From Industries Federation Says Old Country and Dominion Manufacturers Must Co-operate to Improve Commerce—Selling by Individual Companies Now Impracticable

Development Must Be From New Business Now in Foreign Hands

LONDON, June 10 (CP).—Organization of a co-operative body representing British manufacturers to stimulate sales and service in Canada is the main recommendation of the important trade mission sent to the Dominion recently by the Federation of British Industries. The mission's report, issued tonight, declared: "The time is passing for firms, except those of great magnitude, to endeavor individually to sell their products in Canada.

"Co-operation of home producers is essential in order to build up a selling and service force in Canada sufficient to meet the pressure of competion from foreign countries."

The mission also makes important recommendations urging establishment of better communications and trade facilities between Canada and Great Britain, development of a policy of competition, and the organization of an Empire trade statistical bureau.

The mission consisted of Sir James Lithgow, president of the Federation of British Industries; Sir Arthur Duckham and Moir Mackenzie.

The mission confirms the attitude taken by the federation in reports drawn up for presentation to the last Imperial conference, and drawn up jointly with the general council of the Trade Union Congress, for presentation to the British Government last September. Special emphasis is laid in the report on the following conclusions:

SPECIAL CONCLUSIONS

1. Development of Great Britain's trade with Canada must depend on acquiring new business at present in the hands of foreign countries, and development of new lines, and complementing and assisting the existing Canadian industries rather than competing with them; and on the investment of British capital in Canada.

2. Closer commercial and industrial association between the two countries will result in an improvement in the preferential position already enjoyed by Great Britain in the Canadian market.

COMPLAINTS JUSTIFIED

Many of the complaints made by Canadian importers against home exporters of poor delivery and service, are justified and can only be remedied by closer and more personal contact, and a better appre-

Labor Minister Starts West on Inspection Tour

OTTAWA, June 10 (CP).—Hon. G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, left tonight for Western Canada, where he will begin his survey of employment conditions. Going direct to Vancouver, he will make a number of stops on the return journey and will confer with Provincial Governments and municipal authorities.

The minister expects to meet members of the Government of British Columbia June 15, of Alberta about June 18, of Saskatchewan June 22.

GOVERNMENT TO CONTINUE POST

Australian Lumber Trade Commissioner Will Remain in Antipodes

Major L. R. Andrews, lumber trade commissioner jointly for the Province and the timber industry in British Columbia, will remain in Australia for another month, when he will go to New Zealand, to continue there his active work on behalf of the export business from this Province, it was learned yesterday at the Legislative Buildings.

In recent letters to the Government Major Andrews has stated that excellent results will follow the visit of the trade mission that toured the Commonwealth, and that he has met with much encouragement in the follow-up work he has conducted there on behalf of the British Columbia industry.

Analysis of British Columbia's lumber exports to Australia since 1919, contained in the annual report for 1930 of the Provincial Forest Branch, shows many fluctuations in the annual lumber business with the Commonwealth, and also the important proportions of the total business that the Australian market has yearly absorbed. The figures, in feet board measurement, are as follows:

FIGURES GIVEN

In 1919 a total of 8,515,600 (f.b.m.) was shipped from British Columbia to Australian points; in 1920, 32,218,-158; in 1921, 27,275,928; in 1922, 55,-949,129; in 1923, 78,003,423; in 1924, 34,988,783; in 1925, 40,228,887; in 1926, 36,809,373; in 1927, 53,502,046; in 1928, 29,843,132; in 1929, 41,493,-473, and in 1930, 33,076,587.

Total Australian lumber requirements from British Columbia, Washington and Oregon (not including California redwood shipments) in 1930 were 114,979,000 feet board measurement, compared with

NO CONFERENCE IN GOV'T PLANS

Premier MacDonald Ends Rumors Arising From German Minister's Visit

LONDON, June 10 (AP).—Premier Ramsay MacDonald, speaking in the House of Commons today, put an end to rumors arising from the visit of Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius of Germany that the British Government contemplated an international war debt conference in the immediate future.

No useful purpose would be served by such a conference, he told a Conservative questioner in the house, who had asked whether he was considering an international meeting "with a view to mutual cancellation of obligations."

"Our attitude in regard to war debts is well known," said Mr. MacDonald, "and action along the lines suggested would not in the present circumstances serve any useful purpose."

"The conversations with the German statesmen at Chequers were merely an exchange of views," he said, "and no definite conclusions or decision had been reached."

WHEN TIME COMES

One member reminded him that the present Parliament never has discussed interallied debts and reparations, and asked him if he did not think a matter of such importance should be considered.

"Certainly," said the Premier, "when the time comes."

He informed the House that the Government had accepted Chancellor Bruening's invitation to himself and Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, the Foreign Secretary, to visit Berlin, but said a date for such a visit had not been fixed.

FREIGHT SERVICE MAY BE SPEEDED

OTTAWA, June 10 (CP).—The railway companies in Canada are under consideration a plan to carry freight on regular passenger trains at freight rates. Sir Henry Thornton explained this before the railway committee of the Commons today when discussing the inroads on traffic made by motor trucks.

The C.P.R. and the Canadian National, Sir Henry said, are obliged to run a certain number of passenger trains, and many of these run fairly empty.

Since the trains had to run anyhow, it was proposed to fill them with freight to compete both in speed of service and in price with motor trucks.

To Hold Conference Here Next Week

SENATOR G. D. ROBERTSON

Minister of Labor for Canada, will arrive in Victoria shortly in the course of a Dominion-wide survey of employment conditions. He will start his survey here, working eastward across the continent.

INDIAN RULER VISITOR HERE

STALWART GUARD IS STATIONED ON SHIP

Accompanied by a retinue of fifteen, including Her Highness Maharani Gurchuran Kaur Maharni, his son and heir, His Highness Tika Sahib of Jind, and the Princesses Ruby, Diamond and Beryl, Bibi Rajandar Kaul, Beigio Sarup, Dr. S. F. Chatterji, the Misses Mercy and Turner, governess and nurse respectively, Colonel His Highness Maharaja Sir Ranbir Singh, G.C.I.E., K.C.S.I., was a passenger aboard the Royal Mail ship Empress of Japan when she docked here yesterday morning from ports in the Far East.

It's not every day that royal personages come this way, and representatives of the press from Victoria and Vancouver were disappointed in not obtaining a glimpse of the Maharaja of Jind, one of India's ruling princes on the arrival of the Japan here, even though they were advised shortly after boarding the vessel by travel agents meeting the liner that instructions had been issued by His Highness to the effect that he was not to be interviewed under any circumstances while in Canada.

NOTHING FOR PRESS

In connection with his visit here there had been little or no advance information concerning his principality or his family, all of which was not available for the reason given, and substantiated the tip passed along after the ship berthed and explained the situation presented when the quarters of the prince and his retinue were pointed out.

AMENDMENT MAY FORCE ELECTION

LONDON, June 10.—The Laborite Herald said tonight that the MacDonald Government would dissolve Parliament and call a general election if the proposed Liberal party amendment to the land tax is carried next Tuesday.

Government circles believed, the paper said, that the amendment would reduce the yield from the tax to about one-tenth of the original estimate and would wreck the whole scheme.

It is said Premier MacDonald and Chancellor of the Exchequer Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, held an important consultation today with the Liberals, Sir Herbert Samuel, Sir Donald Maclean, and Clement Davies, concerning the amendment.

Thrilling Battle Is Being Waged to Save Crew of Submarine

WEIHAIWEI, China, June 10 (AP).—A thrilling battle for the lives of eight men trapped in the steel hulk of the British submarine Poseidon was waged on the waters of the North Yellow Sea.

Victory was in doubt tonight, but there was strong hope among the officers of British ships at the scene that, with the aid of a Japanese salvage tug, they might raise the stricken vessel before the foul air of its interior overcomes the imprisoned men.

TALKS TO PRISONERS

The Poseidon's parent ship, the Medway, succeeded today in establishing communication with the eight men who were trapped in the rear compartment when the submarine went to the bottom in twenty fathoms after a collision yesterday.

The prisoners reported themselves uninjured, but the length of time they would be able to survive with their limited supply of oxygen was necessarily fast diminishing.

So far as the Medway could establish, only eight of the eighteen men missing remained alive. It was assumed that the other ten were

SOLLOWAY-MILLS CASE CONCLUDED

Abrupt Ending to Trial of Stock Brokers in Assize Court at Toronto

TORONTO, June 10 (CP).—Evidence in the hearing of theft charges against I. W. C. Solloway and Harvey Mills, former partners in the brokerage house of Solloway, Mills & Co., came to an abrupt conclusion today after the defence had called only four witnesses.

Trial has been proceeding for six days before Mr. Justice Garrow and an assize court jury. Addresses of counsel will be made tomorrow, and Mr. Justice Garrow will then deliver his charge to the jury.

Pleas of defence counsel to have the charges withdrawn owing to insufficiency of evidence were made at the conclusion today of the Crown case. The case of Solloway must go to the jury, said His Lordship, although he declared he had some hesitation regarding Mills.

CHASE GLOOM WITH CHEERS AT MELBOURNE

REACH AGREEMENT ON CONVERSION SCHEME

Will Launch Appeal to All Classes for Sacrifices for Australia

MELBOURNE, June 10.—Today was a red letter day for the Commonwealth of Australia. With cheers and an enthusiastic vote of thanks to Prime Minister James Scullin, the conference of Premiers, which opened in an atmosphere of gloom, closed on a note of buoyant optimism.

The conference met to round off the decisions of yesterday, when unanimous agreement between all parties was reached in connection with the huge scheme to convert the internal debt to lower interest rates.

A great appeal will be launched in the theme that all classes must share in the sacrifices involved in putting Australia on the road back to prosperity.

APPOINT SUBCOMMITTEE

A subcommittee of the Premiers' Conference was appointed to consider the question of the re-entry of New South Wales in the Loan Council. The Loan Council was formed to control all state and federal borrowing overseas. The subcommittee will also endeavor to settle the litigation against New South Wales taken by the Commonwealth and other states, for recovery of amounts paid to holders of New South Wales bonds overseas when the state defaulted interest payments recently.

WOULD DISBAND DENTAL CLINIC

Trustee V. E. Emery Moves to Discontinue Inspection Service in Public Schools

A move to discontinue the dental inspection service in the public schools was instituted by Trustee Victor E. Emery at the regular monthly meeting of the School Board last night when he introduced a motion to curtail expenditures by placing the dental inspection in the hands of the school physician, which would result in a saving of approximately $4,000 a year.

Members of the board stated they were not prepared to arrive at a decision on a matter which appeared to be very important to pupils as well as parents and, as no previous information had been received by the members relative to Trustee Emery's proposal, it was agreed to allow the matter to stand over for a report from the Superintendent of Schools.

WITHDRAWS MEMBERSHIP

The School Board's membership in the British Columbia School Trustees' Association was withdrawn when a letter requesting the annual fee was considered by the trustees. It was the opinion of the majority of the members of the board that the association had failed to give service in matters affecting the interests of the school system in Victoria and that the association's activities were more or less dominated by the rural representatives. One of the items mentioned was the change of the holiday schedule which, it was claimed, originated with the association.

The withdrawal of the membership in the trustees' association was the forerunner of a resolution introduced by Trustee Emery and carried that the board disapprove of the change of the holiday schedule which has been in operation for many years. It was agreed, however, that the Minister of Education was not to be wholly blamed for instituting the new schedule, but that his action was based on efforts of an association which was recognized by the department.

Physical training in the schools was under discussion following a resolution by Trustee P. E. George.

Silk, Milk And Mush Are Blamed

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Allergy, a type of supersensitivity which caused the touch of silk to produce skin disease on a schoolgirl's face, was described to the American Medical Association today.

In a strange repertoire of other unexpected things that caused allergic skin outbreaks were named also buckwheat cakes, cottonseed oil, oatmeal, tomatoes, milk and chocolate.

Origin of this allergy was blamed in numerous cases, on ringworm of the toes, in a paper by Cleveland White, M.D., and Samuel J. Taub, M.D., of Chicago. The paper suggested that the sensitivity might be transferred through the blood.

USE FARMERS FOR A SHIELD

Ten Thousand Noncombatants Reported Killed in Kiangsi Province

MUCH USE MADE OF THE SILVER BULLET

NANKING, June 10 (AP).—Wholesale slaughter of noncombatant farmers, used by Reds in Kiangsi Province as a human shield to cover an advance against Government troops, was told in dispatches today from Nanchang. It was estimated 10,000 persons were slain near Kiangfu.

Despite reports of Red and bandit incursions, the Government insisted its campaign against them was meeting with success and that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek soon would establish headquarters at Nanchang.

FEEBLE RESISTANCE

Hankow reports, however, said Nanchang itself might fall to advancing Reds, as Government troops, with shattered morale, were offering only feeble resistance.

The slaughter near Kiangfu took place when the Reds attacked 3,000 Government troops. Fearing to charge against raking machine-gun fire, the Reds drove noncombatants before them. Government troops, knowing the Red attackers lurked behind the human shield, opened fire and mowed down thousands. Machine guns overheated and jammed as the carnage progressed and the Reds broke through to massacre the Government forces.

MISSIONARIES FLEE

Overflowing from Kiangsi Province, 40,000 other Communists were reported descending upon Yenping in Northern Fukien. Provincial soldiers retreated before them and foreign missionaries fled to the seaport of Foochow.

The city of Changsu was reported captured, and Fuchow, ten kilometres from Nanchang, was besieged.

For the moment, the brewing insurrection in South China lost importance in the face of destruction by Red armies. The famous "silver bullet" of Chinese conflict—bribery—was said to have been used by both the Canton Insurgent Government and the Nationalist Government at Nanking.

PAID BY BOTH

General Chen Ming-Shu, ousted governor of Kwangtung Province, was reported to have returned from Japan and accepted money from both sides in return for his pledge of neutrality.

JURISDICTION OF COURT IS UPHELD

QUEBEC, June 10.—A motion challenging the jurisdiction of the Quebec courts in the $800,000 suit by Price Brothers against nine other newsprint firms has been dismissed by Chief Justice Sir Francois Lemieux. An appeal from the judgment will be heard during the October term of the Appeal Court. Price Brothers, in the suit, claim the sum is due them in "averages" and argument centred around whether the case should be heard in Quebec or Montreal.

The companies affected are J. R. Booth Limited, E. B. Eddy Company Limited, Bathurst Power & Paper Company, Beaver Wood Fibre Company, Thunder Bay Paper Company, Fort Frances Pulp Company, Kenora Paper Mills Company, Great Lakes Paper Company, Abitibi Power & Paper Company.

GANDHI WILL GO TO LONDON IN ANY CASE

BOMBAY, June 10 (AP).—Mahatma Gandhi will go to London for the Round Table Conference next Fall regardless of the situation regarding the Hindu-Moslem problem, the Congress party working committee decided today.

The committee voted a resolution expressing the hope that the communal problem would be settled but asserting that Gandhi's presence in London was essential whether a settlement is reached or not.

TWENTY ARRESTED BY POLICE IN VANCOUVER STREET RIOT

Jobless Storm City Hall in Effort to Present List of Demands

THREATEN TO HANG MAYOR L. D. TAYLOR

VANCOUVER, June 10.—Twenty men arrested, one police officer slightly injured when struck by stones while patroling Hastings Street, and refusal by the finance committee of the City Council to hear four spokesmen of the unemployed, were the features of this afternoon's "Battle of the City Hall."

Following a meeting on Cambie Street Grounds, several hundred jobless, including a large number of foreigners, disregarding orders by Mayor Taylor and Chief of Police W. J. Bingham, paraded to the City Hall. They formed up in jeering, hooting ranks on both sides of Hastings Street, and, while their four representatives were attempting to obtain a hearing in the council chamber, disrupted traffic for half an hour. They refused to disperse until officers, rushed as reinforcements from police headquarters, marched down the middle of the street, "billies" ready for any emergency. Here and there, constables met determined opposition to break up the rally, but the objectors, roughly handled in several instances, were tossed into waiting "Black Marias," amid hoots and jeers.

IN COUNCIL CHAMBER

Four delegates, two men and two women, slipped unobtrusively into the City Hall, after Mayor Taylor had refused permission for spokesmen to appear before the finance committee. This quartette, evading police guards succeeded in reaching the council chamber, and requested the committee, then in session, for a hearing.

Committee members had already granted them the privilege of being heard, when Mayor Taylor, being apprised of the situation, hurried down to the council chamber.

MAYOR OBJECTS

"I object to the committee hearing these delegates," declared his worship forcefully. "They have already been refused the right by me and by Chief Bingham. They have also met illegally at Cambie Street Grounds, and they have made no application for a permit to parade. I'm opposed to the committee giving them a hearing.

Several aldermen attempted to speak, and two members of the delegation also joined the hubub.

"All you've got to do," said Mayor

Committee Appointed to Inquire Into Beauharnois Situation

OTTAWA, June 10 (CP).—The House of Commons today approved the appointment of the committee of nine which will inquire into the Beauharnois situation, and also the terms of reference to that committee. By unanimous consent of the House a motion to this effect was advanced without the formality of previous notice being given.

Replying to Hon. Ernest Lapointe (Liberal, Quebec East), the Prime Minister declared the provinces affected would have a watching brief in the investigation and wherever the inquiry touched upon matters involving the province, they would have a right to make representations. The committee itself would have to determine what matters were or were not within the jurisdiction of Parliament in the course of the inquiry.

The committee is empowered to "report from time to time its observations and opinions thereon, with power to send for persons, papers and documents."

WRITE END TO TRAGIC STORY

EDMONTON, June 10.—The remains of John Noel Patch Bennett, eighteen-year-old schoolboy, who sought experience and found death in the wastes of the Pine Pass district, 150 miles west of Grande Prairie, were forwarded to England from Edmonton this week.

Bennett's bleached skeleton, a rifle, a pack sack, a diary and a few shreds of the clothing that had been torn from his frozen body by the fangs of wolves that had unearthed it, were discovered by Kelly Sunderman, veteran Hythe guide, who had sought the boy's body for seven months, when he journeyed up Tillicum Creek late in May.

HEIR TO FORTUNE

Bennett left his home in Oakdene, Manor Road, Coventry, England, in order that he might gain experience which would school him for a diplomatic career, on which he intended to embark when he attained his majority. He would have inherited a large fortune upon his coming of age.

Although warned of the perils of the journey he was about to essay, he set forth from Grande Prairie on October 11 alone with a packhorse, hoping to make his way through Pine Pass to Prince George, British Columbia.

TROUBLE'S END SEEN AT HAND

Government Will Permit Clubs to Reopen With Acceptable Officers

ROME, June 10 (AP).—The end of the current difference between the Pope and the Italian Government appeared imminent today as Monsignor Guiseppe Pizzardo, papal under-secretary of state, resigned as director of the Catholic action organization.

The Government on its part, it is understood, is disposed to permit the reopening of the 1,000 Catholic clubs closed by Premier Mussolini if the Vatican "purifies them." "Purification" is explained is the elimination of what the Government regards as the political aspects of the clubs and the substitution of officers who are acceptable to the Government.

In addition to its readiness to "purify" Catholic action, the Vatican was reported to be disposed to accept the regrets of the Italian Government over recent anti-Catholic outbursts and to drop its insistence on a formal apology.

Woman Faints As Man Jumps From Vehicle

Believed to have mistaken a man jumping from a parked truck in front of the Palm Dairy, North Park Street, last night, for a hold-up man, Mrs. Gertrude Forster, 923 North Park Street, was so frightened that she fainted and fell to the sidewalk and injured her elbow.

At the time of the mishap she was walking east on North Park Street in company with her husband. She was taken to her home and Dr. A. D. Bechtel was summoned. The truck, according to police report, had no tail light.

EARTHQUAKE REPORTED

SAN JOSE, Cal., June 10 (AP).—A sharp earthquake was felt here from 4:16 a.m. to 4:18 a.m. today. No damage was reported.

Developments in the newly-uncovered placer area east of the Manson Creek district, along tributary creeks of the Nation River, including Rainbow Creek, subject of much excitement this week as prospectors returned from the area with tales of rich placer diggings running $80 per man per day, are being watched with interest by the Provincial Mines Department, it was stated yesterday at the Legislative Buildings.

No direct confirmation of the reports are yet to hand, but the whole region is known to contain great possibilities, which have not before been seriously tested.

Hon. W. C. Shelly, President of the Executive Council, left last week for the discovery site, using airplane and car to get to the region of the smaller lakes which enclose the newly-reported placer gold find.

REGION OF LAKES

Innumerable small lakes are in the region, suitable for airplane landings, and while road accommodation does exist for part of the route, modern-day methods are pressing aircraft into service to bridge the gap between outfitting points and the north.

The region where the strike is reported to have been made is described as northeast of Thutade Lake, slightly east of what is known as the Manson Creek district. This area is said to have previously received relatively little attention from miners and prospectors. Official reports from the area are being awaited with considerable interest.

Shocked by Meteor or Explosion

TOLEDO, O., June 10.—Heavy earth shocks caused by the falling of a large meteor or by the blast of some powerful explosive shook Northwestern Ohio and Eastern Indiana early today.

The centre of the shocks was at a large hole ten feet in diameter and five feet deep, on a farm near Malinta, Ohio. The heaviest damage was within a 300-foot radius of the hole. In this circle four telephone poles were broken, wires were down and small trees were knocked over. A field of oats was crushed to the ground.

Had No Permit To Sell Lilies

DUBLIN, June 10 (AP).—Sean O'Farrell, former member of The Dail and prominent Republican leader in County Leitrim, was arrested yesterday on a charge of selling Easter lilies, the Republican emblem, without a permit.

O'Farrell was in charge of the funeral arrangements for Michael McLoughlin, who was shot and killed in New York, and whose body landed at Cork Sunday.

SUGAR TAKES A DROP

MONTREAL, June 10 (CP).—On the first change since January, sugar prices here were reduced ten cents per 100 lbs., according to an announcement made by the Montreal Board of Trade today. Extra granulated, refined, was quoted at $4.70 per 100 lbs.

RECORD OF PARTY ITS OWN UNDOING

OTTAWA, June 10.—The record of the last Liberal administration was its own undoing at the polls last July, declared D. B. Plunkett (Conservative, Victoria), when speaking in the budget debate tonight. Liberal criticism to offer and not a single constructive suggestion.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe had said the Government was the by-product of financial depression and the Conservative members were its offspring.

"Well, who caused the depression?" asked Mr. Plunkett. "The people of Canada have always turned to the Conservative party in time of distress, and they have never yet found the Conservative party wanting."

Wedding Gift by Cabinet Members

OTTAWA, June 10.—Members of the Dominion Cabinet tonight presented Mrs. W. D. Herridge, wife of the Canadian minister to Washington, with a beautiful tray of solid silver, specially made in Canada for the occasion. It was the intention to have made the presentation before her marriage, but time did not permit. The inscription was: "Presented to Miss Mildred Bennett on the occasion of her marriage, April 14, 1931." The name of each minister then follows.

First Jewish Wedding in Spain in Four Centuries

By RALPH E. FORTE

MADRID, June 10.—For the first time since the "Golden Age" of Spanish literature and art (1492-1680), when the expulsion of the Jews from Spain coincided with the discovery of America, a public Jewish wedding took place here today.

Abraham Cohen and Rachel Ventura, both from Salonica, were married in the only synagogue in Madrid, on Calle del Principe. Rabbi Coriate, who officiated, came all the way from Morocco for the ceremony.

The bride and bridegroom were visibly pleased with the distinction of having been the first couple to take advantage of the provisional Government's decree restoring religious liberty in Spain.

Torquemada, the first Grand Inquisitor, was responsible for the royal decree, which, in March, 1492, ordered all Jews to leave Spain before July 1 of that year, sixty-four days before Columbus sailed on his voyage to America.

During the past century, at least, the decree has not been strictly enforced and Jews have been tacitly permitted to live in Spain, but have suffered under many disabilities, similar to those enforced against Protestants, including an interdiction against public weddings and other ceremonies.

ADJOURN WITH MUCH UNDONE

Hectic Debate Prolongs Sessions of Presbyterian General Assembly

TORONTO, June 10 (CP).—A mass of unfinished business faced the Presbyterian General Assembly when adjournment came tonight. Hectic debate on theological colleges and church finance had prolonged a week's sessions so that it will be necessary to hold one or two more.

A report from Rev. Dr. George E. Ross, Ottawa, on the salaries of theological professors aroused much discussion. It was decided to make no change for the time being.

Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, Brantford, moved that the moderator name a commission to deal with charges which may arise out of the "intolerable situation" at Knox College, described in the board of management's report.

Rev. W. M. Mackay, synodical missionary for Manitoba, made a vigorous protest against the reduction in missionary appropriations by the board of administration.

The general assembly accepted an offer of all rights to the "Book of Praise," made by the United Church of Canada.

Ladysmith, Natal To Send Gift to Island Namesake

LADYSMITH, June 10.—A pleasant interlude to the routine business of the board of trade meeting on Tuesday was sounded when a communication was read from Ladysmith in South Africa, conveying the civic felicitations of that distant city to its namesake of the West. The Boers, during the direst moments of the famous siege of the town, shot, among other things, a "dud" pom-pom shell amongst the defenders, and this, according to Councillor James Corrigal, Mayor of the Natal city, will be sent here, in the harmless form of a mayoral gavel, in the trust that its weighty significance will promote proper decorum during civic deliberations.

Occupying a suite on "E" deck of the huge Canadian Pacific liner, a stalwart, bewhiskered and white-turbaned guard standing at one entrance and a slight-appearing, dark-skinned lady close beside another doorway some distance along the passageway, made it all too clear that Colonel His Highness Maharaja Sir Ranbir Singh and his Maharani, Her Highness Gurcharan Kaur Maharni were neither disposed to be observed by the curious nor partial to be interviewed for the benefit of newspaper readers generally.

IMPLICIT INSTRUCTIONS

This attitude was shared by the Maharaja's secretary who stated that the commands of his prince were implicit, and having said as much there was nothing further to say. He could not even agree that the principal or any object of the Maharaja's journey halfway around the world was to attend the Indian Conference in London later on in the year.

The Maharaja, who was born in 1878 and succeeded to the title as a minor in 1887, belongs to the famous Phulkian family of Sidhu Jats, and is descended from Phul, the common ancestor of the ruling families of Patiala, Jind, Nabha and other Punjab states. Phul was a descendant of Rawal Jaisal Singh, who founded Jaisalmar in 1165. The grandfather of the present ruler, Raja Sarup Singh, was the first to march against the mutineers of Delhi in 1857, and he and his troops took a prominent part in the siege and capture of the city, for which services he received large extensions to his territory. He died in 1864, and was succeeded by his son, who was created a Knight Grand Commander of the Most Exalted Order of the Star of India. Later he was made a Councillor of the Empress Victoria.

AIDED ALLIED CAUSE

His Highness Maharaja Sir Ranbir Singh rules a state of 1,259 square miles, the population being slightly over 300,000, chiefly Hindus, but including Mohammedans and Sikhs. He maintains a small military force, and is entitled to a salute of fifteen guns. His title in full is Colonel His Highness Farzand-i-Dilband Rasikh-ul-Itikad Daulat-i-Inglishia, Raja-i-Rajgan, Maharaja Sir Ranbir Singh Rajandra Bahadur, Knight Grand Commander of the Indian Empire. He contributed an infanty battalion to the Imperial Defence Contingent, which took part in frontier expeditions in 1897, and which served in East Africa in 1914-18 and on the Afghan frontier in 1919, besides offering all the resources of his state to the Crown during the Great War.

Here to meet the Maharaja and his party for the purpose of personally conducting them eastward was H. McNeill, of Thomas Cook & Son. Short stops will be made at resorts in the Rockies on the way to Montreal, at which point the party will embark for England on June 20.

"Mamma," said little Johnie, "I've got an awful stomach ache." "Perhaps it was the pie you ate," said mother. "Oh, no," replied Johnie, "the pie was too good to behave in that way. It must be me."

DEFICITS ON C.N.R. DEBATED

Former Minister Favors Continuation of Public Ownership of Railway

OTTAWA, June 10 (CP).—With a warning to the Government that it was playing with fire if it listened to attacks on the Canadian National Railways, Hon. W. D. Euler, former Minister of National Revenue, today told the House of Commons that if amalgamation of the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways ever came about it would have to come under public ownership.

"I should like to remind the House," he said, "that it was because the railways were a failure under private ownership that they were taken over by the Government. All the different lines had failed absolutely. Once taken over it was the duty of the Government to consolidate them and operate them. The consolidation was a success, the service provided was excellent and the people came to take a pride in their railway."

MISTAKES MADE

Enemies of public ownership were now charging failure, said Mr. Euler, because of a deficit which was common to all railways. Mr. Bennett indirectly, and J. T. Hackett directly, had charged the management of the road with extravagance. There undoubtedly had been some mistakes made, but they were not serious enough to justify the charge.

Included in the Canadian National debt was the sum of $604,000,000 which had been advanced to the private companies by the Government before they were taken over. It was suggested the interest on this sum should be added to the annual deficit.

"This sum is a legacy from private ownership and is not chargeable to public ownership at all," said Mr. Euler. "If the roads had been allowed to continue in bankruptcy and had been sold for scrap, what chance would the country have had of recovering any part of that sum?"

WOULD REDUCE DEBT

This $604,000,000 should be wiped off the books entirely, Mr. Euler went on, so that when the Canadian National was compared with the Canadian Pacific as a privately-owned road, it would not be charged with what was the result of the failure of private ownership. If interest on this sum were not taken into account the annual deficit for the last ten years would be between $10,000,000 and $14,000,000. This was serious enough, but it was worthwhile when the service obtained by the people both from the Canadian National and from the Canadian Pacific, by reason of competition, was taken into account."

TO SERVE FIVE YEARS IN JAIL

Sentence Pronounced on Nels Nelson for Attempted Bank Holdup

VANCOUVER, June 10.—Nels Nelson, aged twenty-eight, captured by the staff of the Royal Bank of Canada at Forty-First Avenue and Granville Street, which he attempted to hold up on Saturday, was sentenced this morning in police court to five years in the penitentiary.

Magistrate H. C. Shaw declared that he would not impose lashes, since Nelson was obviously not an habitual criminal. It was his first offence against the law, the magistrate said, but it was serious because he had attempted to fire his revolver.

drowned in one of the forward compartments, which were flooded when the Chinese steamer Yuta ripped a great hole in the Poseidon just forward of the conning tower.

When the Japanese salvage tug reached the scene, it was announced that officers in charge of the rescue work were hopeful of lifting the submersible, which is in comparatively shallow water, within twenty-four hours. But, as time passed, there was no word from the tug, from the Medway, the Cumberland, the Hermes or another ship at the scene other than that they were continuing their efforts.

ESCAPED FROM TOWER

Of the thirty-five men and five officers who escaped the disaster, thirty-one escaped from the conning tower in the two minutes the submarine stayed afloat after she had been rammed.

Between two and six hours after the ship sank, six men released themselves and attempted to escape by means of the recently-developed "Davis submarine escape apparatus." They reached the surface and were picked up by boats from naval vessels. Two of the men died later from their injuries, and a third is in a grave condition.

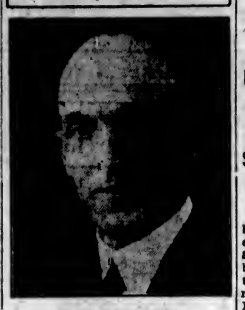

STRUCK IN FOG

The Poseidon had risen to the surface and was proceeding around the point which marks the northern tip of the Shantung Peninsula when the Yuta loomed ahead in the fog. The Yuta's pilot is said to have mixed his directions, and the submarine was caught forward of her conning tower on the starboard side.

URGES BRITISH TO INVEST CAPITAL IN CANADIAN FIRMS

ciation of the local circumstances and requirements in Canada, the report continued.

Prospective traders with Canada are urged to make the closest study of transportation conditions, tariff regulations, etc., in order to facilitate acceptance of British goods by Canadian importers.

Greater use should be made by the industry at home of the service of the British trade commissioners in Canada, and industrial organizations should co-operate to this end, the report adds.

Communications, especially telephonic, should be made easier between Great Britain and Canada, and, if necessary, subsidized, it is recommended.

TRADE STATISTICS

Concerning statistics, the report declares uniformity of trade statistics as between all units of the Empire is essential. Economic investigatory committees with a strong liaison between them should be established in each Empire unit to study and draw conclusions from the statistics.

The British press, the report recommends, should exploit every opportunity to uphold and strengthen British prestige and so stimulate and support British trade throughout the world. Organized industry must assume the responsibility of dealing with all these matters, and the mission expresses the opinion the Federation of British Industries can take immediate action along the following lines:

FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION

1. Bringing trade groups together to study Canadian conditions and encourage the sending of suitable representatives to Canada to discuss with Canadian manufacturers plans for complementary production in the two countries.

2. Initiating discussions with organizations interested in the subject of this report.

3. Setting up with such organizations joint committees for continued close study of Empire trade.

Peru Explorers' Plane in Crash

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP).—It was learned today that one of the planes of the Shippee-Johnson expedition, which is photographing the lost cities of the Incas in Peru, has been wrecked in a crash, but that the occupants escaped without injury.

The accident was revealed in a letter from Robert Shippee, the youngest of the five Americans who set out last December to spy out from the air the secrets of the ancient civilizations of the Andes.

over double that, or 266,125,000 actually shipped in the year previous. In 1928 this movement was 211,790,000, and in 1927 it was 351,549,000, showing the great drop that occurred in the last four years. British Columbia mills supplied 33,076,587 feet of the 114,979,000 feet taken by Australia from the North Pacific Coast last year.

TO UNITED KINGDOM

In the same years, 1919 to 1930, waterborne lumber movements from this Province to the United Kingdom varied between 65,000,000 feet board measurement, and 16,000,000 in the period 1919-1924, and between 98,000,000 and 41,500,000 in the period 1925-1930, the figures being for the high and low in the period.

Between 1919 and 1924, British Columbia exports to the United States, not including rail hauls, rose from 5,000,000 to 248,000,000 feet board measurement, and between 1925 and 1930 this movement fluctuated between 313,000,000 and 289,000,000 feet.

Total waterborne shipments from British Columbia mills between 1919 and 1930 varied between 531,000,000 and 712,000,000 in the same years; exclusive of business done by rail, and internal sales of lumber for the domestic market.

AUSTRALIA NEEDED

From this it may be seen that Australia has played a very necessary part in the waterborne export of British Columbia lumber, the percentage of the cut taken yearly, rising and falling with good or poor times, but always looming as appreciable in the years-end review of the export traffic.

Hopes that a materially larger percentage of the Australian lumber purchases may be secured for British Columbia by reason of the provisions of the new Canadian-Australian treaty are rising here, in well-informed circles. If a scheme of Empire preferences is ratified by the treaty, British Columbia lumber operations will receive a much needed filip in new business, and fresh opportunity for expansion of existing trade on a much brighter basis.

With the lumber industry operating at approximately 45 per cent of its theoretical capacity, word of what the treaty contains is being eagerly awaited from Ottawa.

FEW PROTEST SWEEP BILL

SENATOR BARNARD MOVES ITS ADOPTION

OTTAWA, June 10 (CP).—The bill to legalize sweepstakes conducted by hospitals was discussed in the Senate this afternoon, and the debate will continue tomorrow. Senator Barnard moved the committee report accepting the bill be adopted. It is planned to amend the measure by leaving with each province the right to bring it into effect by action of the Provincial Attorney-General.

Protests for and against the bill had been received, Senator Barnard said. Those against the bill were practically all contained in a protest received from Commissioner James Hay of the Salvation Army, Toronto.

WELLS OF CHARITY

The first criticism in this protest was that the passing of this act would "dry up the wells of charity." Senator Barnard's reply was that if every hospital had every need supplied, there would yet remain many channels for charity. Another protest was that the bill would encourage gambling. Senator Barnard drew attention to the situation in Canada where stock exchanges and the wheat market were open six days a week, race tracks for five months in the year, from which the provinces took a percentage of the betting and the press published odds and form charts for information of the betting public.

He could not see under these conditions why an individual should be prevented from buying a lottery ticket. The third protest was that betting was reprehensible. To this Senator Barnard answered that all forms of insurance were betting, but not reprehensible.

HOSPITALS' NEEDS

Senator Barnard declared the hospitals in British Columbia were in need of money. He had a dozen telegrams from British Columbia hospitals asking for the passing of the bill. Thousands of dollars were leaving Canada for sweepstakes elsewhere. All social clubs in Canada had sweepstakes, even though they were contrary to the Criminal Code, and recently there was the spectacle of a high judicial official winning one of these sweepstakes. He concluded it was impossible to stop gambling by legislation and the only logical thing to do was to regulate it.

Sir George Foster said the bill had not been given proper attention on the second reading. If passed it would reverse the whole legislation against lotteries, as it would eliminate the ban on lotteries. It was proposed to meet this by confining the operation of the bill to British Columbia. If the committee had known the bill would remove the ban and barrier on lotteries they would not have lifted it as regards British Columbia. Sir George said the bill was not based on any general desire and no requests had been presented to Parliament forit, even from British Columbia. He adjourned the debate.

who aimed to have a specified time set aside for physical training of pupils in all grades, but the resolution was withdrawn when it was explained by Municipal Inspector George H. Deane that all pupils should be receiving the training irrespective of grade. Inspector Deane said the training was compulsory and if it was not being carried out the departmental regulations were not being compiled with.

A resolution of appreciation to the work of Major Hinton, physical instructor, and all those who assisted in the exhibition held at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday, was passed by the board.

MAY APPEAL DECISION

Harold A. Beckwith, who was counsel for the School Board in the action to recover an amount of $1,275 from the School Board of Saanich, which was recently adjudicated in the Supreme Court, with a decision in favor of the Victoria Board, notified the trustees of the possibility of an appeal from the judge's decision.

Hans Kroeger, secretary for the Workers' Alliance, wrote the board protesting against the teachers of the schools staff engaging in employment during the Summer vacation. Mr. Kroeger will be informed that the board has no control over the teachers during the vacation period, and suggesting that the protest be forwarded to the British Columbia Teachers' Federation.

Reports of the finance committee and buildings and grounds committee were adopted, and at 9:25 o'clock the board went into committee to consider staff matters.

TWENTY ARRESTED BY POLICE IN VANCOUVER

Taylor, evidently answering a question, "is to read their literature. I've never heard such absurd demands. The unemployed have no better friend than the mayor; but this is developing into a question as to whether we will throw the Government of the city into the hands of the unemployed."

Alderman J. J. McRae declared the committee should not hear the delegates, under the circumstances.

ABSURD DEMANDS

"I take it they are appealing on the same grounds as during the Winter?" asked Alderman W. H. Lemke.

"No—they're far more absurd," answered Mayor Taylor. "Here's what they're asking," he added, taking a typewritten document from one of the delegates.

He read demands for $12 a week for single men; $25 a week for married men, free meals for children in the schools; and the right to hold meetings in Cambie Street grounds, and parades.

"Why don't you read the last clause—you pretend to represent democracy," taunted one of the delegates.

"Well—what you're asking is release of Alan Campbell, who is due for deportation," replied the Mayor.

"He's the man who started all this."

Again there was hubub, as several members of the delegation and several aldermen strove to make themselves heard. Alderman J. Bennett, hammering with his gavel, finally brought order out of chaos, and the committee decided they would not give the delegation a hearing.

REVOLUTION COMING

"We represent thousands of starving people," one of the woman delegates shouted, as she turned to leave the council chamber.

"Never mind — the revolution is coming in spite of you," screamed the second woman.

As they were quitting the council chamber, Alderman H. J. Degraves called to one of the women: "You don't look as though you were starving."

"There's no word in the dictionary to describe what you look like," countered the aroused woman; and quitted the council chamber amidst the laughter of the aldermen.

WILL HANG MAYOR

"When the revolution comes, we'll hang Mayor Taylor and every member of the council to the maple posts."

A few minutes later, echoes of mocking cheers came drifting up into the council chamber, as the assembled marchers in Hastings Street learned of the nonsuccess of their delegation.

Then came the police rid, the brief battle in front of the City Hall, the arrest of the luckless twenty, and the slow dispersal of the mob.

Constable A. Spencer, of the mounted force, was the officer who was injured. Spencer was struck by a volley of stones while riding down Hastings Street, and suffered painful injuries to an elbow. The butt of his police revolver was also broken by another missile.

ONE CANADIAN

John Lind, Swedish; William Mack, Pole, charged with assaulting a police officer.

Eight others were arrested and held for investigation.

NOTED MAN OF SCIENCE DEAD

W. F. Denning Credited With Many Important Discoveries in Astronomy

BRISTOL, Eng., June 10.—William Frederick Denning, eighty-two, noted British astronomer and writer on astronomical subjects, died here yesterday evening.

Denning was a Fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society of Great Britain and also of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada.

He was particularly noted for his observations and discoveries of meteoric phenomena. He discovered five comets, some new nebulae, and made a number of planetary observations, including the studies of the surface markings, rotation periods and phenomena of Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

He was awarded the bronze comet medals by the Astronomical Society of the Pacific in 1890, 1892 and 1894; received the Vals Prize from the Academy of Sciences at Paris in 1895, and was awarded a gold medal by the Royal Astronomical Society in 1898.

His calculations of the heights and velocities of fireballs and shooting stars, made from 1884 to 1926, recently enabled Professor Lindemann and Dr. Dobson to obtain important deductions as to the heat of the atmosphere at great altitudes and to conclude that the temperature above fifty miles is much higher than was formerly supposed.

WITHDRAW FROM KYLSANT CASE

Noted Counsel Protest Rejection of Evidence Given by Accountants

LONDON, June 10 (AP).—Sir John Simon, one of the foremost barristers in Great Britain, withdrew today with Sir Patrick Hastings as defence counsel for Lord Kylsant, who is undergoing a preliminary hearing before the Lord Mayor on charges of issuing false financial statements as head of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company.

The two counsel withdrew as an indication of displeasure at the ruling of the court regarding admissibility of evidence given by two prominent accountants, which tended to indicate that concealment of reserves is a common practice as a matter of keeping competitors in the dark.

EVIDENCE RULED OUT

Yesterday the Lord Mayor ruled out three hours of testimany by one accountant and today he declined to permit introduction of balance sheets of several large companies.

Both Sir John and Sir Patrick may take up the defence again when and if the case reaches the criminal court.

POPULATION IN SCOTLAND LESS

Census Shows Eight Per Cent Decrease—Cities Register Gains

LONDON, June 10 (CP).—A decrease of 8 per cent in Scotland's population between 1921 and 1931 census taking was reported by Rt. Hon. William Adamson, Secretary of State for Scotland, in a written reply to questions in the House of Commons. The census of April 26 last showed a population of 4,842,554, a decrease of 29,943.

Analysis of the returns shows that the movement from country to city was as marked as south of the Tweed. Of the large cities the majority show increases in population, especially Glasgow and Edinburgh. Nearly all the counties suffered a decline.

Glasgow, the largest Scottish city, now has a population of 1,088,417 compared with 1,051,527 in 1921. Edinburgh has 438,998 against 420,264.

In nearly all the Scottish towns the number of women exceeded men. Remarkable figures were recorded in Selkirk County, where the net difference is one person—an increase. The male population in Selkirk grew 214 and the female population dropped by 312. A further notable feature of the returns from the counties was a decrease of 14,889 or 44.2 per cent in Buteshire. The population of Argyllshire dropped by 18 per cent.

Pleads Guilty to Thirty Charges of Having Stolen Goods

VANCOUVER, June 9.—Pleading guilty in police court to twenty-two charges of retaining stolen property and eleven of having stolen goods in possession, Claude H. Jackson exonerated his young brother, Ronald H. Jackson, who was charged with him. He was remanded to June 15 and the charge against his brother was withdrawn.

The brothers were arrested on May 18 when detectives raided a West End apartment house and found a large quantity of goods which had been stolen in a series of burglaries and shopbreakings.

Valued at several thousand dollars, the loot included live canaries, jewelry, books, electrical appliances, automobile accessories, clocks, cloth and optical goods.

At last he got a speaking part. He was supposed to reply "It is" when the tragedian uttered the words, "It is the end."

The night arrived and everything was going fine. He heard the words, "It is the end," and took up his cue, "Is it?" he said.

Court of Appeal

Shannon (R) vs. King (A)—In this action, respondent is claiming damages for slander and libel. The libel is alleged to have been contained in reports published by appellant as principal of the Kitsilano Junior High School. Respondent obtained an order in the Supreme Court for appellant to be examined orally before one of the judges of the court upon certain of the interrogatories delivered in the action. Appellant had answered interrogatories, but they were found to be insufficient, and the judge held that discovery should be made in order to assist respondent in drawing her pleadings and enabling her to place her case before the court. Appellant contended that the interrogatories were sufficient and in any event were premature and vexatious.

The Court of Appeal reserved judgment.

Merritt Realty Co., Ltd. (A) re Taxation Act—This was an appeal from the judgment of the Judge of the Court of Revision at Vancouver from the assessment for Provincial Income Tax. Appellant, an incorporatetd company, had acquired and sold certain lands. It was argued that appellant, in acquiring the properties, was investing for the purposes of revenue and that the sales made from time to time at a profit were merely sales of capital assets. The judge of the Court of Revision found that the company was buying good properties which brought in fair returns until such time as the market gave an opportunity for a profit being made from a sale. He confirmed the assessment as income of the profits so made.

The hearing of the appeal to the Court of Appeal is continuing.

AMENDMENT WOULD ALLOW OFFICERS TO AUDIT FIRMS' BOOKS

OTTAWA, June 10 (CP).—Directors and officers of private companies would be permitted to audit the books of their companies under an amendment to the Companies Act approved in the banking and commercial committee of the House of Commons today. The amendment also applies to public companies which do not offer shares, bonds or debentures to the public.

The existing law, said John T. Hackett (Conservative, Stanstead), sponsor of the bill, worked a hardship on small companies really owned by one man. It prevented a man auditing the work of his own employees.

Governor-General Becomes Patron of Newly-Formed Foundation

CAPITAL ENDOWMENT FUND TO BE RAISED

TORONTO, June 10 (CP).—Announcement that Lord Bessborough, Governor-General of Canada, would be pleased to give patronage to the Canadian Authors' Foundation, was made today by Professor Pelham Edgar, of Victoria College, Toronto, chairman of the foundation's organization committee. Professor Edgar received word from Ottawa to this effect today.

During His Excellency's visit to Toronto last month, a deputation representative of all parts of the Dominion, interviewed him at Government House, submitted a memorial outlining the object of the foundation, and expressed the hope he would give viceregal patronage.

CAPITAL ENDOWMENT

When in the opinion of the governors the fund is more than sufficient to provide for this primary claim they may extend its benefits to creative musicians, painters and sculptors on the same conditions as for literature. They are further authorized to give representation on the board to these creative arts, and at their discretion to change the name of the foundation to conform with its enlarged scope.

It was respectfully submitted to Lord Bessborough that the foundation, of national importance, was destined to exercise a profound influence on the imaginative life of the country.

ENTIRELY IN SYMPATHY

Replying to the deputation, who met His Excellency on May 23, Lord Bessborough is understood to have expressed his entire sympathy with the launching of the foundation, and his confidence in its success, and is understood to have indicated his desire to help such a project in any way he could. He recognized the importance of the foundation's object, and was gratified to see it supported by such a large and distinguished group. He was certain the foundation would serve to encourage the development of Canadian literary and artistic enterprise in the future.

A public meeting will be held in Toronto in October, when the foundation will be definitely launched.

COAL STOCK IS BASIS OF SUIT

W. D. Todd Claims He Purchased Company Shares Under False Impression

In the Supreme Court, before Mr. Justice Gregory, W. D. Todd is pressing a claim for damages against the Consumers Coal Company and H. Mitchell, president of that concern. He takes the ground that the affairs of the company were misrepresented to him and that he was induced thereby to purchase stock to the extent of $3,000 in the business.

Of this amount one-third was paid in cash and the remaining $2,000 is held by the company on notes. The case is still in progress and the hearing will be continued today.

In the conduct of the case for the plaintiff, P. J. Sinnott, as counsel, produced evidence to show that representations were made to Mr. Todd with respect to the finances of the company being in first-class shape and the inducement being held out that his client would be awarded the handling of the coal in this city.

Statements of Mr. Mitchell, the president, who is made a party to the action, were offered before the court as bearing out the contention that the affairs of the company were not in as good condition as was represented.

D. S. Tait and C. H. Tait are appearing for the defendant company.

NEWSPAPERMEN IN WORLD RACE

Japanese Journalist Will Arrive in Victoria on Tuesday Next Aboard President Taft

On a race around the world by airplane, steamship and railroad train, S. Shingu, Tokio newspaper man, is aboard the American Mail liner President Taft, due in Victoria next Tuesday. Shingu will debark from the President Taft here and fly to Seattle by airplane. He will leave Boeing Field in Seattle at 6:25 p.m. Tuesday, and arrive in Chicago by airplane at 9:30 a.m., June 18. Shingu is due in New York at 4:54 p.m. the same day and will sail at midnight for London.

T. Fukuma, another Tokio newspaper man, left Yokohama last Saturday, heading for Seattle via Siberia, Germany, England and New York. He will span the North American continent by airplane and hopes to connect in Seattle with the President Taft, sailing from this port June 27 for Yokohama. The newspaper man winning the globe-circling race will be given a cash prize by The Asahi, Tokio newspaper, which is sponsoring the contest.

What Today Means

"GEMINI"

If June 11 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:10 a.m. to 11:25 a.m., from 2:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. and from 8 p.m. to 10:20 p.m. The danger hours are from noon to 1:50 p.m. and from 5:25 p.m. to 7:55 p.m.

The planetary aspects of June 11 counsel alertness, as an opportunity, not easy to recognize, will present itself. Its seizure will lead to both important and beneficial results. After sunset, the atmosphere will be charged with uncertainty, and rest and quiet should be enjoyed.

Children born on this June 11 will be, in early years, rather impossible, just prior to adolescence, however, they will take a tumble to themselves of objectionable faults. They will take on new characters, becoming modest, industrious and unselfish. Their horoscope indicates a fair measure of success and considerable happiness.

Born on June 11, you are simple and easy to understand. There is nothing complex about your character. You are impulsive and age itself will never restrain you from rushing into things. You have sudden enthusiasms, unexpected crazes, and notoriety is unction to your soul. You, too, are very self-conscious about your appearance; this, however, does not make you any the less likeable. You are admired, not because, but in spite of your peculiar individual idiosyncracies.

You tackle every problem in life with a freshness and a zest that compels admiration, and almost defies failure. You are extravagantly generous—like a schoolboy with both hands full of pocket-money. You will never amass riches by the practice of thrift. All days are, for you, full of sunshine and you never give a thought to the rainy ones.

When frustration does come your way—and it visits everyone in the course of a lifetime—you will take it badly, worse than a less temperamental person would. This phase, however, will not last long. Nothing can submerge you. Being a born fighter, you will fight back, and prove yourself superior to circumstances or environment. Your early married life will be rather marred by misunderstanding. Later on, however, it will afford both you and your mate an ever-abounding felicity.

SHERIFFS TO FACE CHARGE OF MURDER

ARDMORE, Okla., June 10 (AP).—Oklahoma's forces of justice converged here last night for the prosecution of two deputy sheriffs on charges of murder to determine the officers' legal responsibility for the killing of two prominent Mexican college students, Emilio Cortez Rubio, nephew of President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico, and Manuel Gomez, whose homeward vacation trip from American colleges ended in death early Monday

RESIGN FROM ZIONIST WORK IN CANADA

TORONTO, June 10.—Resignation from offices in Zionist organizations of Canada and Ontario was announced by Mr. and Mrs. David Dunkelman, for some years prominent in Zionist work here. Mr. Dunkelman states he will continue to be associated with the Zionist work in Palestine, but not with the Canadian organization.

"The refusal of the National Council to give a hearing last night to Mr. Weisgal, unanimous choice of Ontario Zionists for the congress," was given by Mr. Dunkelman as the reason for his criticism of the National Zionist Council.

RECORD SALMON RUN EXPECTED IN NORTH

JUNEAU, June 10 (AP).—Reports received at the headquarters of the Bureau of Fisheries here today indicated a record early run of king salmon in the northern areas of Southeastern Alaska. The catches are 10 per cent greater than for the same period last year, and also heavier than in 1929. The fish are of a higher grade, larger and fatter.

Found Guilty of Hold-Up Charges

NEW WESTMINSTER, June 10.—After being out nearly three hours, an assize court jury this afternoon returned a verdict declaring Frank McDougall, Gordon Robinson and Leslie Jones guilty of robbery with violence. The three were charged with the $1,500 holdup at the Chinese store of Lim Sing & Co., Fraser Mills, December 23. There were eight counts against each of the accused. They are to be sentenced at the close of the assizes.

GERMANY AND REPARATIONS

The chief question discussed by Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Secretary Curtius of Germany during their visit to Mr. Ramsay MacDonald was the fiscal conditions in Germany and their reference to future reparation payments. For some time past a report has been current that Germany is about to proclaim a moratorium of war debt annuities. This means that the conditional payments under the Young Plan would be suspended for a period, possibly two years. Money might be paid by Germany into the Bank of International Settlements but it would be used for investment for Germany to restore her industries. Germany considers that the present depression affords an occasion not only for a moratorium but for a demand for an entire reconsideration of the reparations settlement.

Reports from London indicate that the British Government may request a new convention to reconsider reparations. On the other hand M. Aristide Briand has gone on record as opposed to any such course. Thus for the moment there is an impasse, for without French sanction it is exceedingly doubtful if the German viewpoint can be met. Probably the plan in view is an alternative one; either the revision of the Young Plan or else the flotation of an international loan on behalf of Germany. A moratorium on reparation annuities would injure German credits abroad, and perhaps it is only a threat to enforce reconsideration of reparations.

The developments ensuing out of the visit of the Chancellor and Foreign Secretary to Great Britain arouse again the belief, so often stated, that there is a very serious unlikelihood of Germany ever completing her reparation payments on their present basis. If the Allied Powers accede to this desire of hers there is the larger question involved of inter-Allied war debts. Will these continue to be paid on their present basis if Germany obtains easier terms, or if she proclaims a moratorium on the reparation annuities?

THE WHEAT SITUATION

An English grain expert, Mr. Herbert T. Robson, in a letter to The London Times explains why European consumption of wheat has been reduced and production stimulated. In Europe the different countries apparently took steps to prevent themselves from being exploited when it was learned that Canada and the United States had devised a policy to hold back wheat for high prices. They both assisted and encouraged greater production in their homelands and restricted importation by regulations for an admixture of mill offal, and rye in bread. Bread cost more and this, coupled with its low quality, restricted consumption.

Mr. Robson sees a solution of the difficulty in the wheat situation in the exporting countries being successful in persuading the importing countries to permit their people to purchase bread of first class quality at a reasonable price. Moreover, it is contingent on Canada and the United States not to hold back artificially the normal flow of wheat for export. Mr. Robson believes that if governments will cease their interference with the laws of supply and demand the grain trade of the world will gradually get back to normal. In this country it is wheat pools that have interfered with this law, and with disastrous results.

The bright side of the picture at present is that grain from this country is now moving more readily than for a long time to the seaboard and to European countries. The stocks of wheat in Europe, apart from Russia, have been declining. As a result there is an increased demand for Canadian wheat, which is no longer being held for high prices. One indication of what is happening is that France granted permits for importation of wheat from May 15 to June 15 to the extent of 25 per cent in place of 5 per cent, and Czechoslovakia is also buying from this country. The situation is growing more hopeful. The lesson of what has happened lies in the impossibility of interfering successfully with the law of supply and demand for mercenary purposes. The retaliation this leads to has intensified economic depression.

SOCIAL SERVICES

British Labor appears to be up in arms at the suggestion that unemployment insurance should be placed on an actuarial basis. The Labor Government appointed a Royal Commission to make a study of the system and to bring in recommendations which would restore safeguards that have been whittled away in recent years. Now that such recommendations are in the offing Labor has become alarmed. It wants the dole continued on the present basis, which has produced an elasticity under a Labor Government that was never anticipated. In view of the attitude of the followers of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald the question arises as to why he has had a Royal Commission inquiring into the subject if his party has no intention of putting its recommendations into effect.

At present 2,000,000 persons are drawing ordinary unemployment benefit at an annual cost of £95,000,000. In addition, there are 400,000 transitional workers who receive £28,000,000 a year, and 75,000 persons receive further relief aggregating £4,000,000. These figures exclude, in each case, the cost of administration of the Unemployment Insurance Fund. It is estimated that 1 per cent of those drawing benefit also get relief so that 2,450,000 persons are drawing £124,000,000 a year. In the meantime local authorities are spending £36,000,000 annually on relief of those who are not able-bodied. The recipients of relief and their dependents represent one-tenth of the population. The amount which they receive is two-thirds of the whole pre-war total.

The Unemployment Insurance Fund has an outstanding debt of £80,000,000, which is being increased at the rate of £1,000,000 a week. The local authorities have a debt of £6,000,000 incurred through paying relief. It is estimated by the Confederation of Employers' Associations that the cost of payment for unemployment insurance, and five other social services, amounts to £4,263,000 a week. This is one-seventh of the nation's weekly wages bill. The number of direct recipients is 6,185,000. In other words, the cost of the social services mentioned is in the neighborhood of £220,000,000 annually, towards which the workers contribute £40,000,000, or about 18 per cent. Since the war Great Britain has spent £4,000,000,000 on social services. It is no hard matter to arrive at the conjecture that the excessive character of taxation because of social services is a main contributory reason for the depression that has seized the world in its clutches.

DON'T BE A FOOL!

The commonest advice that is given to an individual is: "Don't be a fool." The London Daily Express takes world depression as the text to give similar advice to all and sundry. We quote:

"All pessimists are fools. What is worse, they are dangerous fools. At the present moment they are a definite curse to the community. Men on salaries that have not shrunk a penny although the cost of living has done so by many pennies, go about muttering darkly about hard times. Holders of first-rate industrial shares are selling out at heavy losses and putting the money in the bank (where it earns nothing), so that in the future they can buy back the shares at top prices. 'The world is in a terrible condition. Things are very bad. Everything is going down.' That is their daily chant. That is their contribution to the morale of the nation. After Waterloo there was real distress. Then came steam and the greatest era of prosperity the world has seen. Today, while the fools are moaning, wise men are planning, working, dreaming, underwriting the prosperity that lies ahead. When those good times arrive—and they are on their way now—the fools will moan, 'If only we had known we could have' . . . Don't be a fool!"

The Manitoba Free Press entertains the opinion that the West is indignant because of the insurance rates set for the Hudson Bay route. If it is indignant its attitude is immoderate. Marine insurance companies cannot afford to gamble unduly with an experiment. The measure of safety on the Hudson Bay route has yet to be proved. When it has been proved it will be time enough to talk of rates that will be identical with those charged on the St. Lawrence. The hazards of the route can only be determined by trial, after which the rates can be fixed on the basis of the dangers that exist. That is business.

The United States is the country of "biggest things." It is now facing the biggest deficit in its budget ever sustained by any nation. It will run somewhere not far short of a billion dollars. The New York Sun says that the cut in governmental expenses must be real ones; not thousands, or even tens of thousands, but millions and hundreds of millions must be saved.

It is estimated that the action of the Federal Government during the past year in protecting Canadian dairymen against Australian and New Zealand butter imports has brought $10,000,000 extra revenue to the industry in this country. Without that revenue the problem of unemployment would have been intensified.

THE AGE OF COMPULSION

It is, generally speaking, the age of compulsion. No period before our own ever dreamed of the sort of universal persecution that is called Compulsory Education. No period before our own ever dreamed of such a persecution as Prohibition. In military matters it follows the minute or scientific method of getting every ounce or grain of fighting energy out of the whole population; just as it follows the same scientific method of getting every ounce or grain of gas or electricity or chemical energy out of its laboratories and its machines. In dealing with men, as in dealing with materials, it uses up all its by-products, and a good many which can only be used by being misused. It puts poison in the bullet and poltroons in the battle-line.—G. K. Chesterton in The Illustrated London News.

O true believers, carefully avoid entertaining a suspicion of another, for some suspicions are a crime; and inquire not too curiously into other men's failings.—The Koran.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

From the independent political demagogue and the pious incendiary, Good Lord deliver us.—Selah.

We are doing our best to meet a frowning and gloomy world with a smiling face, but the news published in the papers these days is very depressing; and the views expressed by people who are prominent enough to get their views published in the papers are even more depressing. Our friend A. W. Neill, M.P., was not a particularly cheerful soul when he was consistently supporting the Government of Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, although elected to Parliament as an independent member. The defeat of the King Government should not have been very depressing to the mind of a member who was neither Tory nor Grit, but betwixt and between, and yet the member for Comox-Alberni is now making speeches in Parliament which sound like the wails of the mourners over the mortal remains of a chief of a British Columbia Indian tribe.

* * *

Mr. Neill is a man of parts, as they say in the country he came from. He is an effective speaker, and he speaks often and long; but we cannot remember any occasion in which he expressed cheerful views of any situation. He was a pessimist when he was in the Provincial Legislature, and he is not an optimist now that he is in the Dominion Parliament. So the present situation throughout the world is just the situation calculated to accentuate the natural gloomy disposition of our suffering Island dyspeptic.

* * *

In the House on Monday Mr. Neill wanted to make a speech of urgent public importance. The Speaker of the House ruled that Mr. Neill was out of order and could not make a speech even if it were of the utmost public importance. But Mr. Neill persisted and made his speech in fragments. The purport of this speech was that Canada would be confronted with civil war if the Government did not watch out. The exact words of Mr. Neill were: "There was a growing sentiment in Canada which was typified in such expressions as 'something is going to snap,' 'a big change is coming,' 'the Russians are not such fools as we thought,' there is a 'deep-seated fear that we will not come out of this depression without a civil war between the haves and the have-nots'." Then to prove that he was not the least bit class-conscious, the member for Comox-Alberni said: "Expressions of this sort were common among the educated business and commercial classes of Canada," and warned the Government that steps must be taken before conditions became worse.

* * *

The prophetic member, previous to donning the robes of a prophet, carefully explained that as an independent he was not playing politics. If any ordinary politician had made such an explanation he might fairly and legitimately have been charged with hypocrisy; for although the member has been playing pothing but politics for many years; although he lives upon the proceeds of politics, his professions of independence absolve him from the consequences of his political acts and speeches. If such a speech as Mr. Neill's had been delivered outside the precincts of Parliament by a mere party politician, it might have been described as the utterance of an incendiary.

* * *

But if there are some extremists in Parliament at the present time—more of them than there ever have been in the history of that great public institution—there are also firebrands in other and unexpected places—a few of them are expressing radical views in the newspapers. Notwithstanding the lessons of history, ancient and current, that it is a dangerous thing to attempt to mix religion and politics, there are pulpiteers in Canada who cannot keep from dabbling in politics. There is the Rev. Dr. Bland, of Toronto, who, although he has long worn the sable garments of an ecclesiastic, probably would have been more fittingly attired if he had worn the red robes of a Communist. This reverend radical has often broken theological bounds and suffered rebuke from the mouths of his more conservative brethren. This disciple of the Gospel of peace and good will is more addicted to preaching the principles of turmoil and ill-will among men than the teachings of the Founder of the Church.

* * *

The militant doctor of divinity preached before a church conference in Toronto and held Russia up to all churchmen and politicians as a model for Canada. The present Government of Russia is generally understood to be striving by all the means in its power, by the persuasive power of reason and the more subtle power of ridicule, to subvert religion and establish paganism, and yet here is a burning and shining theological light who declares that if Canada is to be saved from chaos she must adopt the religious and political system which is proving the salvation of Russia. Conscription of labor and wealth, the conference was told, was the only measure that would bring salvation within the reach of all Canadians. "Russia has shown the way to the entire world. No one doubted that the five-year plan in that country was going to succeed. There is no country in the world except Russia which has no unemployment. Yet we go on in our own foolish fashion, every man for himself. It is not in our selfish industrialists to organize this country. We must turn to Ottawa." The ecclesiastical conference applauded when the preacher declared "Capitalism is on its deathbed." And yet Russia is probably the only country in the world where the occupation of the preacher is gone.

TO REVIEW NEW CIVIC BY-LAWS

Ratepayers' Association Arranges Series of Meetings to Debate All Measures

In order to give free discussion of the by-laws to be submitted to the ratepayers on June 25, calling for an expenditure of approximately $314,000, the Victoria Ratepayers' Association has arranged for a series of public meetings to be held in various city schools.

The first meeting will be at Victoria West School on Friday night, June 12, commencing at 8 o'clock.

In addition to meetings in wards, the association is also planning a big meeting for the evening of June 24 at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. All meetings will be open for general discussion of the local improvement measures.

The following is the list of meetings at the schools: June 12, Victoria West; June 15, Sir James Douglas; June 17, George Jay; June 19, South Park, and June 22, Girls' Central.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis

IMAGINATION

All day he tends the restless sheep,
He herds them as they go
Along the hill paths, rough and steep,
Or through green vales below.

His world is but a little thing,
Great hills to make a wall;
Aloft, he sees the white stars swing
When purple shadows fall.

At night before the ranch-house fire
Upon a bench he curls
And paints a world to his desire
In flames and smokewreath swirls.

Earth is a wide and splendid place
Of wonders manifold,
From flowers frail as fairy lace
To cities mad with gold.

The above deal is a very good example of where good bidding must be combined with good play to obtain the maximum result. At auction the bidding is not involved, but at contract an opening forcing bid of two Diamonds should be made, thus laying the ground work for a small slam bid at No Trump.

In the play of the hand, when Declarer finds that the Club suit is so disadvantageously distributed, he must resort to a squeeze play in order to make his bid.

SALIENT POINTS OF THE BIDDING

Contract—South opens the bidding with two Diamonds. West passes and North bids three Clubs to show his length in that suit. East passes and South bids three No Trumps. West passes and North bids four No Trumps to show the presence of two quick tricks in hand, as well as his length in Clubs. East passes and South bids six No Trump. This concludes the bidding.

Auction—South bids one No Trump, concluding the bidding. It is not advisable to make the introductory bid of Diamonds, for the hand is so large that it might well be that North would have no improving bid.

THE PLAY

West opens the Queen of Hearts and the declarer takes the trick with the Queen. One round of Diamonds played high from own hand establishes the fact that there are five tricks to be taken in that suit, which, with two in Spades, two in Hearts and two in Clubs will give eleven, and leave one trick to be picked up in order to make the slam. If the adverse Clubs are divided 3—2 it is a very simple matter to establish an extra trick in that suit. Since the Q—J—10 are all held adversely, one trick must be lost, and it is just as well to surrender this immediately. Accordingly a small Club is led by the declarer and West's Queen holds the trick.

Another Heart lead by West is taken by declarer with the Ace and the Ace of Clubs is led to find out whether or not West's Queen was a false card. The fact being established that East originally held four Clubs headed by the Jack, a resort must be had to the forcing of discards. Another Club is led and taken with dummy's King, after which four more rounds of Diamonds are played, the nine of Hearts being retained in dummy until the fifth round of Diamonds, while one Club is discarded. This card forces West to retain the ten of Hearts, necessitating his keeping his Jack of Spades but once guarded,

North now discards the nine of Hearts and East must keep the Jack of Clubs, forcing him to keep his Queen of Spades but once guarded. South now leads the eight of Spades, takes it with the Ace in dummy and returns the ten of Spades, taking the trick with the King and catching both the Queen and Jack.

DUTY IS OWED TO POSTERITY

Governor-General Urges Ottawa Citizens to Continue Beautifying Capital

OTTAWA, June 10 (CP).—Continued efforts to beautify Ottawa as the capital of Canada were urged today by the Earl of Bessborough, Governor-General, speaking at a Canadian Club luncheon. The outward appearance of a capital city could have a far greater value than her aesthetic effect, His Excellency said. In the years to come it would be a mirror of the history and traditions of the country.

"Speaking to you citizens of Ottawa," he said, "I urge you to remember your very grave responsibility to posterity. So far the opportunities for improving the city have been taken advantage of. Make sure there is no falling off in the years to come."

The Governor-General said he knew of no more beautiful setting in the Empire than that of the Parliament Buildings in Canada.

POSTPONEMENT IS EXPLAINED

British House Told Government Accepted Suggestion of Premier Bennett

LONDON, June 10 (CP).—Formal announcement of postponement of the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa from next Autumn to 1932 brought a shower of questions in the House of Commons this afternoon.

Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for Dominion Affairs, said that owing to difficulties experienced by Australia and New Zealand in arranging for full representation in August it had been necessary for the Canadian Government to postpone the conference.

"Is not the real reason for the withdrawal of these Dominions the attitude of the present Government at the last conference?" asked P. D. Macdonald, Conservative.

The speaker intervened.

"The British Government acquiesced to the date suggested for the conference by Prime Minister Bennett," said Mr. Thomas. "Mr. Bennett then made a request to the British Government for postponement based upon reasons that to him were satisfactory, and we had no other alternative than to accept the suggestion of Mr. Bennett, and that we did."

A MUNICIPAL AIRPORT

Sir,—I was sorry to see the letter in Sunday's issue written by one so interested in the new Property Owners' Association against an airport. I was one of Alderman Straith's critics with his pocket handkerchief proposition, practically on the front lawn of one of our leading hospitals. Now that he has something worth while in size and located at a distance from the sick, I am with him and trust that most of the ratepayers will be also. Most property owners have suffered in the slump. I have had three and four places vacant ever since last September. Taxes and interest have to be paid, but nevertheless I will work and vote for the by-law. Victoria has to remain on the map.

Aviation is where motoring was ten years ago, just beginning to compete with the railroad. Do you remember how, when a stranger asked where to get a particular bus, you had to think hard what street corner it left? Today look at the contrast. Aviation will be in just such a position with regard to the bus in ten years' time. You will be travelling everywhere by air.

March on Victoria! The going may be a little hard, but it's worth fighting for a place on the map.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 18.8 feet to the height of high water as above given.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily British Colonist of June 11, 1881)

Major Downie, who is away on a West Coast trip, has sent down specimens of what is claimed to be tin ore.

Hon. Mr. Trutch, Marcus Smith and Mr. Gamsby and the Port Moody survey party left for the Mainland yesterday morning.

Quebec, June 8.—One of those destructive fires to which Quebec is so subject broke out tonight at 11 o'clock, in the midst of St. Johns suburbs, midway between St. Roche and Upper Town. The fire originated in a small house in Oliver Street and immediately spread to adjoining buildings. The fire brigade became demoralized and lost all control of the outbreak and themselves. At 2 o'clock this morning St. John's Church (Roman Catholic), the largest in the city and worth $100,000, was burning, and 600 houses had been destroyed. Some were of brick and some of stone construction, but the majority were wooden buildings. The loss so far reaches $750,000. At least 1,000 families are homeless, and the fire is still spreading. No loss of life is reported but several are missing. The homeless are camped out in fields surrounding the city.

SAYS LEASE A SUBTERFUGE

APPEAL HEARING TO BE CONCLUDED TODAY

All the evidence is now before Judge P. S. Lampman in the appeal taken by Angelo Sposito from the conviction by Police Magistrate Jay on a charge of having beer for sale, contrary to the Liquor Act, which was followed by a sentence of one year in jail. Judge Lampman, who heard evidence produced during the past two days, will hear addresses by counsel this morning.

The contention of the accused is that the wrong person is charged with the offence. Frank Higgins, K.C., who appeared for Sposito, produced evidence to show that Thomas Dickson was the real offender as a subtenant of the floor of the Northern Hotel, where liquor selling was carried on illegally. Dickson went into the witness box and accepted the onus of being the real conductor of the premises. He acknowledged that he was violating the law, but contended that Sposito was not concerned in any way in the transactions.

On the other hand, the contention of the Crown's case in the hands of Claude L. Harrison is that the sublease is a subterfuge. He suggested to the witnesses, who were the principals in the case, that the sublease was entered into after the conviction of Sposito. This was denied by the various witnesses, who were parties to the execution of the lease which was produced in court and which bore date preceding the conviction.

ACCEPTS GUILT

The evidence of Dickson was that he took over the place where the selling of liquor was conducted about the beginning of March. He took the first floor from the street and had the privilege of using the basement. He testified that the agreement constituting a sublease of the premises was signed in the office of J. Percy Wills about the first week in March. He paid $100 a month as rent. Several persons had liquor in stock in the premises, he said, and he kept it for them in the coolest room he had. None of the liquor he had in the place belonged to Sposito.

"Go down and plead guilty instead of me," was what Sposito had told him when he returned to the premises and found the police in possession on the day of the raid.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Harrison, Dickson admitted that he was selling liquor illegally. He had never seen Sposito selling liquor after he had taken over the premises in February.

Asked for his liquor permit, Mr. Harrison called attention to the fact that from March 4 until April 18, only $80 worth of liquor had been purchased. Counsel suggested that this was not a very large amount for a place like the one he was running.

"JUST GETTING BY"

To this witness made the statement that he was "just getting by" with the transaction in a financial way. There was not much liquor sold. He denied that the document constituting the sublease of the premises was signed after the raid was made by the police on May 2.

Going into the history of the signing of the document, which was witnessed by J. O. Cresswell, Dickson said that Cresswell, Sposito and himself went to Mr. Walls' office with the document and signed it there. He was of the opinion that one, or perhaps two, copies were signed in the office of Mr. Walls and one in the Northern Hotel.

Witness recalled that there was some discussion in the Northern Hotel when Mr. Walls was present about the date of the document, but he could not recall just what it was. The document was eventually signed, but he could not recall whether Mr. Walls was the witness to it.

In reply to Mr. Harrison, Dickson denied that Mr. Walls was in the hotel with himself and Sposito in April or May.

The question of the sublease was the subject matter of most of the evidence for the day. Several other witnesses testified to having liquor left at the hotel for safe keeping. A number of witnesses were called to testify to the fact that Sposito did not take pay on the premises for liquor, which was sold. It was Dickson that took the cash, they said.

To his counsel, Mr. Higgins, Sposito gave the information that the reason why he did not produce evidence in the police court on his own behalf was because he had been convicted before and "I knew I stood no chance, but would be committed anyway." He was acting on the advice of his counsel, W. A. Brethour, at the time, he said, adding that he knew the case would have to come to the County Court on appeal.

OWNER TESTIFIES

T. R. Davis, owner of the property, said he had had no objection to a sublease if a good man were put in. He knew that there was illegal selling of liquor and had on occasion had a bottle of beer there himself. He had paid for drinks to Sposito and to Dickson. He had not paid Sposito for any drinks since Dickson took charge.

Later, Sposito recalled, swore that he had not taken pay from Mr. Davis for liquor.

Charles Ballam, who had done plumbing on the premises, said that he had been paid by Dickson for the work done from April. He also testified to Dickson being the one who took the money for drinks after that date.

"There are fifteen places within a radius of 200 yards of the Northern Hotel that are running wide open now. I frequent the Northern as the cleanest and best run of them all," said Ballam, in praise of the character of the Northern.

Before court adjourned last evening, Frank Higgins, K.C., commenced his address in defence of Sposito. He took the ground that because Dickson, who had a sublease of the premises, asked Sposito to "keep an eye" on the place while he went out was not sufficient to constitute him a partner in the business of selling liquor. There was no evidence that Sposito had sold any.

With respect to the sublease it made no difference when the document was signed, he said. There was, at the time of the original leasing of the property by Sposito, an understanding with regard to the giving of a sublease by him. The address of counsel will be continued this morning.

William Bagley to Be Extradited for Trial in B.C. Soon

RECEIVED through the Governor-General's office yesterday, the Provincial Police now hold all Canadian documents necessary for the extradition of William Bagley, wanted for trial on a charge of taking part in the recent Harrison Hot Springs Hotel robbery. United States documents authorizing the transfer of the man held in custody in Washington State will be to hand in a few days, it is expected. Sub-Inspector Shirras, of the Provincial Police, will leave then to take Bagley into custody. The preliminary hearing will be held at Agassiz as soon as Bagley is handed over, Col. J. H. McMullin, commissioner of the Provincial Police, stated yesterday.

RUM RUNNER TO CROSS BORDER

Member of Crew of Pascawa to Be Admitted to United States

SEATTLE, June 10 (AP).—Ivor Siverson, who, as a member of a rum runner's crew, took part in the rescue of nine sailors in a storm off the Washington Coast in 1924, may enter the United States through a ruling at Washington, D.C., which was revealed here today.

The Immigration Bureau was notified that the mariner's appeal from a decision barring him had been upheld. Word of the decision was immediately sent to officials at Vancouver, B.C., where Siverson has been living.

Siverson, a Norwegian, was the engineer of the rum ship Pascawa, which came within the twelve-mile limit to rescue the crew of the sinking American schooner Caoba. Later, the Pascawa's crew was picked up and arrested, and the arrest led immigration officers at Vancouver to refuse admittance to the United States to Siverson.

Canadian Butter Back in Market Of Great Britain

LONDON, June 10 (CP).—"The Empire's reply to the Russian Five-Year Plan," is the description Sir William Wayland, Conservative member of the House of Commons and chairman of the Empire Dairy Council, applies to the increase in imports of Empire butter to Great Britain this year.

During the next few weeks no fewer than forty-six vessels from New Zealand and Australia will bring more than a million boxes of butter to British ports. Canadian butter is once more entering the British market, too, after being absent for five or six years.

NAVAL VETERAN IS BURIED HERE

Impressive Rites Held for H. W. F. King, Prominent Figure in Ex-Service Men's Organizations

With representatives of the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion; the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, Victoria Unit No. 12; the Naval Veterans' Branch of the Canadian Legion; the Britannia Branch and its Ladies' Auxiliary present, the funeral of Henry William Ford King, former manager of the Naval Veterans, was held yesterday with full naval honors.

The cortege left Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlors at 1:30 o'clock and proceeded to St. Paul's Garrison Church, Esquimalt, where service was conducted by Rev. Canon Chadwick. From the church the casket, draped with a Union Jack, and drawn on a gun carriage, was taken to the Naval Cemetery, Esquimalt. At the graveside a firing party, in charge of Gunner Johnson and P.O. McDougall, fired three volleys, and a bugler sounded the Last Post. Poppies distributed to veterans attending the service were deposited in the grave. The pallbearers were Commander C. H. R. Slingsby, Allan Ford, Charles James, Archibald Sangster, G. L. Martin and G. W. M. Mardell.

The many beautiful floral offerings which covered the casket were a silent tribute to the respect held for Mr. King by his many friends and colleagues in this city. Those attending the funeral included: President E. G. Michell and members of the executive of the Naval Veterans; J. Food and C. A. Gill, president and secretary respectively of the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion; G. Gardiner, H. Callow, T. Collin, G. Wilson, W. Pembridge and W. deGruchy, of the Army and Navy Veterans; President T. Dempster, of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, and Mrs. D. Sheret, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Britannia Branch, and other ex-service men and friends.

RAIL HEAD TO EXPLAIN PLAN

Banking Committee to Study E. W. Beatty's Farm Credit Scheme

OTTAWA, June 10 (CP).—E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, will be called before the banking and commerce committee of the House of Commons to give details of his scheme to provide credit for Western farmers going into livestock through the Dominion Agricultural Credit Company.

The committee began consideration of the resolution of W. T. Lucas (U.F.A., Camrose) favoring establishment of a system of intermediate credits for agriculture in order to get all the information available on the question. The committee decided to invite Mr. Beatty to appear before it next week.

RURAL BANKS

At the suggestion of O. Gagnon, (Cons., Dorchester), the committee will also invite an officer of the Caisse Populaire of the Province of Quebec to give details of the system of rural banks in operation in that province. Mr. Gagnon said Quebec had a system of providing farm credits in use for some twenty-five years which had worked very satisfactorily, and thought the committee should study it.

Explaining his resolution, Mr. Lucas said there were two forms of credit available for farmers, long-term land mortgages and short-term bank loans. Bank loans did not meet the need of the farmer because they were granted only for a period of from two to four months, and the period of turnover in farm operations was from six months to a year. Some system was needed whereby farmers could secure stable credit for a longer period.

POINTS TO DIFFICULTIES

There were serious difficulties in the way of working out such a scheme, said Colonel H. A. Mullins (Conservative, Marquette). Many schemes had been tried and had failed.

"I would not give a farmer a bunch of cows and put my money in them under any consideration," he said. "The calves will get away from you and they will milk the cows, and when you come to demand your money you will have nothing but a bunch of old things worth nothing."

He was anxious to support any scheme which would help Western agriculture, said Colonel Mullins, but it would have to be worked out on a business basis. A great deal could be done, he thought, in assisting farmers to feed young cattle. He knew of lots of men who would lend money on young steers at 5 per cent, but he was doubtful about financing the breeding of cattle.

He—Just look at those magnificent ruins.

REFORM PLAN IS EXPLAINED

LEGISLATURE WOULD MEET EVERY MONTH

The "Government Reform Movement," British Columbia's new nonparty party, held open house at the Chamber of Commerce rooms last evening, when the platform of the organization was explained, in abstract. J. Walton, of the Sidney Lumber Company, in the chair, was supported on the platform by T. Guy Sheppard, the president; C. E. Yearwood, vice-president; Rev. Dr. Clem Davies, and Fred Cousins.

After a general attack on all parties, the leaders of the movement explained the provisional platform of the nonparty party, which, it was stated, was as yet in the making and would be worked out at a British Columbia-wide convention that will be summoned later.

The non-party party would operate as a political party for the purpose of wresting the reins of Government at the next election, but after that its party features would be eliminated, it was announced. Branches of the movement were said to be in process of organization at Victoria, Vancouver, Duncan, Kelowna and Fort Fraser, and "at several other places" not named at the gathering.

NEW PLATFORM

"1. To use every endeavor to destroy the party system for all time, and encourage complete registration.

"2. Constituencies to select outstanding citizens of proved integrity and ability.

"3. Complete independence of all members to vote as they think best. The fact that a Government measure does not meet with the approval of the House to cause no resignations. The abolition of the caucus.

"4. Reduction of salaries and number of ministers holding portfolios.

"5. Departments to be run by competent heads, responsible to the Cabinet.

"6. The Civil Service to be reorganized, graded, and made permanent.

"7. No civil servant at present in office to be discharged to make room for supporters of this movement, civil servants to retain their positions except in case of incompetence or the abolition of the office which said civil servant may hold.

CONTINUOUS SESSIONS

"8. The Legislature to be in session all the time with a long vacation in the Summer, otherwise meeting for a month in the Winter and then monthly for a period of from three to six consecutive days, as the business before the House may warrant.

"9. Except in cases where a special committee is required, all bills to be submitted to a committee of the whole House.

"10. All money voted to be itemized and submitted to the House for approval.

"11. Reduction of expenditure and a consequent reduction in the tax levies with special regard to the man or woman with limited means.

"12. The abolition of death duties in the near future and the cancellation of increased income tax levied by the present Government.

"13. The term of Legislature to be reduced to three years. Every member elected to the Provincial House to be subject to recall by his constituents.

Adherents of the nonparty party were expressly warned last night that their support would not win them a position in the Government, if the party were returned, and that on the other hand their support could be best expressed at this time with the taking out of a dollar membership in the reform movement.

NEW CRUSADE

Large contributions, stated the organizers, would not be received, and no appeal would be made to social leaders or outstanding lights in the business world to head the movement, which was explained as a crusade by plain people against the ills of the party system.

On the question of repudiation of the public debt of British Columbia, organizers of the party differed slightly. The point was raised as a question from the floor of the meeting. Mr. Sheppard said that the question of what course would be taken in regard to the public debt would be one for the nonparty Government to decide when it was elected. Mr. Yearwood came out flatfootedly against any talk of repudiation of debts.

Adopting a suggestion from the floor of the meeting, the organizers agreed the reform movement was a spiritual one, to carry out the teachings of Christianity.

It was his hope that the government reform movement woud spread right across Canada, Mr. Walton stated, in opening remarks. Conditions were at a serious pass in the country and the world. Governments had made no apparent effort at curtailment of expenses, in the face of falling revenues, and taxation had become burdensome on the people. The nonparty party aimed to curtail costs and eliminate waste, he stated.

MR. PATTULLO'S ATTRACTION

Mr. Sheppard explained the objects of the government reform movement, which he has been advocating publicly for some months. "We are not Conservative malcontents, contented Liberals, nor Holy Rollers," he averred, "though it is true we hope to roll the party system off the map." Mr. Sheppard attacked the expenditures of the present Provincial administration, and derided the reported statement of the Leader of the Opposition that "people came miles to see" him.

Mr. Yearwood confined himself to a recital of the pamphlet issued by the reform movement, and explained its provisional platform, which, he said, was in abstract, as the platform could only be drafted by a convention of the whole movement later.

"Whatever may be right in these days, party politics is wrong," Dr. Clem Davies stated, in a vigorous support of the nonparty party. "The Government belongs to the people, and we are tired of having the policies of Government directed by half a dozen men behind the scenes," he averred. It would require 75 per cent of the people of the Province to overthrow party administration, and set up the nonparty system, Dr. Davies stated.

Fred Cousins predicted an era of prosperity for the country, if the reform movement succeeded.

Depression Has No Effect on Christie Sales

LONDON, June 10 (CP).—Rich art treasures were sold for good prices at Christie's today, the first day of the sale of the Henry Hirsch collection of old English furniture, Chinese porcelain and old masters. The total of $207,330 was realized for those objects disposed of today.

A pair of Sheraton marquetry commodes, probably made for the Prince Regent, realized $8,100, and $12,100 was paid for a Chippendale mahogany writing table. A Chippendale mahogany settee was sold for $6,800. Of the Chinese porcelain, $7,600 was paid for a couple of early Hang-He figures. A set of three late Ming pictures brought $6,550.

HONOR CONDUCTOR AT BEACH PICNIC

MAJOR HARRY WATTS

Members of four choirs, yesterday afternoon and evening, held a picnic at Willows Beach in honor of the birthday of Major Harry Watts, conductor of each of the choirs. The choirs present were the Fairfield United Church Choir, the Fairfield Choral Society, the David Spencer Choir and the Mandra Choir.

The feature of the gathering was the presentation to the guest of honor of a large birthday cake, inscribed as follows: "Three Cheers and Birthday Greetings to Major Watts." Following the presentation, three rousing cheers were given the recipient, who thanked the donors for their felicitations and gifts. Major Watts has worked untiringly for the four groups.

The afternoon and early evening were spent in games and sport events for the children and women, after which competitions in choral work were enjoyed. A banquet supper was served in Allan's pavilion. Later the gathering joined in community singing led by Major Watts. Dancing and a bonfire on the beach brought the enjoyable party to a close.

The committee in charge of the proceedings was directed by Owen N. Smyth, assisted by T. Dalziel, who acted as secretary, and four representatives from each of the choirs.

City and District

Chamber Directors—There will be a special luncheon meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow at noon, for the consideration of urgent business.

Case Remanded—Facing a charge of unlawful possession of opium, Billy Yee, Chinese, was yesterday remanded until Friday for hearing. The case will be heard in the City Police Court before Magistrate George Jay.

On Hospital Board—F. C. Campbell, H. L. Collins and John D. Kennedy were appointed by order-in-council yesterday to the board of management of the Royal Columbian Hospital, New Westminster, to represent the Province.

To Mail Bills—Mailing of the tax bills to Saanich property owners will start about the end of the week, with the distribution being completed near the end of July. The tax rate is twenty-eight mills, the same as last year.

Board to Meet—A special meeting of the Saanich School Board to discuss with J. W. Rowlands the matter of purchasing a portion of his property on Carey Road as a school site, will be held at Royal Oak Municipal Hall tonight at 8 o'clock.

Aid Diamond Jubilee—In aid of the British Columbia Diamond Jubilee celebration, the Provincial Government yesterday voted a grant of $4,000, which will be handed to the committee in charge of preparations for the affair. The grant was ratified by order-in-council.

Northern Celebrations—Arrangements have been made for an Alaska-British Columbia celebration to be held at Hyder, Premier and Stewart, from July 18 to July 20, inclusive. The committee which is arranging the event describes the celebration as being centred in "North America's Last Great Frontier."

Appointed Deputy — Edward Cooper has been appointed as deputy to act in the place of Norman Baker, superannuation commissioner, during the latter's absence in the East, where he is going to gather actuarial data in connection with British Columbia pension schemes. The temporary appointment was made by order-in-council yesterday.

To Address Luncheon—Charles C. Thompson, of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and first vice-president of the National Association of Life Underwriters, will address the Victoria Life Underwriters' Association at a luncheon meeting at 12 noon in Spencer's dining-room today on "Developing Good Citizens."

In New Uniforms—All dressed up in their new uniforms, members of Victoria's police force will make their debut on the streets at 3 o'clock today when the afternoon shift goes on duty. Preceding the public appearance, a dress parade at 2 o'clock will be held at the police station, when members of the police commission will view the force.

Enjoy Band Concert—The first of a series of mid-week band concerts to be rendered during the Summer season by the Shrine and Sixteenth Scottish bands, was given at Beacon Hill Park last night and enjoyed by a large gathering of park visitors. The programme last night was by the Sixteenth Scottish and included classical and semi-classical numbers.

Installation Tonight — President-elect J. Percy Watson and other recently chosen officials of the Victoria Rotary Club will be installed in their respective posts tonight at the annual banquet of the organization, which will be held in the Empress Hotel, commencing at 7 o'clock. A play will be given by members of the Mimes and Masquers' Guild. Dancing will conclude the evening's programme.

Where Was the Fire?—The red light on the switchboard at the fire department headquarters flicked, the operator plugged in and was greeted by a feminine voice, telling him that there was a fire at 1039 McClure Street. This was about 10:47 o'clock last night. Less than five minutes later the same voice was heard at fire headquarters, this time saying that the fire was out.

Oak Bay Rose Show—Entries for the Oak Bay Rose Society's annual rose show to be held at the Crystal Garden on Saturday, June 20, will officially close on June 16, but entries will be received up to 10 o'clock on the morning of the show, it has been arranged. One of the features of the show this year will be the school children's competition for the best decorated rose table. In this competition the children will arrange their own tables for decorative effect.

Committed for Trial — Charged with the theft of an automobile, Robert Henry Clough was yesterday committed for trial by Magistrate George Jay in the City Police Court. A motion by H. Tait, defence counsel, for dismissal of the charge on the grounds that the prosecution had failed to make out a case of theft, was refused by the court. The committal followed evidence of arrest given by Corporal A. Mustart, of the British Columbia Provincial Police, Duncan. Other testimony had been previously entered.

Adjust Fees Payable—Registration of the school sites of Fairview, Strathcona and Central Schools in Vancouver at a blanket fee of $300, instead of the ordinary fee that would have had to be applied on a higher valuation, will be accepted by the Government in view of special circumstances surrounding the case, it was announced at the Legislative Buildings yesterday, after the Cabinet had passed on the matter. The Vancouver School Board neglected to register the sites on acquisition, and their registration now would be normally attended by much higher fees, based on the increased value of the properties.

Ruling Is Made—Tuition of private pupils in some Vancouver city schools, recently complained of by the Department of Education when grants in respect to these schools were sought from the Government, will not be interfered with in the current school term, it was stated yesterday on behalf of the Government. The Vancouver School Board will be given until the opening of the next school term, in September, to adjust the matter, and to comply fully with the requirements of the school regulations in this regard, it was intimated. The ruling was made a definition of the law, and not as the will of opinion of the Government.

Roads Watched—Barring a careful check on the roads leading to the district where John R. McFarlane, formerly time clerk at Revelstoke on the Big Bend highway construction work, was last sighted, and circulation of a police description of the man wanted for trial on a charge of forging signatures to payroll cheques for his own benefit no fresh development had occurred in the case up to a late hour last evening, according to the headquarters of the provincial police. It has now been definitely established that there were no cheques signed in blank, and that the missing warrants were payroll cheques made out to workers on the highway job.

University School Swim Stars Smash Records in Annual Water Gala

Swimming records fell before the onslaughts of the University School aquatic stars at the annual regatta, Tuesday afternoon, in the school tank. The youngsters displayed fine form and bettered times in practically every race, while they showed great improvement in the diving events.

Davis used a strong stroke in the winning of the sixty-yard event, finishing a few inches in front of Fitzgerald. Mercer gained third place with Blakey a close fourth. Davis' time was clocked at thirty-seven seconds.

Martin clipped almost five seconds from the school record in winning the forty-yard race for boys under fourteen, covering the distance in twenty-five and three-fifths seconds. Squire was second and Dunlop a good third. Martin ii captured the forty-yard event for boys under twelve, with S. Brown in second place.

Davis won the senior diving, while Martin ii walked off with the junior laurels. Hager gained second place in the senior event and Hunter was second in the junior diving.

The Shawnigan ake Women's Institute met at t home of Mrs. Winters, Rosedale Inn, recently, with Mrs. Gannon resident, in the chair and seventee members present. Several letters were read. The institute's annual ubscription was sent to the Leagu of Nations Society, Victoria. Sgestions offered by Mrs. Stewart regarding the "Canadian Goods Label" competition for junior classes at the public school were much appreciated. Prizes for the same are to be given by the institute. A donation of $5 was voted by members of the institute for the purpose of purchasing ice cream for the public school children's annual picnic. Miss Stone, of the Solarium, gave a very interesting account of the sixty-five children under treatment there. Mrs. Macdonald, convener of institute work and method for S.V.I., gave a most inspiring address, which was much appreciated by all present. Many suggestions for the Summer sale were offered.

Many Attend Knox Church Garden Party

Gratifying success attended the garden party held yesterday under the auspices of Knox Presbyterian Church Ladies' Aid, at the home of its pastor, Rev. J. S. Patterson, and Mrs. Patterson, 878 Esquimalt Road, over one hundred members and friends of the congregation attending the event, which continued in the evening in the form of a musical evening, arranged to give the choir and members of the Young People's Society an opportunity of being present.

The event was formally opened by Professor E. M. Straight, superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Sidney, who gave a most interesting address.

Popular attractions included novelty, candy, ice cream and home cooking tables arranged at intervals around the large garden, which was at its best with a profusion of flowers and shrubs, and tea was served on the wide veranda.

Vocal numbers rendered by Mrs. Gosse and Mrs. Patterson contributed to the enjoyment of the function, which was considered a decided success, socially and financially.

Clubs and Societies

Liberal Women's Forum

The regular monthly meeting of the Liberal Women's Forum will be held in its headquarters, corner Government and Broughton Streets, tomorrow afternoon, at 2:45 o'clock. M. B. Jackson, K.C., will be the speaker.

Loyal True Blues

A box social will be held tomorrow in Hatt's Hall, 1414 Douglas Street, under the auspices of Capital City 308. Members are asked to bring as many friends as possible, each lady to bring refreshments for two. There will be cards and games.

Guides' Fete Offers Many Attractions

The annual garden fete of the Girl Guides, to be held at Government House, on Saturday, June 13, will again have the popular pipers of the 16th Canadian Scottish band in attendance.

The opening ceremony will be performed at 3 o'clock by His Honor the Administrator, and the salute of the Guides will be taken by Mrs. Alan Morkill, provincial commissioner. Premier and Mrs. Tolmie have signified their intention of being present.

Afternoon tea will be served in the old rose garden by the ladies of the local association, and there will be stalls of home cooking and novelties in charge of Guides and Brownies. Other attractions include ice cream and hot dog stands, cocoanut ahies, Humpty-Dumpty, shooting galleries, wheel of fortune, fishpond, lucky dip, prize pig, tip-tap-toe, fortune telling and other competitions. Ponies will be available for rides for the little ones, and other popular attractions have been arranged.

INSTITUTE FETE IS SUCCESSFUL

Members of the Esquimalt Women's Institute were justly pleased with the success of their garden party, held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Booth, 923 Esquimalt Road, nearly one hundred attending the event, which was opened by Mrs. Sutherland Brown, who was welcomed by Mrs. Cave, president, and introduced to the gathering. Following this ceremony, Mrs. Brown was presented with a bouquet of gladioli and roses by Kenneth Douglas, small son of Mrs. W. Douglas, on behalf of the institute.

The various stalls were well patronized. They were convened as follows: Sewing and novelties, Mrs. Holligan and Mrs. G. Pocock; ice cream, Mrs. Kennedy; home cooking, Mrs. Hansen and Mrs. Cresline; afternoon teas, Mrs. McLean, Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Stewart, and candy, Mrs. Roger.

Mrs. Brooker, a member of the institute for many years, was tendered a warm welcome at the fete following her recent severe illness.

QUADRA P.-T.A. WILL HOLD SCHOOL CONCERT

Under the auspices of the Quadra Parent-Teacher Association, a concert will be held in the school auditorium on Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The first part of the programme will be given by the children of the school, while the latter part will take the form of a comedy sketch, given by local talent. The proceeds are in aid of the piano fund. Parents and friends are invited to attend.

Somenos

The W.A. of St. Mary's Church, Somenos, held their regular meeting on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. L. Dunkley, Island Highway. There were eleven members present, including Miss Delston, an ardent church worker in England, who is at present visiting Mrs. A. Bischlager. A donation of $15 was voted to the church funds. Arrangements were made for the garden fete to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Jobling on July 9. The hostess served tea at the close of the meeting.

* * *

Mrs. William Gadsden, of Stradford Crossing, has returned home after visiting Mrs. Bearpark, Cedar Hill Road, Victoria.

* * *

Miss Alice Beattie, nurse-in-training at the St. Joseph's Hospital, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. C. Buckmaster, "Holmeside," en route to Powell River.

* * *

The Women's Missionary Society, of Duncan United Church, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hargin, Island Highway, on Tuesday afternoon. There was a good attendance of members and friends. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. John Baker and Mrs. Seryup, served tea in the social hour which followed.

Fashion Flashes

The shades of day are manifold, several shades being often used in one frock. For instance, a smart afternoon frock in crepe uses mulberry, nude and dull red most successfully, while yet another model uses navy, bright and aquamarine blue.

The tunic is toned to the demands of the season and is seen on all kinds of Spring things. A Canton crepe dress in aquamarine, featuring scallops at tunic edge, hem and sleeves, is rendered even more smart by the moderately long tunic.

All coated over with smartness are the new blue and white coats. A model of blue wool crepe uses white in the form of white silk pique facings which button in place with large blue buttons. There is a belt with a white and blue enamel buckle.

The rabbit leaps for joy that he is so sartorially smart in the form of lapin. One of the newest scarves is of white lapin in a slip-through cravat model, smartly piped with narrow black satin.

A detached air is to be observed on several of the new coats, this being due to a detachable scarf or cape. Very smart is a dress of grey nubbed tweed with coral buttons which has an oddly cut detachable scarf of self fabric edged with a broad band of silver fox.

V.O.N. Report Busy May With 1,003 Cases

A total of 1,003 cases were attended by the Victorian Order of Nurses during May, the report of the head nurse, Miss Thornley, showed at the regular monthly meeting. New patients nursed during the month numbered 148, of which 106 were medical, ten communicable, three surgical, fourteen prenatal, five obstetrical, five infants of obstetrical cases and ten postnatal. Four clinics were held and two classes, while the number of meetings attended was five, three of which were addressed by the V.O.N. nurse present. Altogether 196 child welfare visits were made during the month, and an additional 210 others were made by the nurses in connection with instructive and tubercular work.

Miss Thornley reported that the preventive work was kept well in mind, as shown in the statistics that 434 educational visits were made, while educational work is also carried on in connection with prenatal work, thirty-six of which cases were carried during the month. The total number of nursing visits was 569.

Donations acknowledged for May were from the following: Cash, C. F. Todd, D. J. Angus, B.C. Electric Railway Co., Miss King, National Motor Co., Kiwanis Club, B.C. Funeral Co., B. C. Nicholas, E. W. McMullen and City of Victoria; and "in kind" from Ready to Help Circle of the King's Daughters, per Mrs. Haynes, Hampshire Road; Girls' Auxiliary, Bishop Cridge Chapter, layette; Mrs. Yarrow, Mrs. Gregory, Miss Giverns, Miss Heisterman, Miss McClellan, Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Weston, Mr. Justice A. E. McPhillips, Mrs. Cameron, Glenshiel Hotel, Miss Stretfield, Mrs. E. Jones, Mrs. Ashworth, Mrs. Poultney, Mrs. W. Dick, Mrs. Ross Sutherland, Mrs. Fletcher and others.

NANAIMO W.C.T.U. MEETS

NANAIMO, June 10.—At the home of Mrs. Bradford, Vancouver Avenue, yesterday afternoon, the W.C.T.U. met and held an enjoyable parlor session.

Rev. R. J. McIntyre, president of the Prohibition Society, gave a very interesting and educational address. He dealt with the drink habit and drink traffic in Russia, Japan, France, Germany, Italy and the United States, coming back to the economic situation in Canada. He said there was hard work ahead and great difficulties, but he hoped that the boys and girls of today would see the total abolition of the drink traffic.

Arrangements are being made to have Mr. McIntyre return in the Fall. Those taking part in the musical programme were: Miss Olive Dunsmore, solo, "My Prayer"; the Misses Grace Clements and Winnie Coveney, duet, "Charity"; Mrs. W. Manson, solo, "In the Time of Roses"; and Miss Annie Dunsmore, solo, "The Mission of a Rose."

At the close, refreshments were served by the members, bringing a very enjoyable afternoon to a close. Miss Annie Dunsmore acted as accompanist for the musical programme.

Mrs. Fred W. Bartholomew, nee Hare, received for the first time since her marriage on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Beach Drive. She was assisted in receiving her guests by her mother, Mrs. H. Hare, Mrs. J. Bartholomew and her bridesmaid, Miss Lucille Hall. For the occasion the young hostess wore her lovely wedding gown. The reception-rooms were charmingly arranged with delphiniums, snapdragons and Canterbury bells, while a centrepiece of pale blue delphiniums, pink roses and white carnations adorned the tea table with tall pink tapers in silver sconces at each side. Presiding at the table were Miss Ann Hogg, Mrs. Fred McGregor, Mrs. F. Jordan and Mrs. E. H. M. Foot, while those assisting in serving included Mrs. Ernest Evans, Miss Helen Crawford, Miss Gwen Wood and Miss Vicky Gardiner. Miss Margaret Vantreight attended the door.

PREMIER'S HOME SCENE OF FETE

Mrs. S. F. Tolmie Opens Event Held Under King's Daughters' Auspices

Despite uncertain weather conditions, the garden party held at "Cloverdale," yesterday afternoon, was a pronounced success, more than one hundred attending the event, which was held under the auspices of the King's Daughters. The lovely old gardens of Premier Tolmie's historic home furnished an ideal setting for the various attractions, and the visitors delighted in the opportunity of exploring the many delightfully informal centres of interest about the grounds.

The event was formally declared open by Mrs. Tolmie, with a warm welcome to the visitors and members of the order, in whose benevolent work she expressed the keenest interest. Mrs. L. H. Hardie, district president, received the patrons, among whom were many representatives of local women's organizations.

POPULAR FEATURES

One of the popular attractions of the fete was the attractive programme of dance numbers presented by Cecily Brown, Anna Peden, Gladys Harrison and Shirley Anderson, pupils of Miss Violet Fowkes, and Highland dances performed by Adeline Grant.

Tea was served at tables arranged on the lawn, the arrangements being in the capable hands of Mrs. J. McElfrish, Mrs. A. T. Harvey, Mrs. Kent, Mrs. A. M. Perry, Mrs. H. D. Brumpton, Miss Gill and Mrs. Sharp, with Misses Helena Ward, Doreen Dodsworth, Marjorie Dodsworth, Agnes Spaven, Alma Hoare, Doris Boniface and Jean Brown.

Other attractions were directed as follows: home cooking, Mesdames W. G. Cameron, H. Dorrell, W. M. Allan and H. Ward; ice cream, Mrs. F. O. Elliott and Miss B. Morley; balloons and clock golf, Misses Kathleen Roberts, Amy Conyers, E. Clearihue and Jessie Gordon. Mrs. R. A. Playfair and Mrs. Lloyd had charge of the tea tickets, and Mrs. W. Russell and Mrs. Watson presided over the gate receipts.

TEA IN NANAIMO AIDS BOY SCOUTS

NANAIMO, June 10.—The last tea of the season in aid of Boy Scout funds was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. E. Corfield. Roses, pinks, snapdragons and delphiniums were in profusion and the green lawn with cherry trees laden with fruit made an ideal setting for a party. Mrs. Corfield and Mrs. R. T. Wilson, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Boy Scouts, received the guests. Mrs. F. King and Mrs. J. W. Dawe were joint conveners, and assisting were Mrs. T. D. James, Mrs. J. Hughes and Mrs. N. Roy, and Mrs. Levi Dendoff read tea fortunes. The Aunt Sally in the garden was very popular and caused much amusement, Stewart Clark and Bert Welch having charge of this feature. The silk stockings donated by Mrs. W. H. Anderson were won by Mrs. J. W. Dawe, and the hand-painted salt and pepper shakers donated by Mrs. L. Lawrence were won by Mrs. A. Young, East Wellington.

Nanaimo Board of Trade Seeks to Raise $100,000 For Work for Unemployed

NANAIMO, June 10.—At its regular meeting on Tuesday, the Board of Trade decided to send a letter to Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, expressing appreciation of the splendid manner in which he has helped the local coal situation, including his successful endeavor to have coal-burning apparatus installed in the new Canadian National hotel in Vancouver.

OBJECTIVE $100,000

The subject of unemployment was introduced by President Mitchell and discussion ensued. Telegrams were read, one being from R. R. Hindmarch to Premier Bennett, drawing attention to the local situation, also to the Federal Ministers and local members. Replies were read from the following: Hon. G. Robertson, Minister of Labor; Hon. H. H. Stevens, C. H. Dickie, A. W. Neil and Hon. R. W. Bruhn. The purport of the replies was that the Federal Government is prepared to share its part of the burden by paying one-third, the Province to pay one-third, and municipalities a similar amount.

The board's objective was, said Mr. Mitchell, to try and secure $100,000, and that the money be used on the opening up of such roads as that to the Nanaimo Lakes, the Marine Drive and the Mount Benson Road, and that local unemployed be given the work.

ALTERNATIVE PROPOSAL

Mr. Martindale thought money could be used more profitably if it was expended for new industries, giving a good suggestion such as the erection of a factory for the putting up of preserves. It was finally decided that the board get in touch with the council, and that a satisfactory reply be sent to Hon. G. Robertson's communication with reference to the grant of direct relief by the local council. R. R. Hindmarch, W. W. R. Mitchell, Shelby Saunders and Arthur Leighton were appointed a committee to meet the Minister of Labor on his arrival here within a few days and discuss the situation fully.

FARMERS' MARKET

For the agricultural committee, Arthur Leighton reported that his committee recommended that the Kiwanis Club, in its movement for a farmers' market, be heartily supported. Two other resolutions in regard to reverted Crown lands being made available for unemployed for homesteads and that lists of reverted lands be prepared and made available for the public through the Board of Trade, were also adopted.

Mr. Rudd, for the harbor and fisheries committee, reported that Mr. Ford, assistant district engineer, had not yet received authority to spend any money on the reconditioning of the Farmers' Landing, although provision had been made in the estimates for the work.

A resolution for the certification of foreign invoices was endorsed by the railway and transportation committee.

A resolution from the Duncan Chamber of Commerce asking for reduction of salaries of ministers and civil servants was left in abeyance until the next meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade.

From station CKWX comes a letter giving detailed methods of its system of advertising and suggesting that the board avail itself of the station's service. The matter was referred to the publicity committee.

NANAIMO'S CLIMATE

Mr. Mitchell brought up the question of Nanaimo meteorological reports. He said a man in Nanaimo was paid $200 to give this information. It does, he said, appear in The Victoria Colonist, but the Vancouver papers fail to carry this information. According to statistics Nanaimo has the best climate, but few knew it outside of Nanaimo. The matter was left in the hands of the executive for investigation.

W. McAdam, secretary for the Agent-General in London, acknowledged receiving a list of suitable industries for Nanaimo, and assured the board of his intention to do his best for the city.

A communication from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in regard to the census of merchandising was referred to the Retail Merchants' Association.

James McMaster, of the P. Burns Co., was accepted for membership in the board and welcomed by President W. W. R. Mitchell.

SHELL BEACH ROAD PLANNED

Ladysmith Board of Trade Backs Project—Scenic Footpath Preserved

LADYSMITH, June 9.—According to a communication to the Board of Trade, which held the regular monthly session this evening, the Minister of Public Works at Victoria is prepared to preserve the bridges over the Holland Creek glen, on the discarded portion of the Island Highway at Ladysmith, for pedestrian traffic, if the bridges engineer gives a satisfactory report on the safety of the structures.

SCENIC FOOTPATH

The Stewart's Hill road, now abandoned, and the two adjacent bridges, traverse an extremely pleasing scene, long a favorite with residents of the district and visiting tourists, and the action of the Public Works Department is in answer to a request by the Board of Trade that the attraction be preserved by a foot road.

TO URGE SHORE ROAD

A delegation from the unemployed of the district, headed by G. Gold, signified their intention of assisting the Board of Trade in the effort towards securing necessary local work to relieve the present serious situation around the city. In this connection it was decided to arrange for joint co-operation of a committee of the board, the City Council and the unemployment committees, to place conditions fairly before the Public Works Department at an early opportune moment. Immediate construction of a shore road to Shell Beach will be urged as an essential item for local development and for the provision of relief work.

The meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island will be held in Duncan around the middle of next month. Messrs. King and Stevenson will represent the Ladysmith board at the session.

Humane Society Awards Medal to S. Pitt, Duncan

HAMILTON, June 10 (CP).—At a meeting of the board of investigating governors of the Royal Humane Association, yesterday, the following were among the awards granted:

Bronze Medals—Sidney Pitt, Duncan, British Columbia, for his action in the rescue of Robert J. Anderson, from electrocution at Duncan, B.C., April 25, 1929.

Parchment Certificates — Harry Whelan, Vancouver, B.C., for the rescue of R. P. Baker, from drowning at Vancouver, April 18, 1931. Gerland D. Nelson, Rosedale, B.C., for the rescue of H. Buckingham, from drowning in Camp River, Rosedale, B.C., July 7, 1930.

Fete Day to Be Held in Sidney Upon Labor Day

SIDNEY, June 10.—The Sidney Board of Trade met Tuesday evening at the Wesley Hall for its regular monthly meeting. Vice-President A. W. Hollands in the chair.

Following the report of a committee on the condition of the trees planted along Beacon Avenue, it was decided to press for the general improvement of the boulevard, with the intention of devoting adequate care and attention to the trees and the side of the highway in future, and consequently achieve a more pleasing approach to the town. That portion of the boulevard opposite the Memorial Park has recently been improved in the manner suggested for the whole length of Beacon Avenue, and it is very evident that such a completed boulevard would be decidedly attractive.

The committee arranging for the construction of the Torrishento gateway to the district recommended that the arch should be placed at the highest point of the highway at the entry to the district, and it was decided to arrange for a fete day to be held on Labor Day to raise funds for this purpose.

Mr. Critchley reported his attendance at the Fire Chiefs' Convention recently held in Vancouver as representing the Sidney Volunteer Fire Brigade, and a vote of thanks was passed thanking him for his services.

Mr. Cowell asked the board to accept his resignation as fire chief, and requested the board to assume the responsibility of reorganization of the volunteer fire brigade. In consequence of this request, it was decided to ask A. Critchley to act as provisional fire chief and to cooperate with a committee of the board in the matter of reorganization of the brigade and to report to the next meeting. The committee was named as follows: W. Cowell, Rev. Thomas Keyworth, S. Roberts and D. Sparling.

Farm Products Market Letter

The market news letter issued by the Provincial Department of Agriculture, under date of June 10, says:

Victoria—Due to rain here the local market is being supplied with strawberries out of storage. The wholesale price is $2.50 per crate for No. 1 berries and $2.00 for No. 2.

Rain was general throughout the Fraser Valley yesterday and little prospect of clearing. All picking was for jam, Processing commenced at New Westminster. No strawberry cars are going forward, and when the weather clears only British Soverign variety will be shipped from there.

Calgary reported receiving 600 crates of strawberries L.C.L. These were moving very slowly on account of rain. The rain on the main line should slow up L.C.L. shipments and give the Calgary and Edmonton markets a chance to clean up.

Saskatoon—The weather has been clear and scarcely any rain has fallen. Business is only fair. A straight car of Maple Ridge strawberries arrived here on Monday morning in very good condition and of good quality. They are moving fairly well at $2.50 per crate wholesale and two hallocks for 35 cents retail.

The movement to country points is light and not much preserving is being done at above price. A car of British Columbia vegetables containing cauliflower, head lettuce, spinach and green vegetables arrived here in good condition and is selling readily. There should be a good market here for fresh green vegetables for some time as the local gardens are progressing very slowly. British Columbia hothouse tomatoes are due to arrive here at the end of the week, but as the market is at present stocked with two cars of Texas tomatoes only a slow movement can be expected. The Texas field cucumbers, that arrived here about two weeks ago, are slowly being cleaned up.

Toronto—British Columbia hothouse tomatoes of good quality arrived yesterday and selling slowly at $3.75. Texas tomatoes of good quality and cheap at $1.00 f.o.b. Lots of local hothouse tomatoes and prospects for British Columbia hothouse product poor.

Courtenay-Comox Board Proposes Excursion Train

COURTENAY, June 10. — The Courtenay-Comox Board of Trade held a busy session on Tuesday night. An interesting feature was the report of C. S. Wood, who accompanied W. G. Oliver, photographer, and Mr. Husband, manager of the Vancouver Island Coach Lines, last week into the Forbidden Plateau. Mr. Wood was warmly thanked for his report.

Dredging of the Courtenay River slough for the use of fishing and other boats was discussed, and the matter will be further taken up with the Federal Public Works Department. The resolutions committee will prepare a suitable proposal covering an amendment in the present rate of charges for cars on the Vancouver-Nanaimo ferry service for presentment at the convention of the Vancouver Island Boards of Trade to be held at Duncan July 15 and 16, for which the president, vice-president and secretary were appointed delegates.

A quantity of other business, including a suggestion that a fast E. & N. Sunday excursion train be run up The Island during the Summer months, was dealt with.

Obituary

CUMBERLAND, June 10.—The funeral of Mrs. Anna Stockand, beloved wife of David Stockand, who passed away on Sunday evening, took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of her sister, Mrs. David Bell, Maryport Avenue, and was very largely attended, many members of the Women's Benefit Association, of which deceased was a member, attending and conducting the services at the home and at the graveside in the Cumberland cemetery. The deceased lady was in her thirty-fourth year, a native of Kelty, Fifeshire, Scotland, and came to this city about seven years ago with her sister, Mrs. D. Bell. She was well known by a large circle of friends whose sympathy will be extended the bereaved husband and sister, the only surviving relatives.

Warn Merchants Against Gang of Cheque Forgers

VANCOUVER, June 10.—Storekeepers have been warned by police to be careful in the matter of cashing pay cheques. The warning came as a result of the operation in Vancouver of a gang which is passing forged pay cheques drawn on well-known firms. The gang operates on Saturday of each week, so that merchants who cash the cheques are not aware that they have been victimized until several days later. A dozen of these worthless cheques, for amounts ranging from $22 to $45, were passed last Saturday. Those tendering the cheques are disguised as workmen.

The police advise that merchants cash pay cheques only in the case of persons known to them.

AWARDS DAMAGES OF 85 PER CENT

VANCOUVER, June 10.—Finding that defendants, Alex P. Madden, district electrician of the C.N.R., and his nineteen-year-old son, James Madden, were 85 per cent at fault, Mr. Justice Fisher, in Supreme Court, ordered them to pay that proportion of $7,317 damages which he awarded plaintiff, James Sandison, shingle sawyer.

Sandison had both kneecaps broken on December 9 when struck by a motor car, owned by the elder Madden and driven by the son.

Following a two-day trial, the judge found that plaintiff was 15 per cent to blame and defendants 85 per cent.

Wife (at breakfast)—"I want to do some shopping today, dear, if the weather is favorable. What does the paper say?"

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Serve Hospitality's Symbol

Dixie Liked It . . Now Canada Prefers It

"GOOD to the LAST DROP"

ALWAYS has the South been famous for hospitality — good things to eat and to drink. So that, quite naturally, Dixie's favourite coffee was first served at a famous old inn, the Maxwell House, Nashville, Tennessee.

Maxwell House was first produced by a Southerner—an expert in coffee. Over and over he tested many coffees until his dream of better coffee flavour was realized — a delicate, delicious blend.

Dixie's Favourite Coffee Famous Everywhere

From Nashville the fame of it spread abroad. Before long visitors wanted to serve Maxwell House at home. Now you can serve this prince of coffees, for Maxwell House, in these modern times, has quickly become everyone's favourite. Vacuum packed in the Canadian Maxwell House plant, Canadian homes enjoy Maxwell House as fresh when opened as if it had just been ground. Your grocer sells Maxwell House in the familiar blue tin.

Fresher Coffee Is Not Made

When you open a Maxwell House vacuum-sealed tin the coffee is exactly as it was when it left the grinder. None of its aroma has escaped because vacuum sealing makes the tin air-tight. Chemical action cannot take place to change the flavour. Fresher than coffee packed any other way and even one day old. The tight lid keeps it better after you open it.

RECORD FIELD ENTERS COLONIST BICYCLE RACE

J. B. A. A. Oarsmen Preparing for Big Regatta to Be Held on July 1

Formidable Crews Will Face Starter In Holiday Event

Three Trophies Will Be Up for Competition When Local Oarsmen Strive for Laure' on Dominion Day—Andy MacLachlan to L nd Singles Honors Against Hughie Francis

Great Improvement Made at Club

With the crews going through their paces every day and reported to be in excellent condition, the annual July 1 regatta to be staged on the Gorge waters under the auspices of the J.B.A.A., is expected to be one of the best in recent years and one of the highlights of the Dominion Day sports celebration. Officials of the veteran athletic association are busy making arrangements with hopes of putting on one of the best programmes of the season.

Workmen were busy yesterday putting the finishing touches to the new grandstand at the rear of the clubhouse. The stand is directly opposite the finishing line, and the spectators will have a clear view of the various races. In front of the grandstand a new platform and judges' float have been built, and will be used for the first time at the forthcoming regatta. Further improvements will be made before the event, and the large crowd expected will have better facilities than at any time before.

TROPHIES AT STAKE

Three prized pieces of silverware will be up for competition, the City of Victoria Cup, Sons of Canada and Times perpetual trophies. Competition of the sharpest character should hold sway with the various crews seeking the trophies. Andy MacLachlan, one of the club's star rowers, captured The Times perpetual trophy last year in the singles, and will be out again to defend his laurels with Hughie Francis opposing him. Both MacLachlan and Francis are in fine shape and a merry race is expected.

In the through Victoria doubles, Dan Moses, club captain, will team up with Ray Ditchburn against Hughie Francis, and Art Speed in what should be one of the best events on the programme. Moses and Ditchburn will face the starter strong favorites, but they will have to be in first class shape as Francis and Speed have been making fast times in trials and may take the two club stars into camp. Art Eagel and Alan Wright are also expected to start.

In the race for the Sons of Canada Cup, Rex Askey's crew will have their hands full when they stack up against a squad under the skippership of Art Speed. During the past few weeks, Speed's fours have chalked up some fast times for the distance, and will be out to lower the colors of their opponents, who boast of a great quartette of oarsmen. Besides Askey, Noel Jones, Jack Dunn and Len Backler will occupy the shell, while Speed, Jimmy Mann, Bill Dillabough and Archie Osman will comprise the challengers.

At least three more races will be added to the programme when the rowing committee meets Monday evening at the club at 8 o'clock to make further plans. A 140-pound fours and a 140-pound novice doubles will be carded.

The shell presented to the club by Lieutenant-Governor R. Randolph Bruce has arrived from Putney, England, and is one of the finest boats to be sent from the Old Country. Whether or not the shell will be used on July 1 is not yet known. It will be christened in the near future and will be named the Bruce shell. Following the regatta, the oarsmen will hold a dance at the Empress Hotel.

RUGBY CHAMPS MAY NOT TOUR

Announcement of Western Trip Declared Premature in East

TORONTO, June 10 (CP).—In its sporting columns today The Globe publishes the following:

"Announcement that the Balmy Beach football team will make a tour of Western Canada next September seems to be premature. The Canadian champions hope to make this tour, but arrangements have not been completed, according to a statement made by Ken Cawkell last night.

"It appears that the Western club officials are willing to furnish guarantees, but they all seek Saturday games, and this is impossible. Vancouver authorities have done nothing definite, and it may be that they are not interested, a rather remarkable situation in view of the fact that capacity crowds saw the Hamilton Tigers play in both games at Vancouver last September.

"The trip will be robbed of much of its glamor if Vancouver is not on the itinerary, as there will be no sightseeing jaunt through the Rocky Mountains and to Jasper Park and Banff, Calgary, the foothills of the Rockies.

"If Balmy Beach go West, twenty-four players will be taken along, and the games will be played during the first three weeks of September. Tigers made the error of touring with only twenty-one men, and the team didn't get back to the Mountain City until October 7."

Jack Johnson To Appear in Exhibition Go

OAKLAND, June 10 (AP).—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion, and Jose Santa, 241-pound Portuguese, were signed today for a three-round exhibition here, June 17. The bout will top the regular programme.

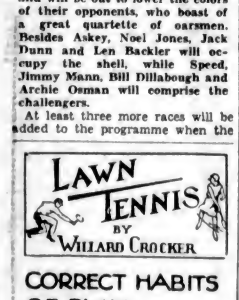

FREDDIE STEELE WINS FROM OWENS

SEATTLE, June 10 (AP).—Winning four of the six rounds, Freddie Steele, Tacoma welterweight, conquered Jimmy Owens, of Enid, Okla., in a sizzling main event of a boxing show here tonight. Steele weighed 145 3-4 pounds and Owens, 146.

George Dixon, Portland middleweight, scored a technical knockout over Paul Delaney, Seattle, in the third round of the scheduled six-round semi-final.

Billy Petrie, Vancouver, B.C., lightweight, sprung a surprise when he won over Ah Wing Lee, clever Portland Chinese, in six rounds. Petrie lost the third round when he was knocked down twice, but he captured all the rest.

II—PLAYS AND THEIR MEANING

Every stroke—good or bad— has a definite meaning in the scheme of play. The result of that stroke causes the player harm or good. Realize the deeper significance of each shot you play, for it has an important bearing on each point you win or lose, and consequently a real significance on the results you attain. Have a reason for every ball you hit. Choose your play long before the ball comes to you. If you determine the ball should go to your opponent's backhand corner on the next shot—play it there regardless of where he may place his shot.

Plays and the ability to make them is a question of mental attitude, habit, and practice of thinking correctly. The successful result is a confident and happy tennis player. When once the beginner has learned the fundamentals of "how to hit the ball," he should learn to play every shot with a definite purpose in mind. The habit of training the mind is as necessary as practicing strokes.

There are defensive and offensive plays. Those which are defensive are used for the purpose of keeping your opponent from putting over his winning stroke and also taking the "sting" out of his attack.

Plays which are offensive are used to manoeuvre your opponent into an insecure position, where he is at the least advantage to himself. In this manner you make your openings through which to score.

St. Saviours Put North Shore Out Of Cup Football

VANCOUVER, June 10.—Banging in two goals in the last ten minutes, to break a one-all tie, St. Saviours defeated North Shore United, 3 to 1, at Con Jones Park tonight in a first round Dominion championship soccer football game. North Shore, Vancouver and District League first division champions, held their own until that late rush, when the Coast League representatives rattled in two markers.

Departmentals Capture Midweek Fixture by Single Run

FIVE C'S DEFEAT BRENTWOOD ELEVEN

Hudson's Bay and Five C's went into a tie for the leadership of the Wednesday Cricket League as the result of their victories yesterday. The former defeated Saanich by the narrow margin of one run at Beacon Hill, while the latter took Brentwood College into camp at Brentwood by 41 runs.

The feature match of the day was between Hudson's Bay and Saanich. The latter, after making 148 runs for seven wickets, declared when victory appeared in sight, but the Bays batted strongly and caught and passed their opponents when seven wickets had fallen. The feature of the game was the great stand made by young George Payne, who knocked 56, not out, for the winners. Phillips, Wilson, N. Wilkinson and Davis batted well for the losing eleven, each passing the twenty mark.

PENDRAY IN FORM

The fine bowling of Pendray proved to be a big factor in Five C's victory over the Collegians. Pendray captured seven wickets for the small total of ten runs, and this performance was easily the best of the season. Comley was high batter for the winners, getting 29 runs before he was bowled. Privett was the only Brentwood player to get into double figures.

ARLETT LOSES BIG SIX PLACE

Big Gun of Phillies Dropped From Select Group—Hazen Cuyler Wins Berth

Harvey Hendrick, Cincinnati veteran, lost ground in his effort to wrest the Big Six batting leadership from Babe Ruth, when he connected for only one hit in four times up against Brooklyn yesterday. Ruth, idle for the day, retained his leadership, with a mark of .398, compared to Hendrick's .386.

Wally Roettger, of the Reds, and Hazen Cuyler, of the Cubs, climbed into a tie for sixth place among the regulars as Buzz Arlett, big gun of the Phillies, dropped from the select circle.

Aubrey Boomer Wins French Open Golf

British Professional Turns in Sparkling Last Eighteen to Capture Crown by Two Strokes—Genta and Allis Tied for Second Place

DEAUVILLE, France, June 10 (AP).—As a fitting climax to a morning of thrilling golf in which the recently made record of 71 for the Deauville course was broken four times and tied once, Aubrey Boomer, British-born professional from St. Cloud, turned in a sparkling round of 67 this afternoon to win the French open championship, with a 72-hole total of 291.

In the morning the Argentine ace, Thomas Genta, also shot a record smashing 67 to take the lead, nine strokes ahead of the eventual winner, while his countrymen, Mario Churio, had a 69; Michael Bingham, English player, shot 68, and Percy Allis, another British-born pro who hails from Berlin, had a 70. But every one of Boomer's rivals weakened in the final test.

PLAYS CLOSE TO PAR

Boomer, who had won the title in 1926 and 1929, played three rounds close to the par of 75 for the short course, then dazzled the gallery with a round of 33-34—67 to capture his third championship.

Genta, who appeared to have the title clinched at the 54th hole, weakened badly on the final 18 holes, taking 78 strokes, eleven more than his morning round, to finish with a 293, tying Allis for second place. Allis required 75 strokes for his final round.

Joe Kirkwood, the only entry from the United States, took an 80 for the last round and finished in a tie with Church for seventh place.

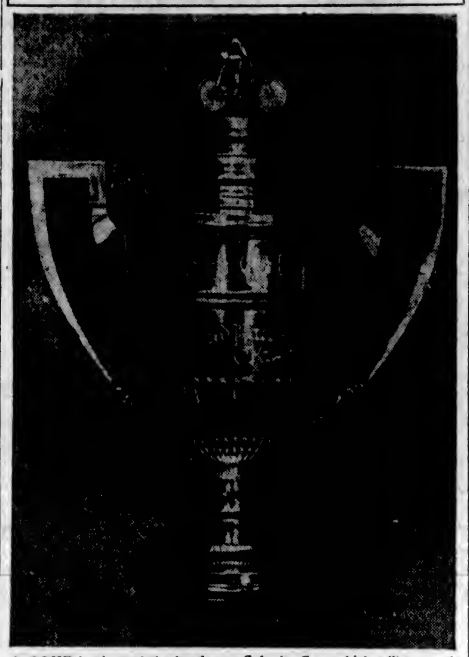

Carnera-Redmond Heavyweight Mix Halted by Rain

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP).—Rain today caused the postponement of the ten-round heavyweight match between Primo Carnera, of Italy, and Pat Redmond, of Ireland. Promoter James J. Johnston announced the bout would be held next Monday night at Ebbets Field.

WORKMEN ON NEW STADIUM TO GET SHARE IN STOCK

TORONTO, June 10.—Building trades mechanics engaged in construction of a new sports arena here are to receive 20 per cent of their wages in stock in the company backing the enterprise, it was learned last night. Co-operation of organized labor, it is understood, has been brought about on the proposal of a union affiliated with the Building Trades Council.

J. B. A. A. WILL HOLD NET MEET

Annual Tennis Club Tourney Scheduled During First Week in July

With one of the largest lists of members in the history of the club expected to seek the honors, the annual J.B.A.A. tennis championship tournament will get under way on the club's three courts at the Gorge during the first week in July. Members are requested to file their entries with the secretary as soon as possible, as the tennis officials want to release the first round draw a few days before the tourney opens.

Last year the entry was larger than expected and some fine competition was witnessed before the champions were declared. With the best players in the club facing the starter, the tourney this year will, no doubt, be a greater success than the meet twelve months ago, and some great tussles should hold sway in both divisions.

Local Members Of Bisley Team Reach Montreal

MONTREAL, June 10.—The Canadian Bisley team, composed of crack marksmen from all over the country, will assemble here tomorrow and sail on Friday for Great Britain to compete for the various trophies offered in the annual Empire shooting meet at Bisley, England. The team will defend the King's Prize, the Kolapore Trophy and other prizes won last year. Three members of the team arrived here today. They were Sergt.-Major E. J. Read, Royal Canadian Engineers, Esquimalt; Sergt. J. H. Regan, Canadian Scottish, Victoria, and Major F. Richardson, winner last year of the Governor-General's Prize at Connaught Ranges, Ottawa.

HOBBS AND SUTCLIFFE SHOW FORM

SNARY TAKES SEVEN WICKETS CHEAPLY

LONDON, June 10 (CP).—The "old firm" of Jack Hobbs and Herbert Sutcliffe once again proved invincible in English cricket at the Kensington Oval today. England's celebrated opening pair of batsmen put on 176 runs for the Players against the Gentlemen, and were undefeated when stumps were drawn for the day. Hobbs scored 101 and Sutcliffe 75. Rain spoiled other matches. Two matches, those between New Zealand and Gloucester and Lancashire and Hampshire, could not be started, while most of the games did not get any farther than the tea interval.

A bowling performance of more than usual merit was Snary's seven wickets for 31 runs for Leicestershire against Cambridge University.

CHOCOLATE-SMITH BOUT POSTPONED

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 10 (AP).—The Kid Chocolate-Steve Smith flatic bout scheduled here for tonight, has been postponed until Friday, due to inclement weather.

FORTY-SEVEN WILL SEEK LAURELS IN CYCLING CLASSIC

Largest Field in History of Nine-Year-Old Race Will Face Starter in Big Sporting Event Tomorrow Evening—Cream of Victoria and Vancouver Talent Entered for Colonist Cup

Fleet Field to Line Up in Class "A"; Thousands Will Watch Event

With the record field of forty-seven entered in the five classes, the success of the ninth annual Colonist Bicycle Road Race tomorrow evening is assured. Last night, when the list was closed, fourteen had entered Class "A"; eight, Class "B"; nine, Class "C"; eight, Class "D," and eight, Class "E." The entry in the former class is the second largest since the race was inaugurated and will bring together the pick of local and Mainland riders. The entry more than satisfied officials and showed the increasing interest that is being taken in the major cycling event of the year.

Sharp at 7:30 o'clock the riders will line up at the corner of Quadra Street and King's Road, the scene of the start and finish of the race. At the crack of the starter's gun they will flash away in search of their laurels, to disappear as they swing around on to Hillside, forging along Douglas Street to Gianford Avenue, reserving every ounce of power and wind for the thrilling rush down the Saanich Road and Quadra Street in the straightaway to the tape.

Last year thousands lined the course, many arriving on the spot a full hour in advance in order to insure a good view of the cycling classic. Prior to the race the Firemen's Band will lend color to the scene by the rendering of popular pieces.

JIM DAVIES ENTERED

Among the entries in "A" Class alone are four riders from Vancouver, including the Terminal City speed ace, Jim Davies, who came within a hair's breadth of wresting the honors and coveted Colonist Cup from his brother last year. Glenn Robbins, winner of the trophy in 1929, is now entered in Class "A," mounted on a racing machine. He hung up a spectacular record when riding a roadster in Class "B" two years ago.

Class "A"—Glenn Robbins, Pete Tyson, Maurice Woodley, D. C. Cliff (Vancouver), F. Elliot (Vancouver), G. D. Parrott, Jim Davies (Vancouver), M. G. Irving (Vancouver), George Farmer, N. Newman, Fred Gibbons, H. West, Lewis Rush and H. Hetherington.

Class "B"—M. Patrick, S. Ralph, H. Whitehead, D. Stewart, Stan Johnstone (Vancouver), B. Morrison, F. Waring, D. Reeves.

Class "C"—S. Hulford, C. Peden, A. Bell, W. Cresswel (Vancouver), J. Yates, G. Vantreight, Garfield Robbins, B. McVey, K. Roskelley.

Class "D"—Ted Bailey, A. C. Knowles, V. Painter, D. Caird, Eric Charles, George Roberts, R. Hughes, Don Tyson.

To out-of-town riders the hospitality of the Y.M.C.A. is extended prior to the race for changing. This courtesy has been extended by Secretary Maguire. Immediately following the event A. H. Cowlishaw, manager of the Crystal Garden, will present every rider with a free ticket, admitting them to the famous swimming pool.

WANT RIDERS ON TIME

Punctuality is a point that is heavily stressed by the officials and it is essential that riders make an early appearance. The combined forces of the city, Provincial and Saanich police insure the perfect control of the crowd as well as protection to the riders. Patrols will be posted at every dangerous corner and the various classes will be under constant supervision every yard of the course.

A special plea is issued to all dog owners along the course to keep their animals off the road. This request has been complied with every year and no trouble has been experienced, though it can be easily seen that one dog could easily disorganize the whole race. In past years the co-operation shown by motorists, pedestrians and householders in the vicinity has been greatly appreciated.

LOCAL BOYS TO FIGHT TONIGHT

Jumbo Davies, Beales, Pastroe and Neal Will Appear in Bouts at Port Angeles

Jumbo Davies, popular local featherweight boxer, competes with his old rival, Les Bains, of Tacoma, at Port Angeles this evening in the six-round feature bout of a boxing show to be staged as one of the attractions of the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention now in progress at Port Angeles. Davies recently arrived here from Portland and is in excellent condition for tonight's bout and hopes to be able to register a win over the fast-punching Tacoma fighter. The other two bouts between these popular fighters were declared draws. Other local fighters who will appear on the programme are Ted Beales, light-heavyweight boxer, who will compete with Al Gowers, "Angeles Assassin," in the six-round semi-wind-up. Danny Pastroe will meet Johnnie DelGuzzi, of Port Angeles, in a four-round bout, and Frankie Neal tackles "Sailor" Jack Smith, of Port Townsend, in another four-rounder.

As a number of local fans have decided to take in the show, the Puget Sound Navigation Company has offered to run a special boat from Port Angeles to Victoria, leaving right after the boxing bouts, provided they are guaranteed seventy-five passengers.

Anyone desirous of making the trip is requested to phone W. H. Davies, E 7441, before 10:30 this morning.

Regatta Carded At Brentwood on Saturday Is Off

The regatta between crews representing the J.B.A.A. and Brentwood College scheduled to take place at Brentwood Saturday afternoon has been postponed indefinitely, according to word received yesterday from the local rowing officials. The Collegians requested that the J.B.A.A. rowing committee cancel it as they have had several mishaps with their shells in recent workouts.

THE COLONIST WINS FROM HUDSON'S BAY

Smarting under the defeat given them last week by the Hudson's Bay lawn bowlers, The Colonist stepped out today and downed the departmentals by a score of 22-11. The chief contributor to victory was A. W. Stokes, who dropped his woods through almost impossible openings when his sides prospects did not look too bright. Should Mr. Stokes continue to lead The Colonist side, it behooves the Hudson's Bay to look out for someone to stack up against him. F. Sellars played well for the Bays. Teams follow:

HUDSON'S BAY	THE COLONIST
W. Merryweather	J. R. Bess
A. Playfair	F. Nicholls
F. Sellars	J. S. Stewart
J. Davidson, skip 11	A. W. Stokes, skip 22

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

Winston-Salem—Although 250 miles from the sea, and not on a navigable river, Winston-Salem is a port of entry. It was so designated by the Treasury Department, upon authority from Congress, that Winston-Salem importers might import their goods direct to that city and pay duty there rather than clearing such shipments at port of arrival and trans-shipping under bond. The $6,000,000 customs charges paid annually in Winston-Salem gives it the rank of ninth port of entry.

Nick Altrock Batted 1,000 Two Years—In 1924, Altrock was at bat once (September 20) and made a three-base hit. On October 6, the only time he was at bat during the season of 1929, he singled. In each of these years, therefore, his batting average was 1.000. Reference: Al Munro Elias Baseball Bureau, New York City.

DUKES POSTPONE PICKING OF REP SOCCER XI

Unauthorized Move On Official's Part Draws Fire of Body

Lower Island Football Association Will Meet Soon to Select Representative Eleven to Meet English-men and Choose Manager

Owing to unauthorized statements issued to the press, by an official yesterday, the Lower Island Football Associated decided last evening, at its special meeting, that the all-star eleven to represent Victoria against the touring English squad will not be picked until next week. The newly-appointed board, with President C. V. Milton in the chair, dealt with routine business and discussed the proposed representative eleven.

According to information gained as a result of the meeting, it was learned that the board had not appointed a manager to guide the team against the visitors, although Charlie Lewis, of the Jokers, was appointed manager of the two squads chosen to fight for places on the all-star aggregation.

SELECTION SOON

Definite selection of the team will be made at the next meeting of the board, along with the appointment of a manager. Great interest has been stirred up by local fans, who are eagerly waiting for the announcement of the representative team.

The complete Lower Island board for the ensuing twelve months will be as follows: Charles V. Milton, president; James Pettigrew, vice-president; J. R. Jones, secretary-treasurer; John Ewing, John Sullivan and F. Abrahams on the executive. All are well known in football circles and their work in the running local soccer will be watched with great interest. The soccer situation in Victoria has been topsy-turvy all season and the new officials have been authorized by the B.C.F.A. to clear up several important matters.

The board also passed a motion that all school children will be admitted to the English exhibition fixture at the Royal Athletic Park on June 24 at a reduced rate.

Doctor Dick's Letter Box

TIM MATSON

Dear Doctor,

After twenty years' play, my golf is not improving. I seem to have three major faults which I cannot correct: (1) Finding myself standing too close to my ball, after I've hit it. (2) Swinging back so fast that the clubhead either flies off the shaft, or goes completely round and hits the ball in the opposite direction. (3) "Following through" so far that the clubhead catches up the ball, hits it again, and thereby costs me two strokes for one! Are these bad faults? Can they be adjusted? Please advise me by next mail.

Yours hopefully,

WYAM I. WILDE.

Dear Mr. Wilde,

Sorry—I'm stumped! The more I play golf, the more I resemble an irresponsible steam hammer. I've tried everything. I've tried "addressing" the ball in pen, pencil and on the typewriter, but no luck. I've "approached" on tip-toe, on all-fours, and even on a bicycle, but only got a puncture going past the pin. I've tried "running-up" shots, but always run past the ball and miss it—and when I once got a "birdie in the rough," the damn thing had been there for weeks, and was too high to count!

So you see, Wyam, although I thoroughly understand the principles, technicalities and phraseology of the game, I'm not really a good golfer, and as your game seems on a par with mine, my advice might be a terrific handicap. Meantime, hold the club more than half-way down the shaft, (this gives control and makes it harder to knock your hat off on the upswing), develop a zig-zag "down swing" (this counteracts a slice and hook, simultaneously), keep your eye on the caddy—and if your timing's out, hand your opponent an alarm clock at the top of your swing, watch the second hand carefully, 'til its propinquity to setting off the alarm would correspond to the impact of your club on the ball (supposing you hit it), then tighten up all over, and let fly. If we can arrange a game, sometime,—let's not, eh?

Yours dubiously,

DOCTOR DICK.

Diana Fishwick Loses British Golf Laurels

Defending Champion Defeated at Nineteenth Hole—Maureen Orcutt Also Passes Out of Picture—Enid Wilson Wins Third Round Match Easily

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland, June 10 (AP).—The women's golf championship was made safe for native Britons today as Elsie Corlett, former Lancashire champion, eliminated Maureen Orcutt, lone United States entrant, in the third round of play.

The tradition that a champion seldom repeats also was kept safe as Diana Fishwick fell before the fine stroking of Miss D. Pimm at the nineteenth hole.

In the thirty-three years of the competition only Lady Margaret Scott, the first titleholder; Cecil Leitch and Joyce Wethered have won two titles in succession. Lady Margaret won the first three years, 1893-94-95. Miss Wethered and Miss Leitch both have won it twice in succession.

Blonde Miss Orcutt, holder of several titles in the United States, proved no match for the determined Miss Corlett, who led her opponent by four holes at the end of the first nine and finished with a 4 and 3 victory.

Miss Orcutt had barely won her second round match from Miss Kathleen Carnham, who visited the United States with Miss Fishwick last Winter, going to the last hole to win one up, and fell easy prey to Miss Corlett.

Enid Wilson, Wanda Morgan and Molly Gourlay won their third round matches easily. Miss Gourlay defeated Miss Park, 9 and 8; Miss Wilson won from Mrs. Coats, 6 and 5, and Miss Morgan defeated Miss Rudgard, 7 and 6.

MANY RIDERS ON HAND FOR RACE OPENER

PRESIDING JUDGE ARRIVES IN CITY

DR. W. J. McKEON

With the arrival today in Victoria of the presiding judge, W. J. McKeon, and Robert F. Leighton, racing secretary, preparations for the opening of the British Columbia racing season at Colwood Park next Saturday were practically completed. Both are optimistic concerning the outlook for the first week's racing and are confident that the fields in all events throughout the Summer will be much better than in previous years.

The stewards will hold a meeting this afternoon when jockeys, trainers and owners' licenses will be discussed. Presiding Judge McKeon is most emphatic that the actual racing will be the keenest that Victoria fans have yet had the privilege of watching. He announced that he was entirely satisfied with the associate stewards and that jockeys' applications for riding would be thoroughly discussed at the meeting this afternoon.

NO ROUGH RIDING

"Under no circumstances will we tolerate rough riding," he stated last evening, and added, "any boy who makes a mistake, while we will give him a fair chance and impartial hearing, will be suspended for the length of time that the offence warrants."

Racing Secretary Leighton corroborated the judge's statements in this respect, but also added that he considered the class of riders available much better than in previous years.

PROMISING APPRENTICE

Leighton, who is the dean of all Canadian racing officials, declared that he considered young Rodriguez one of the most promising apprentices that he had glimpsed in the saddle for several years. Rodriguez is already at Colwood and will be seen in action next Saturday afternoon when the bugle calls for the first race at 2:30 o'clock.

Other riders who will also be seen in action, subject to the approval of the stewards at their meeting today, are: "Scotty" Craigmyle, Schmitz, Johnny Pevic, Palaes, Chipping, Ross, Cox, Burley, Mills, Graham, Marshall, Deford, Anderson, Richardson, Carter, Robertson, Hughes, Thoroughgood, Jackson, Holecko, LaRocque, James, Sutherland and several others.

POSITION PRECARIOUS

PARIS, June 10 (AP).—The situation of France's largest steamship line, the French Line, was described as extremely precarious by Finance Minister Flandin before the Chamber of Deputies finance committee this afternoon. Flandin said the company needed about $12,000,000 to put it on its feet

Fishing Bulletin

Steelhead: It's now steelhead time on the West Coast of Vancouver Island. These fish run from seven to ten pounds in weight and are as pugnacious as Scotch salmon. Good fishing on the Stamp and Sproat Rivers. Methods: Fly and wading. Poles necessary.

Grilse: Not so good this week, although some fish have been taken. Methods: Trolling with very light tackle and occasionally fly.

Salmon: Springs beginning to run well in Brentwood Bay, off Qualicum and at Comox. Weights twenty-five to thirty-five pounds. Methods: Trolling deep and also some on fly.

Trout: Good trolling in Cowichan Lake, Cameron Lake, Sproat Lake. Fair fly fishing on Cowichan River; good on Little Qualicum, from mouth to falls and from falls to Cameron Lake. Also at Taylor Arm on Sproat Lake and on Sproat River and Campbell River. Some fish weigh over three pounds. Species: Cutthroat, Rainbow, Lake Trout and Dolly Varden. Methods: Fly and trolling from bank or boat, or wading.

Sea Trout: Good on and off, at mouth of Big Qualicum, in Sooke Harbor, and at mouth of Oyster River. Methods: Fly, light troll or spinner. Boat or wading.

Decision Reserved On Fight Injunction

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP).—The United States District Court of Appeals today reserved decision on the appeal of Primo Carnera, Italian boxer, from a temporary injunction granted by a lower court, restraining him from fighting Jack Sharkey before September 30, without consent of the Madison Square Garden Corporation of Illinois.

The corporation holds a contract with the Italian, prohibiting him from meeting major opponents before he faces the winner of the coming bout between Max Schmeling and Young Stribling.

BOB KRUSE WINS FROM JOHN EVKO

Portlander Tosses Seattle Grappler in Main Event on Seattle Wrestling Card

VANCOUVER, June 10 (CP).—Bob Kruse, Portland, took two out of three falls from John Evko, Seattle, in tonight's feature wrestling bout at the Arena.

Kruse took the first fall in the second round with a wristlock, while Evko evened it up in the fourth with a body slam. Kruse then finished it with a body slam in the fifth. An interesting sidelight occurred in the first round when Referee Draper attempted to separate the combatants who were locked on the ropes. Evko, resenting the interference, wheeled quickly, grabbed Draper and hurled him bodily across the ring. By the time Draper regained his composure, the boys were wrestling in orthodox style and he did not penalize the Seattle giant.

On their way to the dressing-room, Coggins and Arthur tangled in an impromptu bout, but they were quickly separated.

Empress of Japan Holds All Records For Pacific Ocean

Without Any Effort, Great Liner Lowers Time Held by Canada—Brought Large List of Passengers From Many Ports

Although he announced before his ship cleared from Honolulu that he would make no attempt at smashing records between the Hawaiian port and Victoria, Captain Samuel Robinson, R.N.R., O.B.E., just probably couldn't help letting his great ship get in the headlines when the effort was so easy and the weather so favorable for record-making all the way.

Due to arrive at Race Rocks at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, when the run would have equaled the Canada's time, the Empress of Japan passed in just before 4:30 o'clock and the record was established, the time from Diamond Head being 4 days 9 hours 16 minutes as against 4 days 11 hours 32 minutes made by the Canada, an average of 22.16 knots an hour. This gave the Japan and her crew double honors for the Pacific crossing, for between Yokohama and Honolulu she established a record, making the distance in the average time of 22.12 knots an hour. The Canada's time for this run was 6 days 11 hours 16 minutes, and the Japan's time 6 days 9 hours 11 minutes.

While officers of the ship had given credit to the engines and the crew below for the many fine performances of the Japan, the secret of her speed has just been revealed. Wong Sue, Chinese interpreter aboard the big ship, disclosed how a precious idol of the Ming dynasty, which has been in his family more than four hundred years, has sped the Empress of Japan on her record-breaking voyages. Unceasingly, Wong explained, he prays to this porcelain figure, beseeching it to propitiate the evil demons and lend wings to the ship. The charm has never failed to work.

The Queen of the Pacific brought the greatest number of passengers she has ever carried to date, totaling 795 in all classes. In her first cabin were 248 travelers, 133 in the second class, 62 in the third class, with the balance in the steerage. Included were business men returning from the ports of the Far East, missionaries, Salvation Army officials and world travelers. A number left the ship here, the majority of them proceeding South to points in the United States. Over 125 tourists were embarked at Honolulu, where they were awaiting the arrival of the ship.

HAD LOCAL FRIENDS

Among the prominent passengers aboard the Japan were the Maharaja of Jind and his retinue of fifteen; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Benedict, of Boston, returning from an extended visit to Japan; Mrs. E. H. Simpson and Miss Boxall, relatives of Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, who are on a world tour; A. H. Ferguson, manager of the Bank of India and Australia at Hongkong, en route to England to spend the Summer months, accompanied by Mrs. Ferguson; J. J. Herb, manager of the New Westminster Pulp and Paper Company, of New Westminster, returning home after an extended business trip to Orient countries, with Mrs. Herb, and Miss Fitz-Landers, of London, returning home across Canada and completing a tour of the world.

Other passengers included David Karger, prominent manufacturer of Milwaukee, en route home after a business visit to the Philippine Islands, with Mrs. Karger; A. C. Munro-Ker, son of a well-known British admiral, en route to London from Hongkong; Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Potter, Hongkong, where the former is a prominent lawyer, on a holiday visit to America; Mrs. W. G. Robinson, of Manila, proceeding to White Rock, where she will spend the Summer with her parents; Captain C. S. Cay, retired Indian Army officer, who disembarked here, and Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Overs, proceeding to Liverpool after spending the past five years in missionary work in Mukden.

To spend several days at St. Ann's Academy here, five Maryknoll missionary nuns left the liner here, being met on board by Sister Mary Smith, Sister Mary Caritas, Sister Mary Columbia-Tarfay, Sister Mary of St. Romaine and Sister Mary Theodore Farby. They have been engaged for a number of years doing missionary work in China.

W. L. Bendict, who was a passenger aboard the Empress of Japan yesterday wears a decoration bestowed by the Emperor of Japan. It is the Order of the Sacred Treasure. On this present tour, Mr. Benedict visited many places of interest in Japan and China. While a student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Mr. Benedict was a classmate of Baron Takuma Dan and of Viscount Kentaro Kaneko at Harvard, and while in Japan was entertained by these prominent Japanese.

Meeting the Empress of Japan on her arrival here yesterday morning, Chief Justice and Mrs. Macdonald boarded the ship to greet Dr. Caroline Macdonald, who is on her way to England after spending some time in the Orient, where she was engaged in rescue work.

After thirty years of service in China, W. J. Oudendijk, retiring Minister of the Netherlands to China, was a passenger from Shanghai on the Ss. Empress of Japan yesterday. He was accompanied by his wife. They will not return to China.

Outbound for Japanese ports, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Ss. Yokohama Maru, arrived at Ogden Point Piers shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and after embarking seven steerage passengers and taking aboard mails and some cargo, cleared for Yokohama at 6 o'clock.

Sea Cadets Will Go Through Town With Naval Gun

MEMBERS of the Rainbow Sea Cadet Corps, which includes all ratings, are asked to take notice that instead of assembling at the Drill Hall on Friday evening next as per the weekly notice board, they will be required to attend at the Armories at the same hour for a march through town with the naval gun.

Motor Boat Race To Cowichan Bay Week-End Event

Royal Victoria Yacht Club activities for Saturday next include the motor boat race from Cadboro Bay to Cowichan Bay for the Lane Cup, and the second race of the series for the Burchell Cup. The course is via Sidney Channel and Canoe Pass, and the boat reaching Cowichan Bay nearest to the hour of 7 o'clock that evening will be the winner.

At Cowichan Bay, the Cowichan Cup Race for sailing craft will be contested, the entire fleet of boats belonging to the local club promising to participate, which should provide good sport for everybody.

SUGGEST GOVERNMENTS RESTRICT FISHERMEN TO RAISE FISH PRICE

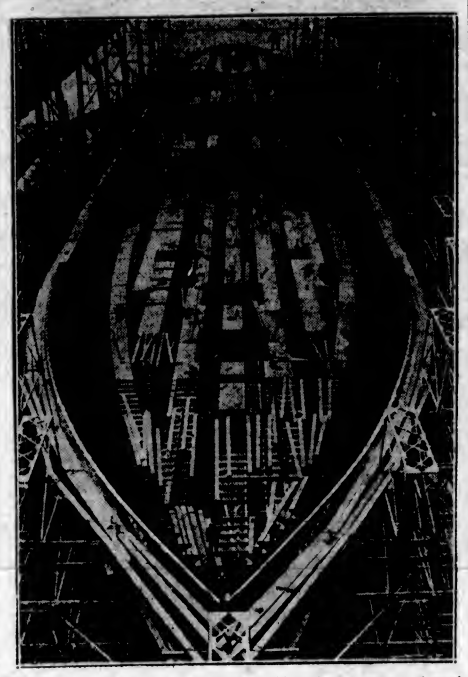

PRINCE RUPERT, June 10 (CP).—A meeting representing the city council, halibut buyers and boat owners passed a resolution to request the Dominion Government to communicate with Washington, suggesting that both Governments agree to withholding clearances to Canadian and United States fishing boats for ten-day periods between voyages, voyages not to exceed two. This, the meeting felt, would help to restore a more satisfactory price.

ROYALTIES TO BE PAID

Validity of Slotted-Wing Patents Acknowledged by United States Firm

FEATURE MAKES FOR SAFETY IN FLYING

One of the most important legal actions in the world of aviation during the past few years—probably, indeed, since Esnault Pelterie's claims for compensation for use of the universally-employed "joy stick" or control lever—is now settled.

S. R. Worley, chairman of Messrs. Handley Page, was able to announce at the ordinary general meeting of the company last Friday that the United States firm, the Curtiss Airplane & Motor Company, against whom proceedings had been instituted for infringement of the Handley-Page slotted-wing patents, had agreed to a consent decree of the United States District Court admitting the infringement and acknowledging the validity of the British company's patents.

The American firm has also entered into an agreement to pay royalties on any machines built by them to which slotted wings are fitted.

TO BE STANDARDIZED

Mr. Worley further stated that the slotted wing rights in Italy had been sold to a private Italian company for a very substantial cash payment. A long series of trials of slotted wings, in land planes and flying boats, were recently concluded in Italy and the device is now to be standardized in machines built for the Italian air services.

Following closely after the announcement of arrangements for the use of slotted wings in certain aircraft used by the Swiss Federal Military Department, the Italian concession marks a further stage in the world-wide development of this famous British air safety invention. In addition to Great Britain, where the mechanism is used in nearly 80 per cent of all Royal Air Force machines as well as in a large proportion of British commercial and private aircraft, slotted wings are widely employed in Canada, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, the United States, Sweden, Finland, Norway, Denmark and Germany. Other important flying nations are now negotiating with the company.

DANGER MINIMIZED

The slotted wing resembles in appearance a small airplane wing and normally rests flat against the leading or front edges of the main wings. When an airplane approaches the "stall," or, in other words, loses flying speed, it takes up an attitude with the nose up and the tail down. When this happens the pressure of the air-flow around the front of the wings causes these small auxiliary wings to move away from the main wings, to which they are attached by cranks, leaving a slot between. In this position the auxiliary wing has the curious property of maintaining the air flow undisturbed over the main wings and the pilot thus retains control of his craft in conditions where the usual type of unslotted aircraft gets out of control and tends to spin.

Recently much experimental work has been done in the application of the slotted wing device for control when flying speed is lost, particularly in the equipment of high-speed fighting airplanes, and there is reason to suppose that this work will be followed by even wider use of the device, which already can claim to have done more to rid flying of danger than any other single invention.

Members of Guild Vote in Favor of Sympathy Strike

Action May Tie Up Coast Shipping—Management Board of Organization Will Meet at Early Date to Determine Future Action

VANCOUVER, June 10 (CP).—A general tie-up of all coast shipping threatens as the result of a ballot counted in the Canadian Merchant Service Guild headquarters Tuesday night, when an overwhelming majority of masters and mates voted in favor of a strike.

This includes all passenger ships, freighters and oil tankers, with the exception of the North Vancouver Ferries, Limited, and the British-Yukon Shipping Company, who have agreements that terminate at the end of the year with no re-opening clause.

OUTCOME OF STRIKE

The ballot, which was issued to all masters and mates, is the outcome of the strike originating among the towboat owners and officers five weeks ago. British Columbia shipping will be paralyzed should not satisfactory agreement be reached.

"The board of management will probably meet tomorrow night to consider further action," Andrew Goodlad, secretary to the guild, said today. "The ballot is regarded as a mandate from the men to call a strike unless a satisfactory arrangement with the towboat operators is made soon. More than twenty operators have signed the wage agreement already, but between thirty and forty have not."

OFFERS CONCILIATION

Mr. Goodlad said his organization cannot recognize Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Provincial Minister of Labor, in the present dispute. The minister is reported due here next week to try to arrange an amicable settlement.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

VANCOUVER, June 10 (CP).—Italian Line Ms. Feltre arrived late Tuesday to Empire Shipping Company with freight and passengers from Mediterranean ports.

The N.Y.K. liner Ms. Hikawa Maru will arrive Thursday to load 3,500 tons of cargo and will return to Puget Sound Saturday to complete her cargo.

B. W. Greer & Son report Ss. Tuscaloosa City due Friday morning to discharge steel and general from Baltimore and New York.

Harrison Direct Line Ss. Planter, now at New Westminster, will shift tonight to Vancouver to load general, according to B. W. Greer & Son, agents for the line.

Direct from Newcastle, Ss. Gothic Star has arrived to American Mail Line to load 2,000 tons of metal at New Westminster for United Kingdom. She will complete her cargo at Southern ports.

Canadian-American Shipping Co. has taken Ms. St. Jerneborg to load a full cargo of grain for United Kingdom.

Pacific Ss. Co., Ss. Admiral Wiley arrived this morning from California with general cargo, and will leave early this evening for Ocean Falls to load paper.

Royal Mail Steam Packet Company reports Ms. Damsterdyk due to sail late this afternoon for United Kingdom and the Continent with passengers and cargo. She will proceed to Seattle and ports.

Submarine and Cutter Part In Gulf Stream

BOSTON, June 10 (AP).—The submarine Nautilus, in which Sir Hubert Wilkins, explorer, hopes to reach the North Pole, has parted company with the United States coastguard cutter Pontchartrain in the Gulf Stream, 987 miles east of Pollock Rip Lightship.

A radio message to the coastguard here today said the Nautilus was proceeding at easy speed, aided by the current, toward London, its first port of call.

BLAMES CANADA FOR DROWNINGS

Loss of Fishermen on Goose Island Attributed to Seizure Laws of Dominion

SEATTLE, June 10 (AP).—Drowning of Captain Leslie E. Scurlock, Berkeley, and Ralph Robinson, Ferndale, Wash., in Queen Charlotte Sound last April, learned here for the first time today, was blamed by Harold Gangmark, manager of the Trolling Vessel Owners' Association, on a Canadian law which subjects American fishing boats to seizure if found in Canadian waters.

Gangmark said Captain Scurlock took the passage outside Vancouver Island instead of the safer inside passage and his vessel, the Sea Belle, was overwhelmed by a storm only a few miles from the inside passage. Wreckage of the vessel on Goose Island was reported found late in April, but word the two men were drowned did not reach here until today.

DOMINION THEATRE Motorists who bewail the price of "gas" in Canada had better not go to Africa, according to Harry Carey, who plays "Trader Horn" in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's African adventure drama, now showing at the Dominion Theatre. In outposts of civilization in Africa, he says, gasoline sold at $1.25 a gallon.

COLISEUM THEATRE Muriel Angelus, the girl who plays the leading feminine role in "Night Birds," romantic mystery now at the Coliseum Theatre, has been called "the screen's most perfect blonde." Muriel is nineteen, with round blue eyes, and coloring that is the envy of her screen sisters. As the night club entertainer who keeps Scotland Yard busy while her accomplice, Flash-Jack, stages his noted robberies, Miss Angelus has a sympathetic setting for her blonde beauty.

CAPITOL THEATRE Helen Parrish, who plays the role of the little girl, Margaret, in Universal's powerful problem drama, "Seed," now playing at the Capitol Theatre, was born in Columbus, Georgia, on March 12, 1923, and has been in motion pictures for more than five years of her short life. The cast of "Seed" includes John Boles, Genevieve Tobin, Lois Wilson, Raymond Hackett, Bette Davis, ZaSu Pitts, Frances Dade and Richard Tucker, and the picture was directed by John M. Stahl.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Coliseum — Jack Raine in "Night Birds."
Columbia—"The River's End," with Charles Bickford.
Dominion—Edwina Booth in "Trader Horn."

"River's End," drama of the Northwest Mounted Police, adapted from the famous novel of the same name by James Oliver Curwood, opens at the Columbia Theatre today. The Warner Bros. and Vitaphone version of this powerful story has an all-star cast headed by Charles Bickford playing the dual role of pursued and pursuer. "River's End is the story of a tragic chase through the Arctic wastes on the trail of an alleged murderer. When captor and fugitive meet they find they are enough alike physically to be brothers. On the long trek back to civilization, one of them dies.

"THREE GIRLS LOST" PLAYHOUSE FEATURE

Around this triple loss is woven the entertaining story of "Three Girls Lost," with Loretta Young and John Wayne in the leading roles, which comes to the screen of the Playhouse Theatre today. How each of the trio seeks romance in her own fashion and the triangular outcome of the search forms the plot of the film, said to be one of the most unusual offerings of recent months.

Joyce Compton and Joan Marsh are seen as Miss Young's companions, While Lew Cody has the role of the gentlemanly underworld baron.

"KIKI" WILL APPEAR AT CAPITOL MONDAY

Taylor wrote the screen version, aided in the comedy construction by John Gray. Taylor adapted and directed Norma Talmadge's latest starring vehicle, "Du Barry," Miss Pickford's two recent favorites, "My Best Girl" and "Coquette," and also "The Taming of the Shrew," co-starring Miss Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks.

"Kiki," which comes to the Capitol Theatre on Monday for a three days' engagement, was an international stage success. As a dialogue vehicle for Miss Pickford, it has been given an elaborate presentation by the Joseph M. Schenck organization. The cast was chosen carefully from the ranks of the premiere players of screen and stage with Reginald Denny in the masculine lead.

Certain changes calculated to fit the star's individual personality were made in the story. The title role played by Miss Pickford is that of the street gamin who aspires to be an actress and a "great lady."

Just Roamin' Around

By TWO ROVERS

How clinging habits are, and our daily chores have the same habit of clinging to us, too! And both habits and chores are mysterious in the way they have of bossing us and the situation we find ourselves in!

Slaves we all are to habit; and we habitually grouse at the chores we have to do, and we get all ruffled up if anything interferes with a cherished habit, and all perturbed if any particular chore interferes with our habitual pleasures or pastimes. Queer folk the most of us are, and the Two Rovers are no exception!

Why! up here in our lone room, we used to, long ago, hang our cracked shaving glass on a specially bent nail between two of the four windows that we are so proud of. The light was especially good, there; and in spite of the accumulation of smoke, dust and rainspots, to the windows adhering.

And we gilletted of a morning for years with the utmost satisfaction, just because the blade and the light were so especially good, there. Shaving at that particular window became a habit and a truly pleasant chore, and, because of the good blade and the good light, a chore we did never grouse at. Well! hardly ever!

One morning, in a wave of momentary but extreme laziness, that has since become habitual we discovered that the walk to and fro every day from the stationary wash basin, to the far side of the room was too exhausting and might reduce our weight too fast, and that the effort to go backward and forward to lather and rinse, etc., took up a lot of valuable time, precious, close-to-breakfast time; that it was like to hiking, when a buggy ride would save a hunk of energy and trouble.

So, as we couldn't move the fixture wash basin to the window, we found we could, and did move the mutilated mirror to the wash basin, where it hangs today,

And yet, would you believe it, so strong is habit, that we still quite frequently forget, even after years of shaving at the washstand, and walk over, across the acres of harrowing floor space, past a forest of chair legs, armed with soap brush and razor, to the window, and raise our amazed physiognomy to the glass that is not there! Then, Oh! saving grace, we have an habitual laugh at ourselves!

There are many chores we have to do each day and we try not to grouse while we do them. Lately we have been observing the habitual mental attitude of others, male and female, towards the chores that are their own particular property, or hobby. Of course we know that not all chores are the same chore, some having this to grouse over and others having that, but, from observation, we would remark that the men grumble from habit more over their daily chores than do the weaker (!) sex, who attend to vastly more chores and say less about them than do the men. They used to be known as "better halves," but in reality they are "better than halves" — almost three-quarters. (Gosh! won't the married men kick at this!)

We are all prone to make too much fuss about the daily chores. We make a habit of fussing! Rover says: "Women make a habit of doing a lot and saying little about it, Men make a habit of saying a lot about the little they do (in the way of chores, of course)."

Just make a pleasure of each chore
You have to do, today!
That habit, growing more and more,
Will thus increase your pay!
The hallowed work will be such fun
You'd hate to let it go;
Then, when your chores are all well done,
One great big joy you'll know!

This rarest secret did I learn
From watching women work;
Around the house full wage they earn,
Who chores do never shirk!
They are not paid in notes or gold,
They often get no thanks;
Their treasure-vault, so I am told,
Is not that found in banks!

And sings when getting up,
Drinks deep of Joy's full cup!
For laughing grows and glad smiles make
E'en dreary jobs seem gay;
A cheery heart's—Good Pay!

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

INVESTIGATING CAUSE OF ASTHMA

I often write about asthma, for notwithstanding all we know about it now, there are a very large number of asthmatics almost everywhere. In fact, asthma is now receiving the attention that has been given tuberculosis, heart disease, rheumatism and epilepsy. Thus in Great Britain there is an organization known as the Asthma Research Council whose activities are interesting not only Great Britain, but Europe and the United States also.

Dr. A. H. Douthwaite, Guy's Hospital, London, divides asthma into two groups (a) those suffering since childhood, (b) those cases which occur after puberty or middle age and follow some disorder of respiration such as influenza.

The first or childhood type is felt to be due to some sensitiveness of the tissues to certain substances—wheat, meat, eggs, animal fur, feathers and so forth.

The second is what is generally known as bronchial asthma, an asthma due to some bronchial irritation.

He lays stress on Dr. Oriel's research work in which he found that during an attack of asthma due to food, fur, feathers and so forth, the kidneys manufactured a substance, which injected beneath the skin in doses as low as one part in a million, provides a positive reaction; it has no effect upon normal individuals. This substance cannot be found in the urine between attacks in asthmatics. It is never found in normal individuals.

This is a most useful discovery because there are now between three and four hundred substances that are used in testing for ashtma and hay fever and it might easily take some time to discover the exact one or ones that are causing the trouble. That other substances than the ones usually causing the trouble, may irritate the nose and throat and bronchial tubes and cause asthmatic attacks is likewise true.

Sometimes the very thought or sight of certain substances can so affect the mind that an asthmatic attack follows.

That obstructive conditions of the nose and throat induce attacks is also generally admitted.

Now all this, of course, means that sufferers with asthma should be patient with their physician until he locatties the cause. After this is located, then proper treatment can be given.

That a woman is the leader of a gang that is making large hauls in London, is the belief of the police. Following the robbery fo a shop at Ilford, the heel of a woman's shoe was found. Another feminine shoe heel was left in the garden of a Golders Green house from which thieves stole jewelry valued at $5,000

NARCOTIC RING MAY BE BROKEN

'Mounties' Place Charges of Smuggling Drugs Against Italians

MONTREAL, June 10—(CP).—Royal Canadian Mounted Police today hoped they had broken up an international narcotic ring. They placed charges of smuggling drugs against four men and one woman, who appeared in police court. One man, giving his name as Giovanni Barrista Compedicia, first mate aboard the Ss. Honor, from Genoa, Italy, was held without bail for hearing on June 18.

The others, Jean Morelili, Pietro Mascera and Florilda Calanzani, Montreal, and John Mascera, an Italian sailor, were allowed bail set at $10,000 pending hearing on June 16. All five pleaded not guilty.

Arrest of Compedicia came about, police claim, when a lifeboat was seen to leave the Ss. Honor on Tuesday. The police followed along shore. He was arrested. Two tins of opium were found in his coat pockets, the officers told the court today.

The other accused were seized during Tuesday by the "Mounties" in following up clues about the city.

MADE CHEVALIER OF ILLUSTRIOUS LEGION

Recently decorated by the Government of France when she was made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor in recognition of her interest in French affairs, Mrs. Milau H. Hurlburt, of Chicago, was a passenger from the Orient on the Empress of Japan docking here yesterday.

Educated in France, where she spent a number of years, Mrs. Hurlburt has been president of l'Alliance Francaise in Chicago and is the founder and president of the French Choral Society in Chicago. Mrs. Hurlburt was accompanied by her four daughters, the party returning to America after a tour of the world.

During an active session of the unofficial diamond market in Duke Street, London, recently a gem merchant dropped a diamond ring, valued at $500, which rolled into the sewer. Dredging by the city sanitary department failing, David Fresco risked his life by lowering himself six times into the sewer. He finally found the ring embedded in mud and lime. The owner offered Fresco 50 cents reward.

U.S. Steel Report Encourages Rally; Turnover Is Small

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP).—The stock market had difficulty in making up its mind today, but when it finally did reach a decision the trend was definitely upward.

Trading was dull, partly because the market spent much of its time awaiting news developments and partly because only professionals seemed to have any interest in its affairs. Prices jiggled indefinitely until the New York Central dividend was out of the way, and then the rails led a rally.

This gain wilted, but the fact that unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation showed less than an average loss in May and that the figures were quite in line with expectations provided the basis for another upturn which, after one false start swung through to the close. Most of the favorites were up 1 to 3 points. Some improved more extensively. The turnover was 1,800,000 shares.

Shorts in New York Central retreated when fears of a dividend cut proved unfounded and the stock rose, closing four higher. United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Westinghouse, Loews, General Motors and Case advanced 2 to 3. Utilities were rather buoyant. Western Union was up 6 1-2 net. Allied Chemical led its strong group with a gain of 5, and Eastman improved as much. Alaska Juneau was sold heavily in the afternoon, closing with a four-point loss.

The Canadian dollar had a sudden sag and was quoted at a discount of 7-32, which may mean some gold shipments. Aside from a jump in the peseta on news of the French loan to the Madrid Government, foreign exchanges were dull.

Irregularly higher prices marked the bond market as activity increased moderately. The rising trend which appeared first among the industrial issues spread gradually to other groups. Most of the larger gains were scored by foreign obligations, although this group provided a number of weak spots.

WHEAT LOWER IN WINNIPEG

Prices Close Fractionally Down, Following Reports of Rain—Trade Active

WINNIPEG, June 10 (CP).—Welcome rains brought about a reversal of bullish sentiment in wheat here today. Closing prices were unchanged to 5-8 cent lower than yesterday's close. July halted at 60 5-8; October at 62, while December ended at 63 to 63 1-8.

The market opened strong on bullish Canadian and United States reports of yesterday, but later eased on receipt of precipitation reports.

Trading was of an active nature and in fair volume. There was no feature to cash and coarse grain trading. Prices were little changed from Tuesday's close.

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE REPORT

Brazilian Traction continued the feature, rising to 16 3-8 and then shading off to 16 1-4, an advance of 1 3-4.

Montreal Power, Dominion Bridge, International Nickel, National Breweries, Smelters, Canadian Pacific, Shawinigan and other pivotal issues held gains, all sharing in the stronger movement.

Montreal Power was one of the strong features, and also closed at its high for the day of 42 1-4, 1 1-2 points up.

Price Brothers eased into new low territory when it touched 29 7-8, off 1-8. Weak spots were practically missing from the market with the one exception.

Stock Trend Is Erratic On Vancouver Exchange; B.C. Gold Mines Active

VANCOUVER, June 10.—Stocks gyrated within narrow circles on the Vancouver Exchange today. Trading continued on a small scale with interest centred mainly in the British Columbia gold shares, but in the absence of sustained buying support, leaders in this group generally closed at their lowest points for the day. Trading was also light in the oils group, and prices in the closing analysis were erratic.

Premier, which traded ex-dividend, closed at a new low for this movement at 65 cents bid, off 5 cents net. Pioneer opened strong at 2.30 and gradually eased to 2.20, to close unchanged at that quotation. Lorne, on the curb market, slowly declined from 10 1-2 cents to 10 cents, to finish the day at the latter price, a loss of 1-2 cent.

Oils were strong at the outset, but in neglected trading prices worked lower as the session progressed. C. & E. rallied to 33 cents during the first hour and softened on the closing bid to 30 cents, down 1 cent net. Commonwealth ended the day 1 cent higher at 17 1-2 cents, while Amalgamated firmed up a like amount at 10 cents. Mercury gained fractionally at 10 1-2 cents.

Alberta Reports Crop Conditions Much Improved

WINNIPEG, June 10 (CP).—Districts of the Western Prairies lucky enough to have had moisture relief for parched crops this week record phenomenal growth during the past few days, and with generally cool and fair weather today report prospects much brighter than at the week-end.

Moderate rains occurred in Southern Alberta yesterday and light showers spread across the Northern areas, but the weather remained generally fair in Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Many Saskatchewan areas reported "cool and cloudy" this morning.

There are still many sections of the Prairies urgently in need of added moisture, but only scattered showers were predicted for tomorrow.

Steel of Canada Maintains Usual Rate of Dividend

MONTREAL, June 10 (CP).—The usual quarterly dividends of 43 3-4 cents per share were declared on both preference and ordinary shares of Steel Company of Canada at a meeting of the board of directors here today. The dividend is payable on August 1 to shareholders of record July 7.

TORONTO MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, June 10 (CP).—Prices failed to recover in the afternoon session of the mining market today, losses predominating among changes on end. Turnover eased off on the decline, however, and movements were more or less confined. Total sales were 358,132 shares against 579,083 yesterday.

Dome suffered the outstanding setback, the price dropping 3-4 from last night on New York selling. McIntyre was down 40, Hollinger 10 and Granada and Teck Hughes 5 apiece. In the copper stocks, Siscoe, Vipond, Eldorado, Moffatt-Hall, Gem Lake and McLeod were down from 1 to 3 cents each. Base metal issues were practically unchanged on end.

Chemical Research was a soft spot in the oils, price easing another 21, and Oil Selections was off a cent or so. Acme Gas met fair demand at a slight advance in price, and Home Oil was up 3.

TORONTO GENERAL STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, June 10 (CP).—Brazilian Traction continued the leader in the afternoon session on Toronto Stock Exchange. The stock hesitated in its upward trend for a short time in the afternoon, but picked up again and broke through to 16, closing near its top and a couple of points above last night. Improvement in the milries and support for London were factors in the strength today.

The rest of the market did not do much. Volume was light, approximating 16,000 shares. Nickel closed better above 12, C.P.R. gained a point and Bell Telephone 1 1-2 points. Other issues were unchanged to a fraction higher in listless movement.

Oils were mostly unchanged from the opening, which compared with last night's finals. B.A. Oil eased in the late afternoon and closed with a small reduction in valuation.

CALGARY, June 10 (CP).—Alberta oil stocks totaling 8,524,704 shares and valued at $2,229,272.03 were traded on the Calgary Stock Exchange during the year ended June 1, the annual report of the exchange, released today, shows. All the officers were re-elected. John Lee Johnson is president and Harold W. Riley secretary-treasurer.

Unfilled Orders of U.S. Steel Register Seasonal Decline

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP).—Unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation decreased 277,277 tons in May to a total of 3,620,452 tons May 31. In April a decrease of 97,601 tons was reported.

The backlog as of April 30 was 3,897,729 tons. On March 31, unfilled orders aggregated 3,995,330 tons, against 3,965,194 tons on February 28. On May 31, 1930, unfilled orders amounted to 4,059,227 tons.

Unofficial estimates of the decrease ranged from 250,000 to 300,000 tons. A decline during May is seasonal, and in the years back to 1924, the drop for that month has averaged about 350,000 tons. In May, 1930, unfilled orders declined 294,993 tons.

VILLAGE FOR SALE

Part of Crawley, the Hampshire village immortalized by Thackery as the home of Queen Elizabeth's beer, is being sold. Its charming old cottages and fourteenth-century dower house already had gone under the hammer at nearly $70,000. The dower house brought $45,000, the Georgian white house was sold privately. The "Fox and Hounds" realized $12,500.

A London Letter

Mrs. Howard Ferguson Entertains—Charity Aboard a Liner—Affairs in Russia—Chelsea Flower Show and the London Theatre

By ELIZABETH MONTIZAMBERT

LONDON — (By Mail). — Mrs. Howard Ferguson was well inspired when she sent out invitations to the Canadian members of English Women's Institutes for a reception, which she held at Canada House. All the visitors agreed that it had been a charming reunion of old friends, who had not met for many years. In addition to the Canadian guests were the liaison officers from various countries, assembled in London for the wheat conference.

Countess Keyserling, the German delegate, and a cousin of the famous author of "The Travel Diary of a Philosopher," told me that the Women's Institute movement in Germany was thirty years old, but I believe it was in abeyance for some years and has lately been started into fresh life. Mrs. Watt must surely, by this time, be weary of hearing all the words of warm appreciation she receives for her work in introducing the movement in this country. It was charming to see her delighted enjoyment of this gathering of fellow Canadians, all interested in the same work.

Among those present were, Mrs. Eckford (nee Hendrie, of Hamilton), who had come down from Scotland to be present at the meeting; Mrs. Stephenson, daughter of Sir Percy and Lady Sherwood, who had also come down from her Northamptonshire home to see her parents, who are to sail for Canada next week; Mrs. Vesey-Fitzgerald, Lady Denham, Mrs. Noxon, Mrs. Dudley Mills.

GREETED GUESTS

After the labors of the wheat conference were over for the day, Mr. Ferguson came in and greeted his wife's guests, and Colonel and Mrs. Vanier contributed greatly to the success of the entertainment. Mrs. Ferguson, who was dressed in a charming frock of grey and black flowered chiffon, managed to have a chat with all her guests, who went away well pleased with a delightful entertainment.

The growth of the Women's Institute movement in this country has been phenomenal. There are nearly 300,000 members in the 4,700 institutes, all entirely self managed. Each year the sphere of their influence widens. They are now discussing a resolution urging the Minister of Agriculture to provide facilities for training teachers in rural domestic economy, which means that the deplorably low standard of cooking in England may be raised. Other reforms discussed are methods to prevent the early waking of patients in hospitals, an inhuman procedure, whose removal in both hospitals and nursing homes is long overdue; the discouragement of cruelty in the trapping of fur-bearing animals, and the arbitrary disinheritance of widows and children.

HERE AND THERE

English artists are among the most generous people in the world and are constantly being asked to give their time and talent in aid of some charity. The Nelson children, of Winnipeg, have already been asked for their assistance in this way and are playing at Sir Philip Sassoon's well known house in Park Lane, shortly, in aid of the missions to seamen. These talented children are making steady progress and a programme of provincial engagements for the Autumn has already been arranged for them. In October they will play at Chesterfield, Keighley, Huddersfield, Halifax, Walsall, in December at Portsmouth, and next February, at Derby. Mrs. Hoster, to whose kindly interest the children owe so much of their success, has been ill for some time, but her supervision of their activities has never flagged.

This is the season when the activities of the Victoria League are most in evidence and many of the overseas visitors are privileged to obtain a special glimpse of English homes through its kindly offices. Last week Mr. Humphrey Talbot gave a large party of overseas visitors at beautiful "Swakeleys House," built in the form of an "H," one of the historic mansions of England. Among the Canadian guests at the party were Mrs. and Miss Ells, from Nova Scotia, and Mr. George Mersereau.

Among the many instances of charming individual hospitality arranged from time to time, by the league for its overseas members are the delightful visits to Oxford, when the members of the Oxford branch display their hospitality to small parties.

CHARITY ON LINER

The latest thing in liners has already been roped in to aid the cause of charity, so dear to the English heart. H.R.H. Prince George was present at a luncheon and the dansant held on board the Empress of Britain, at Southampton, for the Friends of the Poor, a charitable organization which has the patronage and personal interest of Her Majesty the Queen.

The Lady Louis Mountbatten, who wore a smart costume of navy blue and a silver fox fur, received the guests and presided at the luncheon which was held in the Salle Jacques Cartier, the liner's magnificent dining salon, decorated by Frank Brangwyn. The dansant took place in the beautiful Empress ballroom designed by Sir John Lavery.

During the afternoon some of the guests followed the example of Mrs. Bowker, who was the first person to sample the delights of the Olympian pool, while others watched exhibition matches of tennis and squash racquets. Ample opportunity was given for the inspection of this luxurious liner and attentive stewards conducted tours of interested guests to all parts of the ship.

The majority of the guests traveled to Southampton by special train from Waterloo, some went by motor car or yacht, and the Hon. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bruce attended the luncheon by airplane.

Among those present were Sir George and Lady McLaren Brown, Lady Greenwood, an energetic worker for the Friends of the Poor, who wore a charming costume of reseda green, her sister, Mrs. Wilfred Ashley, in a frock of coral red, the Lady Bertha Dawkins, Lady Mount Stephen and party, Lady Shelley-Rolls, Lady Dunn and Miss Rosamund Chapman.

LUNCHEON PARTY

Before leaving to spend the Whitsun holiday with Viscount and Viscountess Byng of Vimy, Major and Mrs. Herridge gave a very enjoyable luncheon party of twenty-four people at the Dorchester Hotel. Among their guests were Lord and Lady Allenby, Lord and Lady Lloyd, Sir Edward and Lady Harding, Major and the Hon. Mrs. Ralph Glynn, the High Commissioner for Canada and Mrs. Ferguson, Sir Ernest and Lady Waterlow, Colonel and Mrs. Hart Tudor, Senator Smeaton White, Miss Lafleur, Sir Campbell Stuart and Mrs. Ernest Stuart, and Mr. P. K. Hodgson.

The luncheon was held in the golden oval room, which was gay with flowers. Mrs. Herridge looked very charming in a smart black frock, relieved with white lawn and received her guests with the charm which has made her such a popular hostess in Canada. She and Mr. Herridge will have only one day in London after their return from Thorpe Hall, before leaving on the celebrated C.P.R. boat on the maiden voyage.

RUSSIAN AFFAIRS

Russia and Russian affairs are in the air just now to an extent which constitutes a rather curious psychological factor. One is almost inclined to suspect that the extraordinary amount of attention directed towards this distressful country is the result of organized propaganda, for it is paradoxically true that countries like Germany, who are feverishly studying the five-year plan and the probable result of its success or failure on the rest of the world, look in amazement at the apathy and ignorance of the average Englishman, and apparently of those in authority, towards this grave matter. On the other hand, Soviet films, advertised as banned by the censor, are being shown nightly in London districts outside the jurisdiction of the London County Council.

The British Broadcasting Company has just announced that H. R. Knickerbocker, the American correspondent in Berlin of The New York Evening Post, who lately spent some months in Russia, and is the author of that widely-read book, "The Soviet Five Year Plan," will give a new series of talks on "Russia in the Melting Pot," by which means knowledge of what is really going on in Russia today will be disseminated to every wireless listener. The series will be continued later with a talk on "Farming in the Soviet States," by Sir John Russell, F.R.S., director of the Rothamstead Experimental Station.

The amenities are also experiencing this Russian rapprochement. Mr. Albert Coates, who has Russian relations, has been conducting music in Moscow for some time, and now Dr. Adrian Boult has been invited to conduct the Baku Musical Festival, and Russian opera is being ably conducted by Sir Thomas Beecham at the Lyceum Theatre.

CHELSEA FLOWER SHOW

To be able to visit the annual flower show of the Royal Horticultural Society, before the great tents are open to the public, is one of the most agreeable perquisites of a journalist's metier. This year the scene in the great tents seemed more magnificent than ever. Banks of tulips lifted their heads in unbelievable splendor and an extraordinary range of novel colors. It almost seems as if Dame Fashion held as much sway among the flowers as over human beings. This year different shades of wine-color are evidently the latest thing in flowerdom. It was seen in row upon row of lupins, in whole beds of tulips, striped and plain and in adorable varieties of broom, some of them novelties, as well as the Cytisus Dorothy Walpole variety that is one of the attractions this year of the rock gardens at Ranalagh. In the rose tent, beside magnificent examples of golden emblem, dark red Sir David Davies and lovely coral pink Charles P. Kilham, there were adorable polyanthus roses, masses of orange Gloria Mundi, and many new varieties of this fascinating impertinent blossom.

The King and Queen, who never miss the Chelsea Flower Show if they can help it, came to see it, and so did Queen Augusta Victoria, the Duke and Duchess of Richmond and Gordon, the Marquis of Blandford with his mother, Madame Jacques Balsan, Mary Countess of Minto, Sir Harry Verney, Lady Desborough, the German Ambassador and Baronin von Neurath, Sir Neville and Lady Lyttleton and many others.

In the rock gardens were bewildering masses of lovely gentians and every variety of rock plants, looking very composed between the splendid display of superhuman pelargoniums, salpiglosis, delphiniums, carnations, sweet peas with the new varieties, Debutante, a peach-pink, Carmine Queen and Fragrance. These are only a few of the delights to be seen in Chelsea. Three days is all too short a time for the many thousands of flower-lovers who crowd to see this wonderful spectacle.

KENSINGTON GARDENS

In spite of the abominable weather, that is a constant source of complaint, the flower walk in Kensington Gardens is looking particularly lovely just now. Though the Maharajah of Nepal has forbidden the ordinary tourist to enter his flower-filled territory, he has made the charming gesture of sending seeds of a lovely Nepalese poppy to the King, with the result that specimens of this flower of a far-off country are now delighting the wayfarer passing through the flower walk, long renowned for its special beauty.

I sometimes wonder if overseas visitors take advantage of the special attractions arranged for their delight from time to time. The authorities of the Victoria and Albert Museum, for instance, realising that some of the most attractive and interesting of the treasures under their care might remain undiscovered, through ignorance of their existence, have had the genial idea of putting a different treasure specially on view each week, with a short announcement of its origin and particulars, of its interest.

LONDON THEATRE

One awaited the production of "The Good Companions" with some tating way of enunciating, almost a lisp at times. Esme Percy rather dwarfed the rest of the cast by overemphasizing his part, so that the play became more or less a series of John Tanner monologues.

Officials Prepare for World's Grain Show

THE Government of Canada has invited all countries to participate in the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference, to be held at Regina, Sask., July 25 to August 6, 1932, and a great number of the leading nations have signified their intention of sending representatives. Above is the architect's drawing of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference Building, which will cover an area of 150,000 square feet and have an exhibit frontage of one and one-half miles. At the top, left to right, are some of the prominent persons who are striving to make the forthcoming event a great success: Hon. Robert Weir, Canadian Minister of Agriculture, chairman of the national committee; Hon. Mr. Justice W. M. Martin, chairman citizens' committee; Hon. W. C. Buckle, Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan and chairman of the executive and finance committee, and Dr. J. H. Grisdale, chairman of the conference programme committee.

Second Action to Claim Winnings In Sweep Started

VANCOUVER, June 10.—To protect for R. D. Dinning, $250,000 which he won recently in the Calcutta Sweepstake, R. Simmons, a friend, has commenced action in Supreme Court here claiming the money under the forfeiture provisions, relating to lotteries, in the Criminal Code. The plaintiff is described as a salesman.

F. N. Raines, solicitor, stated that he had been instructed to issue the writ because it was feared that action started in Ontario by Mrs. Dinning against her husband might not protect the money. There was a doubt whether she would qualify as an informer within the meaning of the Code.

A judge says that his only acquaintance with motor cars is through dodging them. One doesn't learn a great deal about them by this method, but it is certainly a step in the right direction.

A DARK DEED

MIDNIGHT . . . and you feel distressingly empty. So hie away to the dark fastness of the kitchen and raid the refrigerator. Cheese sandwiches . . . cold cuts of meat . . . and, to top off the repast in royal fashion, The Champagne of Ginger Ales—Canada Dry.

It delights you always to find this fine old ginger ale frosting on the ice, for it is the pleasantest ginger ale of all to drink just before you turn in. Bubbles wink like stars in its frosted gold depths . . . its aroma refreshes you. As you sip it, enjoying its wonderful flavour, it rounds out the day and helps send you off to bed thoroughly satisfied and ready for sleep.

A Pure Ginger Ale

Canada Dry is a healthful drink too. That is because it is made by a special exclusive process. The pure Jamaica ginger root—with all its natural flavour and aroma—is used. For many years, too, all the water used in this fine old ginger ale has been irradiated with ultra-violet rays. And a secret carbonation process retains the life and sparkle long after the bottle is opened.

Keep a few emerald bottles of Canada Dry always cooling in the refrigerator. You'll have enough on hand for every occasion if you buy the convenient cartons of six or twelve bottles.

TWO CONVENIENT SIZES

Magnum size 30c
(plus 5c bottle deposit)

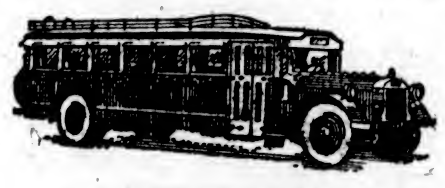

12-ounce size 20c
(plus 3c bottle deposit)

Canada Dry now comes in two sizes—the familiar 12-ounce bottle and the new five-glass magnum.

UPLANDS
VICTORIA'S MOST BEAUTIFUL SUBurb—If you are looking for a house in this charming district, drop in and see us. We have two splendid homes to choose from. They are the best of their kind, in quality of construction, and beauty of design. The gardens are all laid out—the purchaser has the benefit of several years of growth at no extra expense. The price for either of these charming homes is reasonable—less than duplication costs. Let us show them to you—no obligation to buy.

GENTLEMAN'S COUNTRY HOME
BETWEEN UPLANDS and Cadboro Bay—A site of four acres, quite unique, absolutely secluded, protected from encroachment for all time, as it is guarded by steep gullies on three sides—part in pretty garden, tennis lawn, balance as nature left it, numerous large trees. Great scope for landscape gardening on slopes of ravines. Seven-room house situated to command uninterrupted view of Cadboro Bay and Mount Baker. Another charm of this place is the feeling that you are right in the country, yet it is but a short distance from Uplands. The price is quite reasonable. Let us drive you out to see it—you will be delighted with the grounds, views, etc.

Some Useful Hints on Cricket

By DACTYL

(With further apologies to G. L. Jessop and D. J. Knight)

There is a hackneyed saying that "You can't teach old dogs new tricks."

Old dogs may not perhaps pick up new tricks easily, but old dogs can be brought to remember those tricks, that they had once known, and have now forgotten.

What I have written in the past, and am likely to write in the future, has not, and will not, contain anything in the nature of a new trick, or at least nothing that is too tricky or involved, not even to any "ancient canines" playing today, however "gone" in the tooth those "dogs" may be.

Continuing from where we left off last week we can now split up the positions on the field into three main divisions, for the sake of brevity, we come to (a) slips; (b) coverpoint and offside fieldsmen; (c) deep fieldsmen.

(a) The great asset of a slip fieldsman is that he should have the power of concentration to a marked degree. Undeniably he gets less to do than his colleagues, but what he does have to accomplish is nearly always of supreme importance. You may be two hours without touching a ball, and believe me, it is hard work to keep alert, keyed up to expectancy for all that time; then, the very moment the concentration is relaxed, sure enough there comes the catch, the ball traveling like a rifle bullet, the catch which is probably a vital one, and which makes all the difference between the winning and the losing of the match.

Remember, then, that you, as a slip fieldsman, have a difficult task in watching ball after ball with supreme attention, waiting and waiting for the vital catch.

CORRECT POSITION

The correct position of a "slipper" is this, on the ball of the feet (i.e., heels off the ground), body near the ground, knees bent (a physical strain this, arms bent at the elbow, hands stretched out "saucer fashion," eyes glued to the ball all the way from the bowler's hand till it touches the bat.

Compare this with the wrong—but, alas! very prevalent—way of standing; on the heels—inability to move quickly; nad here it should be always remembered that there is no other place where the ball travels with such amazing speed.

To continue the comparison: Body bolt upright—wrong, because it is ten times easier to get up to a high catch from a crouching posture than it is to get down to a low catch from an upright position. Arms stiff at the elbow—resistance to the ball materially increased. Fingers stretched out taut—same result. Eyes looking at the bat only—the ball comes at you, as it were, "like a swallow out of a barn." You must follow it the whole way down the pitch.

This is why it is easier to field first or second slip than than at third or fourth slip, because in the latter position the angle is more oblique and it is not so easy to follow the ball from the bowler's hand to the bat. Many great slip fielders watch the bat only at third and fourth slip. Personally, I think it is easier to some people to watch the ball as in first and second slip, but gully must watch the bat only.

Slips must stand still and not anticipate saving byes on the leg side. Any anticipatory movement in the slips sooner or later ends in disaster.

An inexperienced slipper is very apt to snatch, and will put a hand out too soon and too far, result being he gets the ball in the palm of the hand; and if it's a low catch will have no chance of retrieving his error as the ball is almost certain to rebound out. What you should do is this, no matter how fast the bowling, you will have plenty of time to see the ball, providing you are in the correct position for pace of wicket or bowler. Put out one hand at the last moment as it were, i.e., if you can not get two hands to it comfortably. Don't get flustered. Unless you are quite cool you might as well field elsewhere, but certainly not in the slips.

By putting the hand out at the right moment the ball stands more chance of being caught in the correct portion of the hand. For want of a better way of expressing it, we will say, by getting the major portion of the ball in the fingers, and as little as possible of it in the palm. I hope this is clear.

We will now go to C, deep fieldsmen. He needs to have pace above all things, and it goes without saying that he should be a long thrower. Attention and practice should be given to that particular type of catch, "the high skier." Hold the hands close to the chest with elbows to the side. Catch should be made on level with throat, no lower, because if attempted lower, you would lose sight of it for a fraction of a second, as it passes the level of your eye, and possibly miss it.

Get as soon as you can into the right position where the ball is going to drop; the more motionless and steady you are when the ball enters your hands, the more chance there is of holding it.

When you see a big hit coming your way, stand still; don't run in. You cannot possibly tell where it will drop until it has reached its zenith, and has started to fall; then you know for certain how far you can run forward or back.

Avoid, above all things, being spectacular by waiting until the last moment before getting underneath the falling ball, and then making a sudden dive at it. This earns applause from ignorant spectators, but it elicits from cricketers nothing but derision, even though the catch be safely made.

The throw from the long field differs from the quick run-out throw of cover and his companions, in that, the body should be drawn up to the full height, and the arm brought right over the head and shoulder. But do not wind yourself up before throwing—throw without an instant's delay. Endeavor to throw first bounce long hop to the wicket; full pitch is the ideal, but that, I fear, is within the power and compass of very few of us. Your great aim should be always to save the second run (you can never save the first).

Remember that if you do not pick up the ball cleanly, there is always a second run, no matter how well you can throw and how slowly the batsmen have run their first one.

A perfectly trained team should move like clockwork at the slightest sign (not of necessity verbal) from the skipper, or bowler. Above all move quickly, and at once, and not slouch with a disgusted look, which plainly says: "I will since you say so, but I know better." Perhaps you do, but in all probability you do not; it is the height of bad manners; it is impolite, not only to your captain, but to everyone watching the game. Politeness is like an air-cushion; there is nothing in it, but it eases the jolts wonderfully.

REMOVING FRECKLES

Freckles are due to a local decrease of pigment. They are not hereditary. We acquire them between the ages of six and ten. Red-haired persons usually have freckles which are more pronounced, and show exceptional predisposition for them. Also, blondes with fine, transparent skins are often annoyed by freckles.

The opinion that sun rays cause freckles is wrong. We often see freckled parts of the body that are never exposed to the sun. The fact that sun rays do affect already present freckles, however, doubtless is true. Freckles become more pronounced in Spring and Summer, and lighter and sometimes hardly visible in Winter. As we grow older, freckles get lighter and finally disappear.

TREATMENT

Treatment of freckles should consist first of protection from the sun. This can be done by wearing hats with large brims, preferably red or yellow. A parasol of the same colors will answer. Powders of dark brown, or powder containing 2 or 3 per cent of quinine, also protect the skin.

There are many excellent creams that will bleach freckles, but will not remove them permanently. Lemon juice mixed with honey makes an excellent bleaching lotion. Sour milk is another good home remedy for bleaching freckles, and for the skin in general.

HELEN HICKS AND MRS. HURD TIED IN GOLF TOURNEY

ROSLYN, N.Y., June 10.—Miss Helen Hicks, metropolitan champion, and Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, finished in a tie for the Eastern women's golf championship with 263 strokes each for the three rounds today. They will play off for the title tomorrow. Edith Quier, of Reading Pa., had the title in her grasp with only two holes to play, but tossed it away by taking 11 strokes, seven over women's par on the 363-yard seventeenth hole.

Last Obstacle For Title Mix Cleared Away

CLEVELAND, June 10 (AP).—Max Schmeling and Young Stribling were able to settle down to serious training today, unworried by legal obstacles to their heavyweight championship bout here, July 3.

The State Supreme Court removed the only legal hurdle yesterday by refusing to advance for immediate hearing the injunction suit brought by Attorney Joseph H. Mellen.

Mellen, defeated in common pleas and appellate courts, had carried his case to the Supreme Court, contending the bout would be a prize fight and thus contrary to the statutes. The city argued it would be only a "boxing match."

The matter of a referee and an agreement concerning fouls now are the only details to be ironed out.

Bobby Boucher Dies Following Lengthy Illness

OTTAWA, June 10.—Youngest member of the famous hockey family, Robert James "Bobby" Boucher, died here yesterday evening after a long illness. Like his brothers, George, Billy and Frank, Bobby was a major league hockey player at one time and had played with numerous minor league professional and amateur teams. He retired from the game in 1929 because of ill-health.

After learning the game in Ottawa, Bobby went to Iroquois Falls in 1921. Three years later he signed with Montreal Canadiens and subsequently played with Vancouver, Edmonton, London, Quebec and Newark. His father, famous old-time football player, died here on March 17 last.

Canada's Plan Of Economics Termed Sound

"Our economic system is organically sound and will outlast any system which relies upon external compulsion as the propelling force," Dr. O. D. Skelton, Canada's under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, assured the Canadian Political Science Association in annual session.

Referring to overproduction, Dr. Skelton said that Canada's population had increased 50 per cent in the last twenty-five years, and in the same period wheat had increased tenfold, manufactures tenfold, export trade fourfold and bank clearings had doubled. He said the present problem is not the provision of necessities, but of luxuries which have become necessities.

BILLIARD FIXTURE CAPTURED BY ELKS

With their team playing a fine brand of billiards, the Elks captured the third and final fixture of the interclub series against the Tillicum Club at the Elks' Club on Tuesday evening by a 1244-1025 score. The teams were entertained by the Elks following the match.

Scores follow, with the Elks' players first named:

ENGLISH XI WINS FROM SASKATOON

Touring Old Country Soccer Team Chalks Up 6 to 1 Victory

2,000 FANS SEE FINE EXHIBITION

SASKATOON, June 10.—Playing in typical Old Country football weather, the touring English internationals chalked up the seventh straight victory of their Canadian trip, when they defeated the Saskatoon representative eleven, 6 to 1, here tonight.

More than 2,000 fans witnessed the game in the drizzling rain and were treated to one of the finest exhibitions of soccer ever witnessed in this city.

Although the visitors were full value for their victory, the play was certainly not as one-sided as the score indicates. For the first time on their jaunt across Canada, the famous internationals were held on even terms for the first half of the match. The Saskatoon team more than had an even share of the play in the first half, and had the Englishmen on the defensive for the greater part of the period.

BOYS AT SOCCER GAME

Sports Editor, Colonist:

Dear Sir,—May I be allowed to use your column to point out, especially to the parents of the district, the fact that the tour of the English Football Association team in Canada has mainly an educational object in view, and that those in charge are particularly anxious to welcome to the Royal Athletic Park on June 24 a large number of boys.

For them special arrangements will be made to insure an uninterrupted view of the field and no waiting in queues at the gate.

Special advance tickets are now on sale at 25 cents each, and any help given by adults to enable the youngsters to attend would surely be an act of good sportsmanship.

Yours truly,
C. V. MILTON.

CONVICT BROKERS ARE NOT FAVORED

Have Same Treatment as Other Prisoners of Preferred Class— Not Vicious Type

OTTAWA, June 10 (CP).—Ten former Toronto brokers convicted and sentenced to prison are located at the preferred class penitentiary at Collins Bay, near Kingston, Ont., Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, told the House of Commons this afternoon.

They were employed on cement mixers, fixing a barn, carpenter work, digging ditches, in garden work and the like. They were being treated in exactly the same manner as other inmates at the preferred class penitentiary, numbering approximately 200. All prisoners there were short-term prisoners, considered to be "safe" with good service in the penitentiaries; none were of a vicious type.

A philanthropic friend of the brokers had donated a gramophone and some records; and there was a nucleus of a library.

Short-term prisoners, Mr. Guthrie explained, were those serving under four years. The men qualified for the preferred class penitentiary were first offenders. The men at Collins Bay were sleeping in a building surrounded by a wire fence.

Grand Open Day Given By City School Students

Fine Mass Display at Royal Athletic Park Elicits Applause From 1,200 Spectators—Premier Tolmie Commends Exhibition

The first open day staged by 1,000 students of the Victoria High School and the local public schools, was held yesterday at the Royal Athletic Park and was witnessed by nearly 1,200 citizens. The mass display given by the pupils was conducted in a most commendable manner, and elicited hearty applause from the spectators. The programme consisted of folk dancing, drill exercises, gymnasium work and gun crew drills. Premier S. F. Tolmie and Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown were the official guests of the occasion.

The programme opened at 2 o'clock when Premier Tolmie took the salute from the assembled children. This was followed by the singing of "O Canada."

PHYSICAL TRAINING

A physical training display by the cadets of the 388th Battalion (Victoria schools) showed signs of hard work on the part of members of the unit. The cadets were in blue and white uniforms, and presented a smart appearance as they went through their marching drills.

The next event on the programme was a group of folk dances by the schools. A dance entitled "Seven Jumps," by girls of the Victoria West School, dressed in gymnasium middies, was a creditable performance. A typical folk dance, "Varsovienne," was given by a group from the Victoria High School. A Russian dance, "Kamarinskaia," with the girls dressed in peasant costumes, proved very picturesque.

"Tarantella," by the Sir James Douglas School, a dance in which the dancers were dressed in Volga and Cossack peasant costumes, received much applause. "Jenny Pluck Pears," by the Victoria High School, and "Black Nag," by the Quadra School, were the remaining two numbers of this group.

FEATURES OF FETE

The next two events, together with a demonstration by the naval cadets, were probably the features of the function. Examples of the work carried on in camp, and parallel bar and gymnasium horse work by the Girl Guides and Victoria High School gymnasium class, respectively, showed excellent training in both sections. The guides, under Miss A. Stewart Williams, erected tents and carried on a camp, just as they do when hiking. The tent was put up in good time, while in the same period another group of girls prepared a fire and made ready for cooking.

The High School gymnasium class, under William A. Roper, physical director at the school, and led by Robert Ferguson and Kenneth Billingsley, brought well deserved applause from the audience. The group first went through a series of stunts on the parallel bars, after which work on the gymnasium horse was given. In each display the thorough knowledge of the work was shown. At the close of each exercise the class formed a pyramid. Antics by the school clowns drew many laughs from the spectators.

FOLK DANCING

Another group of folk dancing by the school children followed. A careful study in black and white, entitled "Jack Be Nimble," by the George Jay School, was received with high favor. A most picturesque and colorful dance of this group was one given by the Sir James Douglas School in its "Tretur." A truly Irish theme, "Six Hand Reel," featured the dance by the Girls' Central School. A flower dance showing typical gay May Day costumes, was given by North Ward School. Victoria West School's "Mountain Waltz" closed this group.

One of the prettiest and well-formed dances of the performance was the "Dance of the Ibis," by Victoria High School girls, under Major A. S. Hinton. The dance was an interpretation of the actions of the Australian bird, and was rendered in a most accomplished manner by the girls, dressed in red and black costumes. Music for the dance was composed by Joseph Hinton.

BIG SURPRISE

The next event was the surprise of the day. Starting by laying a smoke screen across the field, nineteen cadets of the Rainbow Sea Cadet Battalion, under Chief Petty Officer C. H. Milnes and Captain McGregor, ran in front of the grandstand with a naval twelve-pounder field gun and went through gun crew work. Having limbered and unlimbered the gun twice in front of the stand, the unit went to one side of the field and fired three rounds across the field. The actual firing proved a great surprise to many who had not expected that they would hear a sound as the trigger lever was pulled. The cadets did this work in excellent time, and after firing the shells they again limbered the gun and went through the paces in front of the stand. They concluded their share of the programme with the naval salute, which aroused much favorable comment and drew applause from the audience.

PREMIER'S ADDRESS

"I am sure we are all impressed with the wonderful exhibition witnessed this afternoon," the Premier said. "It has taken a great deal of care and preparation for the event, and those in charge deserve great credit for the manner in which they have handled the programme. The training that the students receive in this work builds a great foundation for the young people who will soon be carrying on the work of this great province. They have one of the finest districts in the world to work in, with its great resources and hinterland. We only hope that if any are tempted to leave British Columbia, they will first consider it carefully and survey all the conditions, and no doubt in the end they will make a decision to stay here.

"As far as the present situation is concerned, there is litle doubt that good times are not far off, and this present depression cannot last." The Premier was given a hearty ovation at the conclusion of his address.

FINAL CEREMONIES

The final ceremonies took place in front of the grandstand when the 388th Battalion and the other of participants gathered in formation to sing "God Save the King."

The officials for the afternoon were: Major A. S. Hinton, who had charge of the whole affair; Major T. R. Wheadon, school trustee; McGregor, ran in front of the grandstand with a naval twelve-pounder field gun and went through gun crew work. Having limbered and unlimbered the gun twice in front of the stand, the unit went to one side of the field and fired three rounds across the field. The actual firing proved a great surprise to many who had not expected that they would hear a sound as the trigger lever was pulled. The cadets did this work in excellent time, and after firing the shells they again limbered the gun and went through the paces in front of the stand. They concluded their share of the programme with the naval salute, which aroused much favorable comment and drew applause from the audience.

Kenneth Ferguson and J. Ross, who formed the central committee, and teachers of the schools.

Music for the various dances was rendered by the following bands: 5th Regiment (C.G.A.) Band, under Bandmaster Charles Raine; Firemen's Band, under Al Prescott; Boys' Band, under G. H. Greene, and a drum and pipe band of the Naval Cadet corps.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

A Strange Country

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

The thing that seemeth strange to you
—Old Mother Nature.

Farmer Brown's boy and Flip the Terrier had had a wonderful experience. After a bit Flip had become used to the noise of the engines of the great man-bird, as the little people of the Green Meadows and the Green Forest called the aeroplane which, with Cousin Tom at the controls, had carried them away toward the Purple Hills and finally quite over them. He was no longer afraid. In fact, he was enjoying this new experience.

Over hills and rivers, broad meadows and great forests, little towns and big cities they flew. Sometimes they were in the clouds and sometimes above the clouds, so that it was as if there was no Great World. Sometimes they were so high that rivers looked like silver threads and boats on them like toys, and sometimes they were so low that it seemed to Farmer Brown's boy that they were almost brushing the tree-tops. They were not, for Cousin Tom was too careful to take any such chance as that.

Late that first afternoon they came down outside a big city and spent the night there. They were away early the next morning and outflew a storm. The country began to look strange to Farmer Brown's boy. There were no hills. He missed them. He hadn't supposed that there could be so much flat country anywhere. Looking down, it seemed to him as if the loved Green Meadows of home had been stretched out in every direction as far as he could see, and from up there he could see a very great distance. Cousin Tom told him that the land wasn't quite as flat as it looked from above. That night when jolly, round, red Mr. Sun went to bed he didn't disappear behind any Purple Hills. Instead he seemed to just slip out of sight over the edge of the Great World.

"Where are we going to stop first, Cousin Tom?" asked Farmer Brown's boy.

"We are going down in the Southwest, on the edge of the desert country," replied Cousin Tom. "I have some business that will keep me there for some little time, and you and Flip will have a chance to get acquainted with the country and the furred and feathered and other people who live there. You won't find Peter Rabbit there, but you will find some of his long-legged cousins."

"Will we find Reddy Fox there?" asked Farmer Brown's boy.

Cousin Tom shook his head. "No," said he. "No, you won't find Reddy there, but if you use your eyes and your wits you may see a cousin of his. You'll see a lot of relatives of the little people you left back on the Green Meadows and in the Green Forest at home, and you will see a lot of little people wholly strange to you. I wonder what Flip will do when he meets some of them. He will have plenty of excitement, will Flip, before we leave to go on our way. And he is going to be a thirsty dog pretty often, if I know anything about it. You will find no Laughing Brook or Smiling Pool there."

So it was that at last Farmer Brown's boy found himself in country so strange that there was not a single thing familiar to him. Flip kept close to his master's heels, for Flip felt out of place. He didn't know just what to make of things. The big machine in which they had flown so far was housed in a hangar and with Cousin Tom they went to stay at a ranch some distance from the nearest town and very near to the desert.

That night Farmer Brown's boy heard a sound that reminded him of home. It was the voice of one of Old Man Coyote's relatives, a voice that sounded like many voices. He knew it instantly, because he had often heard Old Man Coyote, who had escaped from a cage in a park and made his home in the Old Pasture beyond the Green Meadows.

Pretty soon he heard another and then another. "This must be Old Man Coyote's country," said he to Flip. "I wonder if we will see some of his relatives while we are here."

The next story: "Flip Loses His Breath."
